HHH Move Analyzed; Gov. Rhodes 'Mum'

Party Campaign Action Quickens As Governors Convene In Ohio

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Two Democratic governors have told Hubert H. Humphrey he needs a dramatic political initative to enlist new suporters and accelerate his White House campaign—and one of them suggested that the move be his resignation as vice president.

Gov. Philip H. Hoff of Vermont said he suggested resignation to Humphrey as a declaration of political independence from President Johnson and the administration. He said he told Humphrey his major campaign problem is that "you can't be your own man" while serving as vice president.

Humphrey Refuses

But he said Humphrey replied he could not resign the job to which he was elected.

Hoff and Kenneth M. Curtis of Maine, both former supporters of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy for the Democratic nomination, met secretly with the vice president in Washington one week ago.

They told of that meeting in interviews at a national governors conference marked by talk of Sen Edward M. Kennedy as a potent choice for second spot on a ticket headed by Humphrey.

Curtis, who did not join in Hoff's suggestion that Humphrey resign, said Kennedy's nomination for vice president might provide the drama and appeal he believes the Humphrey campaign now needs.

While Hoff and Curtis talked critically of the Humphrey campaign, they did not translate this into any hint of support for the vice president's chief rival, Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Hoff said he is uncommitted, added: "I have been stewing because I love Hubert Humphrey." Curtis said he leans toward support of Humphrey for the nomination.

McCarthy Reservations'

They said Humphrey's nomination is not inevitable, but both expressed reservations about McCarthy.

"Perhaps, I've been around politics just too long to be too idealistic," Curtis said, "because I think it's going to take more than just an expression of ideals that Sen. McCarthy has to run the country."

"There is a certain remoteness about him," Hoff said of McCarthy, "and I guess I would Call it a lack of leadership."

Republicans were talking of the White House race, too, but there was no sign of significant movement by or for their prospective nominees.

The latest arrival: California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who came to Cincinnati from a campaign-style Southern swing and said he would not be announcing active candidacy for the GOP nomination. "I couldn't possibly make a change on that at this time," he said. "'We'll go to the convention and then it's up to the delegates."

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said in his view Reagan is "a pretty active candidate now," without benefit of a formal announcement. Rockefeller sandwiched visits to the conference between stints of presidential campaigning.

And the political gents of Richard M. Nixon, now the Republican frontrunner, kept watch on the proceedings, claimed they have enough convention support to win the nomination now and made public a series of polls indicating Nixon would defeat Humphrey in four major Eastern and Midwestern states.

Democrat Ferment

It was among the Democrats that there were signs of political ferment. The evidence came not only from Hoff and Curtis, who have been critical of the administration, but also from a governor who has been a defender of President Johnson.

"I think Humphrey's got the MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party today rejected the defense by Czechoslovak party leaders of their liberal course and demanded again that the leaders in Prague come to the Soviet Union for a showdown meeting today or Tuesday.

Reports from Prague indicated the demand for a meeting on Soviet soil would be rejected. The Czechoslovak leaders were reported willing to meet their Soviet critics, but only on their own territory.

LBJ Takes It Easy At Texas Ranch

Thieu Sees Hope For Phase Out Of U.S. Units In Viet

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex., (AP) — President Johnson is enjoying a rancher's respite in the Texas hills after U.S.-Vietnam summit sessions that withered hopes for any early cease-fire or even a let-up in the Vietnamese war.

President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam did see some prospect, nevertheless, that his army's power will grow to the point of permitting what he termed a phasing out of some American military units one at a time in 1969. But he stressed this would not mean a complete U.S. withdrawal from the war.

Johnson and Thieu put in 10 hours conferring privately or with key advisers flanking them in meetings Friday and Saturday in Hawaii.

Thieu stayed on a bit afterward to relish the delights of sun, sand and surf at famed Waikiki beach.

Johnson, never known publicly to have tried this type of relaxation on visits to the "paradise of the pacific," was off by jet for the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City.

Hands Amputated

Youngsters Hurt By Aerial Bomb

Two Wellsville youngsters were listed in "guarded" condition today at City Hospital and a third youth escaped serious injury when an aerial bomb exploded near the three Sunday at 8:15 p. m. in Central Park at the site of the St. Rocco's Festival which had ended on Saturday.

The hands of two boys, Charles Weatherspoon, 10, and Jack Beal, 7, were amputated at the hospital.

Beal, son of Nellie Ruth Beal of 1230 Commerce St., had all but the thumb of his left hand amputated.

John Willie Perry, 10, son of Willie Perry Jr. of 310 13th St., escaped with powder burns of the right leg, arm and abdomen. He was treated and released.

According to Wellsville police who questioned Perry, the three boys had found the aerial bomb which was leftover from the fireworks display at the festival Saturday night.

The boys put some powder which was lying on the ground around the bomb and lit the powder. The aerial bomb started fizzing and Weatherspoon apparently dropped a match and the bomb exploded.

Police said the boys began running toward Commerce St. Weatherspoon fell to the ground and Beal was holding his hand. Perry had run to a relative's house.

A passerby saw the two boys and called the ambulance from the Haugh Funeral Home. Bernard Benfield took Perry to the hospital in his private car.

Following the incident, the Wellsville fire department was called to inspect the Central Park grounds for other aerial devices.

City Gets Approval To Make Section Of Avenue Two Lanes

City officials said today approval has been received from Ohio Highway Department authorities to disregard previous directives calling for an elaborate traffic control system on the new section of St. Clair Ave.

Previously set up to be a three - lane highway, St. Clair Ave. now will be designated a two - lane section, and the directon control systems will not be necessary.

Mayor George Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert Vodrey were notified by Sherman S. Price, a design and planning engineer for Division 11 of the Department of Highways at New Philadelphia, that the city's request to abandon the control program has been approved.

Accompanying the notice was legislation which will have to be approved by City Council.

The 1.9-mile section of St. Clair was constructed with federal funds. One of the requirements was installation of direction control lights. Estimates placed the city's costs at between $70,000 and $90,000.

The plan called for two lanes inbound and one outbound from 6 to 9 a. m. and two outbound and one inbound from 3 to 6 p.m. This would have required several lights marking the lanes.

The legislation will establish St. Clair as a two - lane facility, and center lines will be marked. This will be in effect until connecting roads are constructed.

The mayor said no parking will be permitted on either side of the new section at any time of the day.

Ray Pleads Not Guilty At Hearing

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (ap) — James Earl Ray pleaded innocent today to a charge of assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. here April 4 and trial was set for Nov. 12.

Appearing publicly for the first time since his extradition hearings in London, England, Ray entered his plea through his lawyer, Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, Ala.

Security officers searched persons who entered the Shelby County Criminal Courtroom to witness Ray's arraignment.

Ray, wearing a checked blue sport coat and blue slacks, was led into the courtroom at 10:57 a.m., CDT, and the arraignment proceedings ended 12 minutes later. Ray was returned to his steel-lined, air-conditioned cell block in the county jail.

Hanes had both indictments read—one alleging murder in the first degree and the other charging Ray with carrying a dangerous weapon.

At the end of each reading, Hanes said: "My client wishes to enter a plea of innocent."

Ray remained silent throughout the arraignment. He was seated at the counsel table between Hanes and Hanes' son, Arthur Jr. Behind them sat Sheriff William N. Morris Jr. and two other officers.

Backers Say Wallace Has Ohio Support

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Backers of third-party presidential hopeful George C. Wallace hailed their candidate's weekend visit to Ohio a success and continued efforts today to get him on the state's ballot.

"I think the politicians in Ohio had their eyes opened," said Richard Kochensparger, state chairman of the former Alabama governor's campaign.

"It gave them something to think about."

Wallace received a rousing reception in Columbus and was met by enthusiastic crowds in Findlay and Lancaster on Saturday.

During each appearance, Wallace hammered out his basic themes – both major political parties are not giving voters a choice, return government to the control of the people and stop crime on the streets.

"If you're knocked in the head tonight and robbed, the robber will be out of jail before you're in the hospital," he told a cheering crowd of about 1,500 in Lancaster.

Wallace then returned to Columbus for an evening speech before about 8,700 persons in Jet Stadium. Earlier in the day he was greeted by about 1,500 persons in Findlay.

At all his appearances, Wallace lashed out at Ohio's tough law which makes it all but impossible for a third part to get on the ballot.

Following Wallace's visit, Kochensparger said the drive to collect 433,000 signatures on voter petitions, the first big hurdle that must be overcome, is continuing.

Currently, Kochensparger figures Wallace's American Independent Party workers have collected about 300,000.

Under Ohio law, the deadline for filing nomination petitions has long past.

But Wallace forces plan to present them to Secretary of State Ted Brown around Aug. 5. Plans are in the works to file a suit in efforts to get Wallace's name on the November ballot.

The greatest length of time during which no amendments were made to the U. S. Constitution was the 61 years from 1804 to 1865, when the Thirteenth Amendment outlawing slavery went into effect.

Two Boaters Injured Here

A Massillon woman remains in "fair" condition today with injuries suffered in a boating mishap Saturday on the Ohio River near the Chester Bridge.

Mrs. Maxine Reese, 56, and her husband, Thomas Reese, 54, were injured when their boat either struck an object in the water or rammed the shore about 500 yards east of the Chester Bridge.

Bill Hargreaves, manager of the Midway Oil Co. on the River Rd., told police he found the couple bleeding and walking along the road. He took them to City Hospital for treatment.

Patrolmen Orin Smith and Kenneth Montgomery investigated. They found the boat along shore with a gaping hole in the hull.

A small French poodle was inside the craft. Montgomery took the animal to his home to care for it.

Reese told officers his wife blacked out while operating the boat. She said she doesn't remember what happened.

Mrs. Reese suffered a concussion, contusions of the cheek and left arm and abrasions and lacerations of the chin.

Her husband, thrown under the dash by the impact, suffered a concussion, lacerations of the face and contusions of the left ankle. He was released Sunday.

An estimated 12,000 attended a fireworks display and final night of the St. Rocco's Festival Saturday at Central Park, Wellsville, Fred Baldasare, an official, said.

Plans are being made for a high mass Aug. 18 in the Immaculate Conception Church at Wellsville in observance of the actual date of St. Rocco's Day, Aug. 16. A band concert also is being planned, James McPeak, general chairman, said. The festival was sponsored by the Knights of Columbus.

Area Mishap Hurts Three

Three persons were injured when a woman driver, reaching for a child in the front seat, lost control and hit a parked car Sunday at 9:40 a.m. on Scott Ln. in New Manchester.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said a car driven by Mary A. Uker, 60, of Chester St., New Cumberland, struck the parked auto owned by Andrew H. Holtz of the Baum St. Apartments, East Liverpool, as she reached for 4-year-old David Kiger, who was falling on the front seat.

The woman is in "good" condition at Weirton General Hospital with a deep laceration of the upper lip. The youngster suffered abrasions and lacerations and his mother, Rosamond Kiger, 30, a passenger in the car, suffered cuts of the forehead. Another passenger, Bernice Kiger, was not injured.

There were no citations.

At 1:48 p.m. on Route 8, a quarter of a mile from the intersection of Route 30, a car driven by George M. Diocopoulas, 44, of Burgettstown failed to halt at a stop sign and ran into tre right rear side of a car driven by Norma LaRue Lascola 41, of 923 Phoenix Ave., Chester.

Tuesday Hearing Set In Accident

LISBON — A hearing of a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol filed against Richard L. Beagle, 53, of Rogers RD 1 Friday night is one of several cases scheduled Tuesday evening before Mayor Clyde B. Pike.

Beagle was involved in a three-car crash at 11:10 p.m. on E. Washington St. at the Exchange St. junction. Police took him to Ohio Highway Patrol Post 15 for a breathalyzer test.

They said he was driving west on Washington St., struck a parked 1967 sedan owned by Harry T. Greenwood, 24, of East Liverpool RD 1, and knocked it into a fire hydrant and a parked 1966 sedan owned by Francis R. Possage, 23, of Lisbon RD 2.

Police estimated damage of $400 to Beagle's 1961 sedan, $275 to Greenwood's car and $175 to the Possage vehicle.

Two drivers cited early Saturday told police they would forfeit appearance bonds. They were Charles Cooper Jr., 21, Worthington, W. Va., stoplight violation, $10, and Mary Louise Pike, 35, of Salem RD 5, speeding, $15.

The Ivy League consists of Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Princeton, Dartmouth, Columbia and Brown colleges.

Backers Say Wallace Has Ohio Support

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Backers of third-party presidential hopeful George C. Wallace hailed their candidate's weekend visit to Ohio a success and continued efforts today to get him on the state's ballot.

"I think the politicians in Ohio had their eyes opened," said Richard Kochensparger, state chairman of the former Alabama governor's campaign.

"It gave them something to think about."

Wallace received a rousing reception in Columbus and was met by enthusiastic crowds in Findlay and Lancaster on Saturday.

During each appearance, Wallace hammered out his basic themes — both major political parties are not giving voters a choice, return government to the control of the people and stop crime on the streets.

"If you're knocked in the head tonight and robbed, the robber will be out of jail before you're in the hospital," he told a cheering crowd of about 1,500 in Lancaster.

Wallace then returned to Columbus for an evening speech before about 8,700 persons in Jet Stadium. Earlier in the day he was greeted by about 1,500 persons in Findlay.

At all his appearances, Wallace lashed out at Ohio's tough law which makes it all but impossible for a third part to get on the ballot.

Following Wallace's visit, Kochensparger said the drive to collect 433,000 signatures on voter petitions, the first big hurdle that must be overcome, is continuing.

Currently, Kochensparger figures Wallace's American Independent Party workers have collected about 300,000.

Under Ohio law, the deadline for filing nomination petitions has long past.

But Wallace forces plan to present them to Secretary of State Ted Brown around Aug. 5. Plans are in the works to file a suit in efforts to get Wallace's name on the November ballot.

The greatest length of time during which no amendments were made to the U. S. Constitution was the 61 years from 1804 to 1865, when the Thirteenth Amendment outlawing slavery went into effect.

Two Boaters Injured Here

A Massillon woman remains in "fair" condition today with injuries suffered in a boating mishap Saturday on the Ohio River near the Chester Bridge.

Mrs. Maxine Reese, 56, and her husband, Thomas Reese, 54, were injured when their boat either struck an object in the water or rammed the shore about 500 yards east of the Chester Bridge.

Bill Hargreaves, manager of the Midway Oil Co. on the River Rd., told police he found the couple bleeding and walking along the road. He took them to City Hospital for treatment.

Patrolmen Orin Smith and Kenneth Montgomery investigated. They found the boat along shore with a gaping hole in the hull.

A small French poodle was inside the craft. Montgomery took the animal to his home to care for it.

Reese told officers his wife blacked out while operating the boat. She said she doesn't remember what happened.

Mrs. Reese suffered a concussion, contusions of the cheek and left arm and abrasions and lacerations of the chin.

12,000 View Festival End At Wellsville

An estimated 12,000 attended a fireworks display and final night of the St. Rocco's Festival Saturday at Central Park, Wellsville, Fred Baldasare, an official, said.

Plans are being made for a high mass Aug. 18 in the Immaculate Conception Church at Wellsville in observance of the actual date of St. Rocco's Day, Aug. 16. A band concert also is being planned, James McPeak, general chairman, said. The festival was sponsored by the Knights of Columbus.

Area Mishap Hurts Three

Three persons were injured when a woman driver, reaching for a child in the front seat, lost control and hit a parked car Sunday at 9:40 a.m. on Scott Ln. in New Manchester.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said a car driven by Mary A. Uker, 60, of Chester St., New Cumberland, struck the parked auto owned by Andrew H. Holtz of the Baum St. Apartments, East Liverpool, as she reached for 4-year-old David Kiger, who was falling on the front seat.

The woman is in "good" condition at Weirton General Hospital with a deep laceration of the upper lip. The youngster suffered abrasions and lacerations and his mother, Rosamond Kiger, 30, a passenger in the car, suffered cuts of the forehead. Another passenger, Bernice Kiger, was not injured.

There were no citations.

At 1:48 p.m. on Route 8, a quarter of a mile from the intersection of Route 30, a car driven by George M. Diocopoulas, 44, of Burgettstown failed to halt at a stop sign and ran into tre right rear side of a car driven by Norma LaRue Lascola 41, of 923 Phoenix Ave., Chester.

Diocopoulas was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Old-Fashioned Theme Marks Meeting Of Guilford Grange

LISBON — An old - fashioned theme was featured when Guilford Grange met Saturday night with 36 present.

Mrs. Bernice Arter, master, was in charge. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morlan conducted inspection. He is the county deputy.

During business, the women's activity chairman, Mrs. Joe Mattevi, reminded the members to have their handmade stoles, and flower arrangements at the Aug. 3 meeting for judging. Winners then will take their items to Pomona Grange Aug. 17 at Calcutta. Also discussed was a booth at the County Fair.

It was announced that the Guilford Civic Association will meet at the grange hall Friday. Topics to be discussed will be telephone service between Lisbon and Guilford, the extension of gas lines and sewage and cleaning of the lake.

The hall was picturesque with antiques Saturday night. Fans, bonnets, glassware, old telephones and many other items were displayed. Red and white table cloths and old oil lamps were used. Flower arrangements were in antique vases.

The program included an old-time scene with a short history of early Guilford given by Mrs. Frank Murray and appropriate music presented by Mrs. Clyde Farmer.

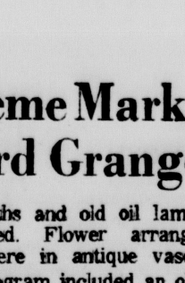

A humerous skit was given by Mrs. Eldon Whinnery and Mrs. Mattevi. Called "Shopping at Shep Hawley's Store," it was a takeoff on the store before the building was bought for grange purposes in 1912. The store for the skit included an old post office and Mr. Hawley's tall hat as well as many other items of the period.

A potato race was won by the Blackburn children.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Andrus, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Falk and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Broomall were the hosts. In keeping with the theme, they served Johnny Appleseed cake.

Kentucky pioneered in the development of an extensive state parks system.

Reward Offered Alabama Negro Backing Wallace

HARTSELLE, Ala. (AP) — William Bradford Huie, is offering a $500 reward to anyone who can find a registered Negro voter in Alabama who is supporting George C. Wallace for the presidency.

The author announced the reward Sunday, saying "George Wallace, on national television and in other public appearances, is implying that there are Negroes in Alabama who in 1966 wanted his late wife to become governor and who in 1968 want him to become president.

"I believe this implication is false," Huie continued. "Assisted by many Negroes, I have searched the state, and so far we have been unable to find one bona fide Negro Wallaceite."

2 Youths Drown In Pennsylvania

MERCER, Pa. (AP) — The bodies of two youths were recovered after both of them drowned in separate accidents.

Richard C. Turner, 17, of Grove City drowned Sunday in Shenago River Reservoir when the boat he was in capsized. Police said Turner and two other youths in the boat could not swim.

Two young boys rescued the two youths when they saw the boat turn over, but said they were unable to rescue Turner.

Skin divers recovered the body of Edward Lee Arnold, 17, of Greenville from Pymatuning reservoir in Crawford County.

Police said Arnold was swimming with two companions when he went under.

Toward A Better America

Today we are paying homage to those millions of Americans who are not getting enough publicity.

We mean the ones who went to their varied jobs last week to manufacture products, distribute goods, sell items, pick up the garbage, repair streets, build houses, feed the public, report the news, protectt he public and maintain a multitude of modern gadgets—in short, those who keep America going.

MUCH HAS BEEN SAID about the dissidents, the nonconformists, the disciples of violence and those interested in self indulgence without responsibility.

The counterparts of the rabble-rousing disenchanteds are your neighbors and your coworkers. You'll see some of them involved in civic affairs, serving as the leader of a scout troop and visiting a sick friend.

Are they unpatriotic and disinterested in their cities because they don't resort to violent methods to stimulate change? Do they have no concern about the great problems of the day because they aren't spouting off before a television camera?

We think they are as American as a bearded demonstrator. We know they are concerned about local and national problems because many work to bring dreamed-of change.

You can see some of these people active in nonviolent social action programs, trying to foster understanding in their communities and uplift the impoverished.

Their ranks include public officials and private citizens of different color, diferent religions and different political philosophies.

They do not always agree with each other. But this is America where disagreement is not a crime.

We are not taking a Pollyanna position for the sake of counteracting all the badmouthing of American history and tradition.

OUR REASON for applauding these people is their one uniting point, they are seeking to hold our nation together while executing change in a system without trying to destroy the system and the nation.

Many are aware of our local and national shortcomings but do not consider the razing of our system as any kind of an alternative.

We believe there are enough solid citzens in the working-for-a-better American category to counterbalance the segment that would rip the nation apart without a thought of future consequences.

It is because of this majority of Americans that we have faith in the future of the United States.

Power Of Propaganda

The power of propaganda should not be underestimated.

Americans, long annoyed by the false information and twisted facts that some of the more aggressive Communist nations have circulated throughout the world in their reprehensible effort to discredit the United States, have a tendency to brush this propaganda aside as unworthy of their attention.

But apparently our Asian friends feel differently — that if the propaganda is clever enough it will be widely accepted throughout Asia.

THE NORTH VIETNAMESE, seemingly acting on this belief, are really beating the propaganda drums over the Khe Sanh "defeat" as they term it.

Very deftly they are blending inflated claims of death and destruction wrought among Khe Sanh's defenders with prewithdrawal American declarations telling why the base was vital to U.S. strategy and would be held.

If the North Vietnamese are successful in convincing the Asian masses that the United States is really, after all, a paper tiger, the "tactical" decision to abandon Khe Sanh may indeed prove a defeat for the United States, despite the gallant efforts and the sacrifices of its defenders.

WITHOUT RESORTING to duplicity, it seems the United States and its allies should be able to do as good if not better job of propagandizing.

Certainly some of our imaginative advertising men who "can sell anything" should be utilized in this vital phase of the war—the battle for men's minds.

The "battles" they might win could save countless lives and an untold number of dollars.

Odd Facts

The custom of tossing rice at weddings originated in India, where rice is the symbol of fecundity.

Violence In Britain

Crime Rate Shows Increase

LONDON — When angered, an Englishman works out his aggression by reaching for a pen so that he can write a stinging letter to the London Times. Incidents involving physical violence are uncommon, indeed, in the British Isles. But the fear now is that growing violence around the world will spill over here.

Students at Oxford recently scuffled with police in an uncharacteristic defiance of uniformed authority. In a seubsequent poll by the London Evening Standard, 48 per cent of those questioned said it was "likely" that Britain could have the same kind of violence and trouble that swept France. Some 44 per cent said it was unlikely and 8 per cent didn't know.

Crimes against property rather than against people remain the norm. Pickpockets have been a constant threat in London since the days of Fagin. Londoners also find they must guard against skillful home burglaries carried out while the owners are at work or weekending.

THANKS TO ONE of the world's strictest gun control laws, crimes involving firearms are rare, and punishment severe. Several youths caught firing a non-lethal air rifle at cattle received three-month jail sentences a few weeks ago.

But offenses of violence against the person went up 7.6 per cent last year. Sir Eric St. Johnston, chief inspector of constabulary, observes that the violent crimes figures "clearly illustrate deterioration in social behavior."

And concern is being voiced about a wave of street violence in Glasgow, Scotland, that in many ways resembles the mindless, pointless violence reported in America's big cities. Some 1,465 crimes of violence were reported in Glasgow in 1967, double those of five years earlier. Twelve persons were killed and 256 others stabbed or slashed.

The British Broadcasting Corp.'s "24 Hours" program—a kind of CBS Reports show—quoted a Scotsman as saying that, "It's not the Tiber but the Clyde that is flowing with blood." In some of Glasgow's big housing developments, young gangs are operating on the "West Side Story" tradition, even to the enforcement of boundary lines. Youths join "tiny gangs" at age 8 or 9, and graduate at 16 to full-fledged gangs like the "Tories" or "Rebels."

In a recent eight-day sitting, Glasgow's high court handed down sentences totaling 83 years to 18 youths, mostly for crimes of violence in the street. There is talk of the need to reintroduce the birch as a legal punishment.

Glasgow is reputed to have a tradition of violence and hard drinking, a legacy of the worst abuses of the industrial age. Social scientists find significance in the fact that it remains the worst-housed city in Western Europe.

NOW PLANS ARE UNDER WAY to build a community center and to license more pubs to give young men some sense of place. One Glasgow magistrate suggests the use of street workers modeled after the experience of the VISTA volunteers in U.S. urban areas.

Schools must be improved so that half-day sessions can be eliminated. A bigger police force is required as well, and no one knows where money for all the needs is to be fund.

To the American, Glasgow's plight has a familiar ring. But there is a hopeful aspect, too. If violence in the white slums of Glasgow can be reduced by correcting educational and housing ills, then isn't this the answer for the violence in the black ghettos of America as well? The apparent lesson of Glasgow is that urban violence has its roots in socio-economical not racial, grievances.

Torture By Torte

By Art Buchwald

Art Buchwald has disappeared for a few weeks. He left some articles behind. When asked if they were reprints, he indignantly replied, "No, they're gems."

VIENNA, Austria — There are many people in Vienna who consider the State Opera House the most important building in the city. But there are others of us, mostly on the highest cultural levels, who would trade three performances of "Fidelio" and two peformances of "Lohengrin" for one plate of schlag at Demel's, the grandmother of all Viennese pastry shops.

Art Buchwald

Demel's is to Austria what the Tower of London is to England. Inside the hallowed mirrored walls are displayed the treasures of the country—foaming mountains of custard, strata upon strata of chocolate cakes, bottomless lakes of fruit-flavored mousse, tunnel after tunnel of apple strudel and glaciers of ice cream and frozen tarts.

It has been said that if Austria had an Aga Khan, he would be weighed each year at Demel's and given the equivalent in whipped cream and strawberry icing.

THE FIRST THING I saw on entering Demel's was a large marble stand filled with homemade candies. On top of the stand was a handwritten sign advertising the speciality of the day.

It was strawberry mousse with vanilla cream, grilled almonds and hazelnuts, sherbet and assorted candies fruits.

"A strong man," Si Bourgin, an international food patrolman, told us, "would quail at such a dish, but the average Austrian woman can eat 10 of them."

As my eyes became used to the light, I saw a room to the right with about 20 tables. The decor was late 19th century, and very little has been changed since Emperor Franz Josef used to pop in for an apple turnover. In the center of the shop was the high altar, filled with pastries and gugelhupf.

I started to shake uncontrollably, and Bourgin had to slap me in the face to bring me back to my senses.

THE WOMEN who wait on people are known as the Sisters of Demel's. They are dressed in shapeless black smocks and have all takenvows never to serve any pastry until it has been made with butter. Tattooed on their arms are the words: "Death Before Shortening."

As I sat at a table and prepared to eat six pastries, I heard a low rumbling, groaning and moaning.

"What's that?" I asked Mr. Bourgin.

"That's what is known as the Demel lament. Each afternoon the women come here and start moaning, 'Oh, I can't eat this—it's so fattening. Oh, I can't take another bite, I shouldn't! tomorrow I will eat nothing all day. I swear this is the last Sacher Torte I will touch for a month.' They never stop eating while they're talking. You could compare the Demel lament to a Gregorian chant."

"WHAT KIND OF PEOPLE come here?"

"The Viennese aristocracy, tourists, beautiful women and people who are trying to forget their unhappy childhoods. You must never talk to a beautiful woman at Demel's. The way to strike her fancy is to send over a pound of butter with your compliments. If she accepts it you can then formally introduce yourself."

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

That summer in Michigan with Aunt Flossie and Uncle Fred provided many surprises about them because they had always lived in a world apart from our own.

Uncle Fred, the retired railroad superintendent of motive power, was a tycoon of sorts and he and Aunt Flossie had traveled widely—London, Paris, Rome, Madrid and around the world a couple of times.

He used to object to using paper clips to hold sheets of paper together in anything that was going to be mailed because the weight of the paper clip might require extra postage.

But that is one way to get rich and they were paying me, a teen-ager, to drive their car, take care of the yard and to do any other handyman jobs around the house they had rented for the summer on a little lake.

AUNT FLOSSIE, we youngsters were given to understand, had always been the belle of the three girls in her family. Then as she grew older she gave every impression of being somewhat of a grand dame, with moderate wealth and wide traveling.

Thus it came as a surprise when she undertook to add to my education that summer by havings me read "Lorna Doone" written in 1869 by R. D. Blackmore, "Jane Eyre (1847) by Charlotte Bronte, and of all things. "The Well of Loneliness" (1928) by Radclyffe Hall.

"Lorna Doone," which I had always thought was simply a cookie, was long on violence, "Jane Eyre" was a sort of early Peyton Place, and "The Well of Loneliness" dealt with a sensitive subject handled quite delicately as compared to the blatant and open treatment it receives today.

"The Well of Loneliness" was banned in England and suspended in the United States. Aunt Flossie wasn't the old stick-in-the-mud that a teen-ager would assume her to be.

And she was a nut on housekeeping. The windows had to be sparkling clean. She gave me a pan of water with ammonia in it, two cloths and had me get on a stepladder to wash the outside of the windows while, similarly equipped, she washed the inside.

Then we used to argue in a friendly manner about whether a spot was on the inside or the outside of a window, as we both rubbed at the spot.

She always removed her diamond rings before doing such chores. Meantime the maid-cook was otherwise engaged in the kitchen or cleaning up the inside of the house.

You'd think that anybody who had been around the world a couple of times, and had a yardman and a maid wouldn't bother to wash her own windows, but that was Aunt Flossie.

HIGH SOCIETY mostly bored her but she did let herself get inveigled into playing bridge a few times with other women summering on the lake. When she got dolled up for the party you wouldn't hardly know her. Her hat had such a wide brim she practically had to tip it sideways to get through a door.

But her vanity was wounded at one of the bridge parties and whatever enjoyment she might have gotten out of the parties was spoiled. The summer sun had rejuvenated her hated freckles which none of us had ever given a second thought.

But when she was asked how she enjoyed one of the bridge parties she snorted as only Aunt Flossie could snort, "I don't know whether I'll go to any more of those parties. Do you know what one of those women had the nerve to say to me? She said, 'My what wonderful freckles you have.' Wonderful freckles indeed! I never met anyone with less tact."

You really never know anything about anybody.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Timely Quotes

Education with unbelief in God and the Bible has plunged this generation into a trackless jungle where it wanders uncertain with no worthy purpose or defined path to follow. National, spiritual life is tragically weak and at times seems almost nonexistent.

—Dr. V. H. Lewis of Kansas City, a general superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene, stating that "War is brutalizing."

The right to petition does not include the right to make a nuisance of yourself in order to get what you want.

—Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., announcing he would introduce legislation to halt demonstrations on government property in Washington.

Many are exhilarated, others so panicky that they are ready to throw the rigging overboard; all of us are at least perplexed and to a degree insecure. The comforting thought is that even men don't build their ships for calm weather and placid seas. Still less does God.

—The late Dr. Franklin C. Fry, president of the Lutheran Church in America, in a report for a convention of the church.

Life is bliss and it is not suffering—harmony, happiness and peace is not a struggle. No man has a right to suffer.

—Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, leader of meditation for such personalities as the Beatles and actress Mia Farrow.

RAYMOND MOLEY

The Party Image

There are many Americans who seem to be appalled at the thought that the two major candidates for president, Richard Nixon and Hubert Humphrey, are loyal party men. And that they will be nominated by delegates who themselves are loyal party members.

Those who are unhappy about this should be reminded that this method of choice is the normal operation of our two-party system. It has been validated by law and decreed by custom over the generations. It is based upon the principle of representative government. It is as much a part of our system of government as is the making of laws by representatives in our legislative assemblies.

But ever since the Progressive Era began early in this century, reformers have been striving to break down this system by injecting what has been called "more democracy" into the operation. And no little harm has been done to party responsibility by most of the innovations which have been introduced.

OUT OF THE DIRECT PRIMARY emerged the presidential preference primaries in some states. And for many reasons which need not be recited here these preferential primaries have not lived up to the claims of their promoters. The evils of democracy have not been cured, as one reformer said back there, by "more democracy."

The recent idea, proposed by such widely different people as Sen. Mike Mansfield and Barry Goldwater, of a national primary in all the states is a revival of the psychology of the early Progressives. The argument for it is this: since a partial "democracy" has not worked well, a lot of democracy would be better.

And Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has brought the matter to the point of absurdity by suggesting that there be a national poll at this late date to select the candidate of the Republican party.

It should be noted that this poll would include not only registered Republicans but all voters of all parties. And the poll would be conducted not by legally constituted agencies of government but by a combination of Louis Harris and George Gallup and other private, commercial organizations and financed by private and semi-public funds.

On the other side there is talk of another splinter party, with Eugene McCarthy or someone else as the candidate, to appeal from the various primaries and conventions to the electorate in the national election.

And there is already in existence the George Wallace movement whose slogan is a "curse" on both the major parties and whose purpose is to commit the choice of a president to the House of Representatives.

All of these proposals seem to be rooted in a widespread public contempt for parties and for the people who operate the parties.

In a recent Harris Survey it was shown that, of all professional categories, politicians ranked lowest. And that those who serve in government at all levels rank next lowest on the totem poll. "Leadership" in medicine, science and business led all the rest.

Perhaps it has always been that way with public opinion. We see monuments everywhere to honor dead politicians. Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson and Robert Taft have their place in marble and stone in Washington, along with revered military figures.

Thus it is after those politicians are dead. These people lived in politics all their lives, but we render them respect only when they are cold in the dust. But when they were alive they were the object of contempt and distrust because they were politicians.

BUT THESE MEN plying their despised trade, along with many others who are not thus commemorated, created our political institutions and shaped the laws and customs under which we enjoy our liberty and live our lives.

What is needed is a wider understanding of the vital role of politics and parties in our life.

Reformers cannot improve party affairs by reducing the responsibility of parties by heavy infusions of "more" democracy. Improvement will come when more of our "best" people take part in party affairs at all levels.

For the quality of parties and the wisdom of their decisions depend upon the people who are active within them and who participate in their decisions.

AUNT FLOSSIE, we youngsters were given to understand, had always been the belle of the three girls in her family. When as she grew older she gave every impression of being somewhat of a grand dame, with moderate wealth and wide traveling.

Thus it came as a surprise when she undertook to add to my education that summer by havings me read "Lorna Doone" written in 1869 by R. D. Blackmore, "Jane Eyre (1847) by Charlotte Bronte, and of all things, "The Well of Loneliness" (1928) by Radclyffe Hall.

"Lorna Doone," which I had always thought was simply a cookie, was long on violence, "Jane Eyre" was a sort of early Peyton Place, and "The Well of Loneliness" dealt with a sensitive subject handled quite delicately as compared to the blatant and open treatment it receives today.

"The Well of Loneliness" was banned in England and suspended in the United States. Aunt Flossie wasn't the old stick-in-the-mud that a teen-ager would assume her to be.

And she was a nut on housekeeping. The windows had to be sparkling clean. She gave me a pan of water with ammonia in it, two cloths and had me get on a stepladder to wash the outside of the windows while, similarly equipped, she washed the inside.

Then we used to argue in a friendly manner about whether a spot was on the inside or the outside of a window, as we both rubbed at the spot.

She always removed her diamond rings before doing such chores. Meantime the maid-cook was otherwise engaged in the kitchen or cleaning up the inside of the house.

You'd think that anybody who had been around the world a couple of times, and had a yardman and a maid wouldn't bother to wash her own windows, but that was Aunt Flossie.

HIGH SOCIETY mostly bored her but she did let herself get inveigled into playing bridge a few times with other women summering on the lake. When she got dolled up for the party you wouldn't hardly know her. Her hat had such a wide brim she practically had to tip it sideways to get through a door.

But her vanity was wounded at one of the bridge parties and whatever enjoyment she might have gotten out of the parties was spoiled. The summer sun had rejuvenated her hated freckles which none of us had ever given a second thought.

But when she was asked how she enjoyed one of the bridge parties she snorted as only Aunt Flossie could snort, "I don't know whether I'll go to any more of those parties. Do you know what one of those women had the nerve to say to me? She said, 'My what wonderful freckles you have.' Wonderful freckles indeed! I never met anyone with less tact."

You really never know anything about anybody.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Timely Quotes

Education with unbelief in God and the Bible has plunged this generation into a trackless jungle where it wanders uncertain with no worthy purpose or defined path to follow. National, spiritual life is tragically weak and at times seems almost nonexistent.

—Dr. V. H. Lewis of Kansas City, a general superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene, stating that "War is brutalizing."

The right to petition does not include the right to make a nuisance of yourself in order to get what you want.

—Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., announcing he would introduce legislation to halt demonstrations on government property in Washington.

Many are exhilarated, others so panicky that they are ready to throw the rigging overboard; all of us are at least perplexed and to a degree insecure. The comforting thought is that even men don't build their ships for calm weather and placid seas. Still less does God.

The Party Image

There are many Americans who seem to be appalled at the thought that the two major candidates for president, Richard Nixon and Hubert Humphrey, are loyal party men. And that they will be nominated by delegates who themselves are loyal party members.

Those who are unhappy about this should be reminded that this method of choice is the normal operation of our two-party system. It has been validated by law and decreed by custom over the generations. It is based upon the principle of representative government. It is as much a part of our system of government as is the making of laws by representatives in our legislative assemblies.

But ever since the Progressive Era began early in this century, reformers have been striving to break down this system by injecting what has been called "more democracy" into the operation. And no little harm has been done to party responsibility by most of the innovations which have been introduced.

OUT OF THE DIRECT PRIMARY emerged the presidential preference primaries in some states. And for many reasons which need not be recited here these preferential primaries have not lived up to the claims of their promoters. The evils of democracy have not been cured, as one reformer said back there, by "more democracy."

The recent idea, proposed by such widely different people as Sen. Mike Mansfield and Barry Goldwater, of a national primary in all the states is a revival of the psychology of the early Progressives. The argument for it is this: since a partial "democracy" has not worked well, a lot of democracy would be better.

And Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has brought the matter to the point of absurdity by suggesting that there be a national poll at this late date to select the candidate of the Republican party.

It should be noted that this poll would include not only registered Republicans but all voters of all parties. And the poll would be conducted not by legally constituted agencies of government but by a combination of Louis Harris and George Gallup and other private, commercial organizations and financed by private and semi-public funds.

On the other side there is talk of another splinter party, with Eugene McCarthy or someone else as the candidate, to appeal from the various primaries and conventions to the electorate in the national election.

And there is already in existence the George Wallace movement whose slogan is a "curse" on both the major parties and whose purpose is to commit the choice of a president to the House of Representatives.

All of these proposals seem to be rooted in a widespread public contempt for parties and for the people who operate the parties.

In a recent Harris Survey it was shown that, of all professional categories, politicians ranked lowest. And that those who serve in government at all levels rank next lowest on the totem poll. "Leadership" in medicine, science and business led all the rest.

Perhaps it has always been that way with public opinion. We see monuments everywhere to honor dead politicians. Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson and Robert Taft have their place in marble and stone in Washington, along with revered military figures.

Thus it is after those politicians are dead. These people lived in politics all their lives, but we render them respect only when they are cold in the dust. But when they were alive they were the object of contempt and distrust because they were politicians.

BUT THESE MEN plying their despised trade, along with many others who are not thus commemorated, created our political institutions and shaped the laws and customs under which we enjoy our liberty and live our lives.

What is needed is a wider understanding of the vital role of politics and parties in our life.

Reformers cannot improve party affairs by reducing the responsibility of parties by heavy infusions of "more" democracy. Improvement will come when more of our "best" people take part in party affairs at all levels.

For the quality of parties and the wisdom of their decisions depend upon the people who are active within them and who participate in their decisions.

Gov. Rhodes 'Mum' About State Stand

By DON BANDY
Associated Press Writer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes is remaining mum on which way Ohio will go at the Republican national convention.

"Our delegation is uncommitted," Rhodes repeated again and again Sunday as newsmen sought for some indication as to whom Rhodes will support — Richard M. Nixon or Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Rhodes, who heads Ohio's 58-member delegation, denied reports of a coalition being formed by him, Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, to united behind a single candidate. "The big three" head their state delegations as favorite sons with a total of 132 votes.

Agnew said Sunday no "agreement" has been made, but "we're keeping in communication." He explained that the three "will keep in touch in case one changes his mind."

The governors are here for the National Governors Conference which so far has been a "batting practice" for the coming presidential nominating conventions. The governors open business sessions today.

Rhodes, who appeared on NBC's "Meet The Press" Sunday, said there will be "no action" from the Ohio delegation until it caucuses Aug. 5 at the opening of the GOP convention in Miami Beach.

Rhodes said Nixon, Rockefeller and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, a possible presidential candidate, are all capable of carrying Ohio.

Asked about Rockefeller's massive advertising campaign, Rhodes said, "I can't see any pronounced effect but I do know that some people probably are reconsidering their position."

As for the vice presidency, Rhodes said New York Mayor John Lindsay "would add strength to the GOP ticket, regardless of the (presidential) candidate."

"We will enter a plea to the indictment," Hanes responded.

Battle also asked if Hanes wanted a period of "a few days or a few weeks" to determine when he would be ready to try the case.

Dist. Atty. Gen. Phil Canale told the court he had conferred with Hanes about having the trial in late September. But, he said, it might last until the Nov. 5 general election. Under Tennessee law, sequestered jurymen cannot cast ballots.

Sweet Adelines Hold Guest Night

Quartet selections were featured during the "Guest Night" observance of Sweet Adelines, Inc., Friday at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

Fires Again Hit Areas In Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Scattered fire bombings were reported in racially troubled Akron for the fifth straight night Sunday as a beefed - up National Guard force helped keep the peace in Negro areas of the city.

At least nine fire bombings were reported, most of them minor. Most heavily damaged was the Wilson Lumber Co. on North Street near the downtown area. Fire authorities estimated damage in a storage area there at $18,650.

The curfew that had been lifted Saturday night was imposed again by Mayor John Ballard Sunday night, and the start of the curfew was moved up to 8 p.m.

Streets were reported virtually deserted after the curfew hour.

Another 400 Ohio National Guard troops were brought in the wake of a series of disturbances Saturday night, when the curfew that had been imposed Thursday and Friday nights from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. was lifted.

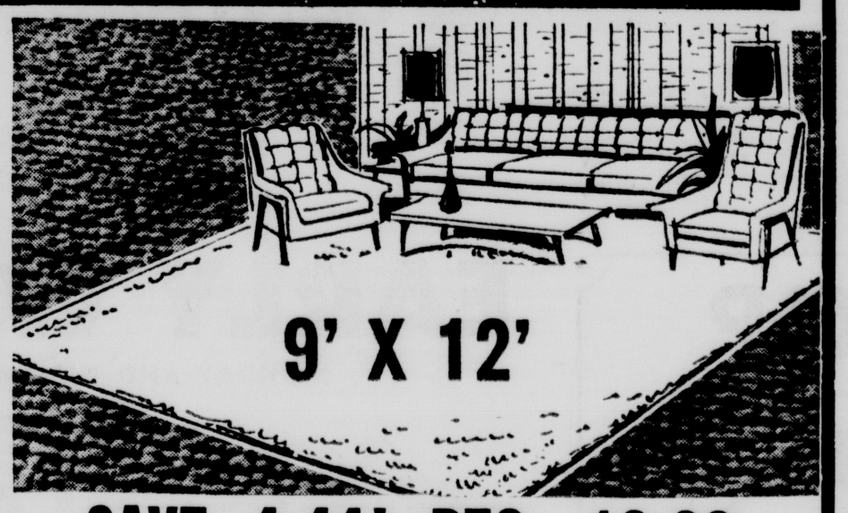

The mayor said he restored the curfew because a hope- for ease in tension failed to materialize.

Fund Provision Rapped

'Rights' Leaders Say Bill Will Slow Desegregation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leaders say a little-noticed provision passed by the House would cripple the federal government's Southern school desegregation program.

The provision, sponsored by Rep. Jamie L. Whitten, D-Miss., prohibits use of federal funds to compel busing of students, to force abolishment of any school or to force students to attend any school against the choice of their parents.

It says the Department of Health, Education and Welfare cannot use its funds for such actions—or to force any such actions as a prerequisite for receipt of federal aid by school districts.

As part of the Labor-HEW appropriations bill, the provision would be effective during the current fiscal year.

The bill passed by the House June 26 and before a Senate subcommittee today, appears to have a good chance of passing the Senate, according to a subcommittee spokesman.

The threat of cutting off federal funds has been the department's main tool for bringing about racial integration of Southern schools.

Civil rights officials said in a series of interviews that the crucial part of the provision is that which deals with the parents' choice of a school for their youngsters.

They believe this would mean HEW would have to accept freedom-of-choice desegregation plans, even if the plans had failed to produce no more than token integration.

The Supreme Court ruled May 27 that if freedom-of-choice proves effective, "it is acceptable, but if it fails to undo segregation, other means must be used to achieve this end."

Buoyed by the ruling, officials of HEW's Office for Civil Rights were confident they could complete most of their compliance work in the South by the fall of 1969. They previously had set that time as a deadline for school districts to complete desegregation.

The department declined to give any official interpretation to the measure passed by the House except to say HEW strongly opposes it.

Peter Libassi, who was director of the federal program until he joined the Urban Coalition a few months ago, said that at the very least the provision "would break the pace of the program at a crucial time—just when the department was about to have it wrapped up."

He added: "And what's worse, it would give support to the view of Negroes who have been saying, 'See, you can't trust white people. Burn the place down. Throw another stone.' "

Fortas Vote First

Senate Delay Also Seen On Thornberry Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The likelihood that the Senate won't act until September on the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice appears to have reduced chances of quick consideration of President Johnson's other Supreme Court appointment—Homer Thornberry as associate justice.

Sen. James O. Eastland, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee said Thornberry probably would be dismissed after questioning today by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and a few other committee members, then recalled "after the Fortas matter is determined by the Senate."

Eastland, D-Miss., said several committee members oppose acting further on Thornberry because they feel there won't be a vacancy for him to fill until Fortas' elevation from associate justice to chief justice is confirmed. Many senators refuse even to question Thornberry until then, Eastland said.

The conservative Liberty Lobby, meanwhile, introduced strong opposition to confirmation of Fortas to succeed retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren.

W. B. Hicks Jr., the lobby's executive secretary, in prepared testimony assailed what he called Justice Fortas' record of permissiveness toward communism, crime and corruption.

Hicks also called Fortas "a fixer" who tried to keep the Walter Jenkins and Bobby Baker cases from embarrassing the Johnson administration.

Eastland said he will call a committee meeting this week to consider the Fortas nomination but Senate leaders said floor action probably will not come until after Labor Day because of a long recess for political conventions.

"It looks that way," said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

He said a Senate session is not likely to be sandwiched between the Republican National Convention starting Aug. 5 and the Democratic convention to begin Aug. 26.

One of the senators saying he would not question Thornberry until Fortas is confirmed was Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., who is among GOP senators threatening to filibuster confirmation of both President Johnson's Supreme Court nominees.

They contend the appointments should be made by the new president in January, and some have accused Johnson of "cronyism" for nominating Fortas and Thornberry, both close friends of his.

'I Have The Car, Dad' Son Phones His Home

LISBON — A stolen car report given to the Columbiana County sheriff's office at 1:07 a.m. Saturday was canceled at 9:05 p.m. Saturday by the owner, Lester Null of Watterson St., East Liverpool.

Constable Fred Fryman of Liverpool Township notified the sheriff the owner's 16-year-old son took the car and had phoned his parents from his grandmother's home in Silby, La.

Authorities said the car, a 1965 convertible, was taken some time Friday evening.

Death Takes Noted Dancer Ruth St. Denis

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ruth St. Denis, the "First Lady of the American dance," died Sunday at 88 in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital. She had been treated periodically for heart trouble since 1966, the year in which she last danced publicly.

Willowy, erect and energetic, Miss St. Denis continued lecturing and teaching until her death, saying, "The creative life —that is what keeps me going."

At 16 she was dancing for $25 a week in a vaudeville theater. David Belasco, the New York producer, changed her name from Dennis and cast her in his shows for five years.

She became famous overnight in 1906 as she danced her innovative "The Incense," based on a Hindu theme and set in a freer form than American audiences had seen before.

"Before I started, there was no dance in America except vaudeville and the group doing Italian-type ballet at the Metropolitan," she said once.

The idiom she created evolved through the work of her proteges, including Martha Graham, Charles Weidman and Doris Humphrey.

With her husband and dancing partner, Ted Shawn, she founded the Denishawn School in 1915 in Los Angeles. They separated without divorcing in 1929, saying that when they were together their love flourished but their creativity didn't. Later they worked together occasionally, notably in 1964 celebrating their 50th anniversary.

Shawn, now 76, still operates the Jacob's Lillow dance festival at Lee, Mass.

Miss St. Denis was born in Newark, N.J., and grew up on a farm.

"I skipped my way through my chores, I raced with the winds, I bathed myself in the rain," she recalled, "and the moonlight turned me into an unconscious Votary of Ishtar (the Babylonian goddess of love and war)."

In her 80s she tried to persuade churchmen to add dancing to worship services. "The dance was an important part of worship in the earliest years of Christianity," she argued.

As the dancing of some of her successors grew harsh and stark, reflecting a more nervous age, Miss St. Denis advised, "Violence is only a page in the volume of world literature. It shouldn't be allowed to dominate modern dance."

Road Work Progress Reported At Meeting

Forrest Thompson, president of the Franklin Township trustees, reported on the work being done on a section of Road 740, known as Foundry Hill, at a meeting Saturday afternoon at the Township hall in Summitville.

The section has been cleared of ditches and soon will be oiled, Thompson said.

Karl Lindner of Salineville discussed an insurance policy for a garage recently purchased by the trustees.

Bomb Damages New York Store

NEW YORK (AP) — A bomb blast Sunday shattered the front of a Union Square book store where a dynamite try failed five months ago.

No one was hurt in the explosion which blew out windows of the Jefferson Book Store, a food shop next door, a beauty school upstairs and an apartment house across the street.

The book store specializes in anti-Vietnam war and Communist literature.

Last Feb. 19, two alleged Nazi sympathizers were arrested moments after police said the pair planted three sticks of dynamite outside the store.

It was the 11th bombing in the New York area since April 22, the other targets being tourist and consular offices of nations trading with Communist Cuba and two taverns frequented by Cubans.

Youth Electrocuted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Randall Tracy, 9, was electrocuted Sunday night when he accidentally pulled an electric fan into a bathtub at his home, police reported.

Fund Provision Rapped

'Rights' Leaders Say Bill Will Slow Desegregation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leaders say a little-noticed provision passed by the House would cripple the federal government's Southern school desegregation program.

The provision, sponsored by Rep. Jamie L. Whitten, D-Miss., prohibits use of federal funds to compel busing of students, to force abolishment of any school or to force students to attend any school against the choice of their parents.

It says the Department of Health, Education and Welfare cannot use its funds for such actions—or to force any such actions as a prerequisite for receipt of federal aid by school districts.

As part of the Labor-HEW appropriations bill, the provision would be effective during the current fiscal year.

The bill passed by the House June 26 and before a Senate subcommittee today, appears to have a good chance of passing the Senate, according to a subcommittee spokesman.

The threat of cutting off federal funds has been the department's main tool for bringing about racial integration of Southern schools.

Civil rights officials said in a series of interviews that the crucial part of the provision is that which deals with the parents' choice of a school for their youngsters.

They believe this would mean HEW would have to accept freedom-of-choice desegregation plans, even if the plans had failed to produce no more than token integration.

The Supreme Court ruled May 27 that if freedom-of-choice proves effective, "it is acceptable, but if it fails to undo segregation, other means must be used to achieve this end."

Buoyed by the ruling, officials of HEW's Office for Civil Rights were confident they could complete most of their compliance work in the South by the fall of 1969. They previously had set that time as a deadline for school districts to complete desegregation.

The department declined to give any official interpretation to the measure passed by the House except to say HEW strongly opposes it.

Peter Libassi, who was director of the federal program until he joined the Urban Coalition a few months ago, said that at the very least the provision "would break the pace of the program at a crucial time—just when the department was about to have it wrapped up."

He added: "And what's worse, it would give support to the view of Negroes who have been saying, 'See, you can't trust white people. Burn the place down. Throw another stone.' "

Fortas Vote First

Senate Delay Also Seen On Thornberry Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The likelihood that the Senate won't act until September on the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice appears to have reduced chances of quick consideration of President Johnson's other Supreme Court appointment—Homer Thornberry as associate justice.

Sen. James O. Eastland, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee said Thornberry probably would be dismissed after questioning today by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and a few other committee members, then recalled "after the Fortas matter is determined by the Senate."

Eastland, D-Miss., said several committee members oppose acting further on Thornberry because they feel there won't be a vacancy for him to fill until Fortas' elevation from associate justice to chief justice is confirmed. Many senators refuse even to question Thornberry until then, Eastland said.

The conservative Liberty Lobby, meanwhile, introduced strong opposition to confirmation of Fortas to succeed retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Mekong Delta 50 miles southeast of Saivion. Government headquarters said four persons were killed and 16 wounded.

Vietnamese informants say at least 1,000 Viet Cong troops have infiltrated the capital city in preparation for the third major offensive of the year expected within the next two months.

Defenses Bolstered

Allied defenses around Saigon were promised more reinforcements today with the arrival of the first contingent of a new infantry division from Thailand. Some 1,500 troops of Thailand's 12,000-man Black Panther Division arrived at the U.S. Army's Newport port facility just north of the capital.

The Thai division will have a dual mission: to block enemy infiltration into Saigon from the northeast, where elements of the North Vietnamese 5th Division are said to be based, and to smash Viet Cong guerrilla bands in Bien Hoa province, east of the capital, easing the threat of enemy harassment against allied military installations there.

Along the northern frontier, an outnumbered U.S. Marine force hurled back a North Vietnamese battalion near Khe Sanh Sunday. The enemy opened up with mortars before launching a ground probe at dusk, U.S. headquarters said. While Marine artillery pounded the North Vietnamese, the defending Marines unleashed heavy automatic weapons fire.

12 Bodies Found

When the fighting died down two hours later, the Leathernecks counted 12 enemy bodies outside their positions and reported 10 of their own men wounded.

East of Khe Sanh near Con Thien, Marine fighter pilots and artillery wiped out most of a 30-man North Vietnamese unit that was spotted moving in an open area. The U.S. Command reported 22 North Vietnamese bodies were found.

South Vietnamese forces reported killing 10 Viet Cong and capturing 21 others during sweep through the Mekong Delta, 70 miles southwest of Saigon. Government losses were put at three dead and seven wounded. The South Vietnamese uncovered a sizeable weapons cache that included 30 bazooka-type rockets, 59 mortar rounds, 70 blocks of TNT, 3,000 pounds of rifle ammunition and 25 rounds of 7mm recoilless rifle ammunition.

U.S. Marines in the northern privinces reported discovering two caches that included machine guns, mortars, 52 complete 122mm artillery rockets, 250 rounds of mortar ammunition and 140 small rockets. New Zealand infantrymen found 30 concealed mortar rounds on the outer fringes of Saigon.

Jets Hit Panhandle

In the air war above the demilitarized zone, Navy and Air Force jets evaded surface-to-air missiles and other antiaircraft fire and hammered North Vietnam's panhandle. Pilots reported hitting an oil and gasoline storage area near the port city of Vinh.

The three captured American fliers, who are being released by the North Vietnamese were reported still in Hanoi. Stephen B. Cary, an official in Philadelphia of the American Friends Service Committee, said an associate had wired from Hanoi that the release has been delayed one week.

"We have no idea why they were held up," Cary said.

The three airmen are Maj. James F. Low 43, Sausalito, Calif; Maj. Fred N. Thompson, 32, Taylors, S.C., and Capt. Joe V. Carpenter, 37, Victorsville, Calif.

People Back Dubcek

Czechs on Prague's streets agreed that Czechoslovak Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek should not go to Russia to meet the Soviet party leaders.

"Dubcek shouldn't give in," said a girl student. "We're with him all the way. If they want something, let them come here."

The reply to the Russian invitation was believed being delayed until all the 16,000 Russian soldiers who took part in Warsaw Pact maneuvers that ended June 30 have the country.

By Sunday, the day they were officially scheduled to leave, most of the Russians were reported in Eastern Slovakia, presumably en route home. It appeared that all of them could not be out of the country before Wednesday, even if there were no more delays.

Czechoslovak Interior Minister Josef Pavel denied reports published in Soviet and Bulgarian newspapers of new arms caches found in Czechoslovakia near the Polish border.

BRIDGE CRACKS WITH TUFF-KOTE

Every structure expands with heat, contracts with cold. That's why cracks filled with rigid materials nearly always give continuous trouble. Summer compresses the filling, winter re-opens cracks, lets moisture in. And no matter how often the job is repeated, results are always the same.

Not so with Tuff - Kote, because Tuff - Kote doesn't fill cracks, it bridges them. There's nothing to squeeze out, nothing to fall out. Tuff-Kote and the Tuffglass Fabric "give" with expansion - contraction.

20 years of success in toughest industrial services have proved this wipe-on cure for cracks beyond all question. Tuff-Kote does the job in one easy application.

2 Minor Mishaps Are Investigated

Only two minor traffic mishaps were investigated by city police over the weekend, both on Saturday.

Cars operated by Wayne A. Rudibaugh, 18, of Boring Ln. and Anna Pauline Green, 16, of Park Blvd. figured in a collision at 2:19 p. m. on E. 5th St. near Crook Alley.

Rudibaugh, driving a 1966 compact sedan owned by Raymond E. Rudibaugh of the same address, told police he halted in the line of traffic and was struck in the rear by the other car. The girl told police she was unable to stop when the other car came to a sudden halt. Patrolman K. J. Montgomery investigated.

Cars operated by Shirley Jean Burton, 40, of South Meadowbrook Circle and John W. Potts, 60, of Clinton, Pa., RD 1 figured in a scraping accident at 12:40 p. m. at the south end of the Ceramic Parking Lot.

The woman said she was backing out of a parking spot and had started to pull away when the car across from her hit the front of her vehicle. Potts said he saw the other car and halted, but was scraped by her car.

Montgomery investigated.

Union Awaits Strike Ballot

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union is counting on a big strike vote in the next few days to put pressure on the industry for a hefty contract settlement.

"The companies will move when they see the vote," said one union official.

Almost 390,000 men at 600 locals across the country and in Canada will get a chance to express their sentiment in the union's first poll of the membership. They are expected to vote overwhelmgingly in favor of a strike. The only question is how big the margin will be.

Only nine days remain until the steelworkers will be free to strike. There has been no public indication of progress in the bargaining on wages and fringe benefits.

The company-level talks on contract language are marking time until the vote is held. Most of the local union officials will be at their home bases until Wednesday. A few small meetings were held over the weekend, but they appeared to be strategy sessions rather than negotiations.

The top-level talks are secret, but there was no outward sign of any activity during the weekend. The union offices were empty.

Baldness, according to authorities, is not so much a disease as it is a facet of the evolution of the human race, which has been experiencing a gradual loss of body hair.

60 Russians See Site Of Glassboro Meeting

GLASSBORO, N.J. (AP) — Sixty Russian travelers have toured Hollybush, the 19th century mansion at Glassboro State College where President Johnson met Soviet Premier Alexi Kosygin last summer.

The Russian tourists, who flew to the United States last week on the inaugural Moscow—New York flight, visited the mansion Sunday.

A crowd of 300 Gloucester County residents welcomed the visitors.

Mayor William Dalton told his Russian guests he hoped "the spirit of Hollybush will ease tensions throughout the world and be the beacon of future friendly relations" between the two superpowers.

Area Farm Building Burned By 'Request'

Franklin Township firemen, headed by Chief Paul Dowdell, were called to the farm of Donald Lozier, west of Summitville, Sunday afternoon to burn a building on the farm at the request of the owner. The building had been used to store grain and corn.

A tanker and a pumper from Hanover Township were on hand to prevent the fire from spreading to a nearby barn.

Observes Birthday

Death By Cancer Faces Liver Transplant Infant

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — On Tuesday pixie-like Julie Cherie Rodriguez, 2, will have lived exactly a year—longer than anyone else known to medicine—with a transplated liver.

But for the parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rodriguez of Pueblo, Colo., the gratitude of reaching this milestone is tempered by knowledge that cancer—the disease that destroyed Julie's own liver—has reappeared elsewhere in her body and soon will claim her life.

"We're still grateful that we have had her another year said Rodriguez, a steel mill employe in Pueblo. "When at least she knows who her mommy is and who her daddy is," he said.

She Is First

When Julie received her new liver July 23, 1967, at the University of Colorado Medical Center, there were no known survivors of such operations. Now there are nine, including seven in Denver.

This group includes a 4-year-old Minnesota boy who received a new liver in an operation early Sunday. He was reported in satisfactory condition, as was a 1-year-old Texas boy who received a kidney from the same donor. Neither was identified.

Improved techniques of suppressing the body's natural tendency to reject the new organ—including the development of antilymphocyte globulin—helped the organ to continue to function.

But while the doctors succeeded in maintaining function of the transplanted liver, fighting the cancer was another matter. It kept reappearing in other areas.

Too Young To Know

The dark-haired little girl with the flashing eyes is too young to know her ordeal offers hope to thousands who have or will have a fatal, incurable liver ailment.

But her parents know.

"We know this will end Julie's life," Rodriguez said. But they also known the transplant itself was successful, and said more attention must be given the problem of finding the solution to cancer.

"We urge people to urge their legislators to appropriate more money for medical research, to find the cure for cancer and other diseases for which we don't have the answers," he said.

"I am a former Marine and I know we must stop communism, but we're spending too much money on the Vietnam war. We've got to think right now for our grandchildren—how to save them from disease; not just spend their money on war and space," he continued.

Canoeist, 78, Feted By Waterways Group

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Chester Kelley, 78, has canoed the Missouri River for 54 years, but Sunday he made a 15-mile trip down the river on "Chester Kelley Day."

The occasion was so named by the Ozark Wilderness Waterways Club, an organization of canoeists to honor Kelley for his efforts to obtain river marinas.

Kelley and 45 other members of the club made the trip in 21 canoes to participate in the dedication of a $70,000 marina.

The concrete boat launching ramp, an observation tower, parking and rest room facilities were built on a 50-50 basis by Jackson County and the federal government.

Plans are underway to build similar facilities at intervals of about 16-miles from Rulo, Neb. to the Mississippi River.

Man, 43, Killed In Collision Of Ambulance, Auto

By The Associated Press

An ambulance speeding a newborn child and mother to a hospital in Youngstown collided at an intersection with a car and one of Ohio's weekend traffic deaths resulted.

There were 19 reported traffic deaths around Ohio between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

In Youngstown, Herbert Foughty, 43, was killed Sunday when his car and the ambulance cracked up. A baby girl born to Mrs. Michael Mumaw, 20, was critically injured.

The Mumaws, who live in Mansfield, were visiting in Youngstown when the baby was born premature.

Police in Toledo were chasing a car at speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour when it crashed into a bridge abutment, flipped over the structure and fell 40 feet onto a set of railroad tracks.

That accident early Sunday claimed the lives of the driver, Sam A. Kinsler, 19, Cleveland, and a passenger.

CAP Squadron Event Draws 17

Seventeen members of East Liverpool CAP Squadron 307C attended a bivouac over the weekend at Bibbee's Little Roc Lake.

Cadets participated in physical fitness, obstacle course, first-aid class and practice ground rescue of simulated air crash survivors.

They attended Sunday morning church services conducted by Chaplain-Capt. Regis Scharf.

Cadets Ivaloe Lockhart, Beverly Meredith and Art Craven won an airplane ride in the obstacle course competition, with CAP Warrant Officer Ken Wilson the pilot.

The next meeting will be Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the lake. Lt. Don Poole, commander, will preside.

Airport Signing Now Set Tuesday

LISBON The county commissioners' signing of a grant agreement with the Federal Aviation Agency for the Columbiana County airport has been postponed until Tuesday morning.

Vincent Laneve of East Liverpool, chairman of the County Airport Authority, notified the commissioners that the FAA representative, who was to have been here today, will not be available until tomorrow.

Under the grant, the federal government will furnish $216,876 toward construction of the airport at the former Swaney Airport north of Glenmoor.

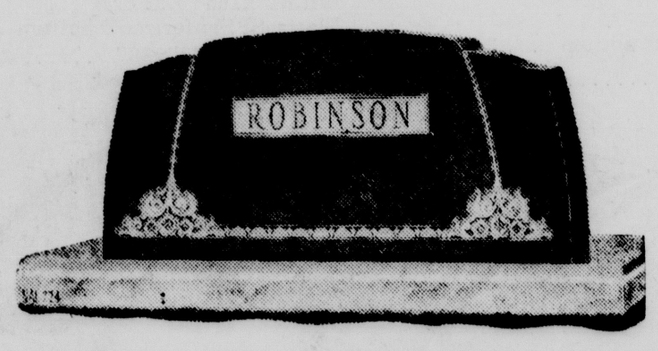

Roland A. Getz, Inc., of Mansfield bid the project at $155,018 in April and is awaiting word to begin work.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday will average near normal with highs in 80s and nighttime lows in the 60s. Cooler Tuesday, then warmer Wednesday and Thursday and cooler at end of week. Scattered showers mostly on Wednesday or Thursday expected to average one half inch or more.

Observes Birthday

Death By Cancer Faces Liver Transplant Infant

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — On Tuesday pixie-like Julie Cherie Rodriguez, 2, will have lived exactly a year—longer than anyone else known to medicine—with a transplated liver.

But for the parents Mr. and Mrs. John C. Rodriguez of Pueblo, Colo., the gratitude of reaching this milestone is tempered by knowledge that cancer—the disease that destroyed Julie's own liver—has reappeared elsewhere in her body and soon will claim her life.

"We're still grateful that we have had her another year said Rodriguez, a steel mill employe in Pueblo. "When at least she knows who her mommy is and who her daddy is," he said.

She Is First

When Julie received her new liver July 23, 1967, at the University of Colorado Medical Center, there were no known survivors of such operations. Now there are nine, including seven in Denver.

This group includes a 4-year-old Minnesota boy who received a new liver in an operation early Sunday. He was reported in satisfactory condition, as was a 1-year-old Texas boy who received a kidney from the same donor. Neither was identified.

Improved techniques of suppressing the body's natural tendency to reject the new organ—including the development of antilymphocyte globulin—helped the organ to continue to function.

But while the doctors succeeded in maintaining function of the transplanted liver, fighting the cancer was another matter. It kept reappearing in other areas.

Too Young To Know

The dark-haired little girl with the flashing eyes is too young to know her ordeal offers hope to thousands who have or will have a fatal, incurable liver ailment.

But her parents know.

"We know this will end Julie's life," Rodriguez said. But they also known the transplant itself was successful, and said more attention must be given the problem of finding the solution to cancer.

"We urge people to urge their legislators to appropriate more money for medical research, to find the cure for cancer and other diseases for which we don't have the answers," he said.

"I am a former Marine and I know we must stop communism, but we're spending too much money on the Vietnam war. We've got to think right now for our grandchildren—how to save them from disease; not just spend their money on war and space," he continued.

Canoeist, 78, Feted By Waterways Group

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Chester Kelley, 78, has canoed the Missouri River for 54 years, but Sunday he made a 15-mile trip down the river on "Chester Kelley Day."

The occasion was so named by the Ozark Wilderness Waterways Club, an organization of canoeists to honor Kelley for his efforts to obtain river marinas.

Kelley and 45 other members of the club made the trip in 21 canoes to participate in the dedication of a $70,000 marina.

The concrete boat launching ramp, an observation tower, parking and rest room facilities were built on a 50-50 basis by Jackson County and the federal government.

Plans are underway to build similar facilities at intervals of about 16-miles from Rulo, Neb. to the Mississippi River.

Man, 43, Killed In Collision Of Ambulance, Auto

By The Associated Press

An ambulance speeding a newborn child and mother to a hospital in Youngstown collided at an intersection with a car and one of Ohio's weekend traffic deaths resulted.

There were 19 reported traffic deaths around Ohio between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

In Youngstown, Herbert Foughty, 43, was killed Sunday when his car and the ambulance cracked up. A baby girl born to Mrs. Michael Mumaw, 20, was critically injured.

The Mumaws, who live in Mansfield, were visiting in Youngstown when the baby was born premature.

Police in Toledo were chasing a car at speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour when it crashed into a bridge abutment, flipped over the structure and fell 40 feet onto a set of railroad tracks.

That accident early Sunday claimed the lives of the driver, Sam A. Kinsler, 19, Cleveland, and a passenger.

CAP Squadron Event Draws 17

Seventeen members of East Liverpool CAP Squadron 307C attended a bivouac over the weekend at Bibbee's Little Roc Lake.

Cadets participated in physical fitness, obstacle course, first-aid class and practice ground rescue of simulated air crash survivors.

They attended Sunday morning church services conducted by Chaplain-Capt. Regis Scharf.

Cadets Ivaloe Lockhart, Beverly Meredith and Art Craven won an airplane ride in the obstacle course competition, with CAP Warrant Officer Ken Wilson the pilot.

The next meeting will be Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the lake. Lt. Don Poole, commander, will preside.

Airport Signing Now Set Tuesday

LISBON The county commissioners' signing of a grant agreement with the Federal Aviation Agency for the Columbiana County airport has been postponed until Tuesday morning.

Vincent Laneve of East Liverpool, chairman of the County Airport Authority, notified the commissioners that the FAA representative, who was to have been here today, will not be available until tomorrow.

Under the grant, the federal government will furnish $216,876 toward construction of the airport at the former Swaney Airport north of Glenmoor.

Roland A. Getz, Inc., of Mansfield bid the project at $155,018 in April and is awaiting word to begin work.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday will average near normal with highs in 80s and nighttime lows in the 60s. Cooler Tuesday, then warmer Wednesday and Thursday and cooler at end of week. Scattered showers mostly on Wednesday or Thursday expected to average one half inch or more.

Slaughter of St. Albans and Bernard Shelley of War.

Mrs. Finley succeeds Mrs. R. E. Presley of Beckley. Her one - year term began immediately and will expire in July 1969.

Mrs. Finley, a lifelong resident of Chester, is the widow of Clair C. Finley, a World War I veteran.

She is an active member of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Chester.

Mrs. Finley is a charter member of the Chester Auxiliary and has been active in the unit since she joined some 20 years ago. She has filled the office of president, plus all major and minor chairmanships.

In the Department of the Legion Auxiliary, she has served as first vice president, historian, Americanism, child welfare, membership and national security and legislative chairman.

Statewide, she also has served on the Board of Directors of Rhododendron Girls State and as a Senior Girls state counselor.

Mrs. Finley is a clerk in the Chester Water and Sewage Department.

Charles A. Kuhn of Fairmont was elected commander as the Legionnaires wound up their golden anniversary convention.

Kuhn, a postal emplove, succeeds John A. Jones of Weirton.

Charles E. Polley of Charleston was re-elected for a 15th term as treasurer and Tommy E. Jones of Charleston was appointed to his 17th term as state adjutant.

Other officials elected Sunday include: Historian, C. B. Allman of Moundsville; judge advocate, Charles E. Forsythe of Clarksburg; sergeant-at-arms, B. H. Cassell of Beckley; national executive committeeman, L. O. Bickel of Fairmont, and alternate national executive committeeman, E. D. Hardman of Charleston.

Kuhn has been active in Legion affairs since 1947. A post office employe for 28 years, he is a graduate of West Fairmont High School and holds an AB degree from Fairmont State College.

The 55-year-old native of Gypsy in Harrison County was a public schoolteacher and bookkeeper for the First National Bank of Fairmont before joining the postal service. He is active in the Central Methodist Church at Fairmont, having served as member of the church's official board, chairman of the church board, membership cultivation superintendent and Sunday School teacher of the adult Bible class.

Kuhn served overseas with the Army during World War II in Brazil, Africa, India, Burma and China. He has served the Legion in many capacities on the post, district, state and national levels. His department service includes state chairman of the Child Welfare Division since 1957, except for a one-year interval.

nomination," this governor said, asking that his name not be used. "But there's something lacking. He doesn't seem to be catching on, catching fire. I don't know what it is."

Hoff said he believes at least four more Democratic governors share that concern. He said he planned to confer with them, beginning today.

Curtis said of Humphrey's possible choice of Kennedy as a vice presidential nominee. "I think if he were to choose Sen. Kennedy as a running mate, that would be a dramatic influence," he said.

The lack of significant movement among the Republicans appeared to work to the advantage of the front-running Nixon.

Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes, an uncommitted favorite son, gave this assessment of Rockefeller's rival campaign: "I can't see that there have been any pronounced effects."

Ohio Youth Commission to "engage in activities aimed at the prevention, reduction and control of juvenile delinquency and with federal, state and other public and private agencies having like objectives."

Montgomery's duties will include apprehension of offenders; interviewing juveniles taken into custody, along with their parents; investigation of alleged offenses involving juveniles.

Referral of juveniles to various agencies; preventive surveillance of juvenile gathering places; development of working relationships and programs with schools and community agencies, and representation of the police department in community planning and public relations.

East Liverpool was one of 47 cities that applied and received the grants. The state has guaranteed the subsidy for a year. Participating cities will be eligible to apply for continued subsidies.

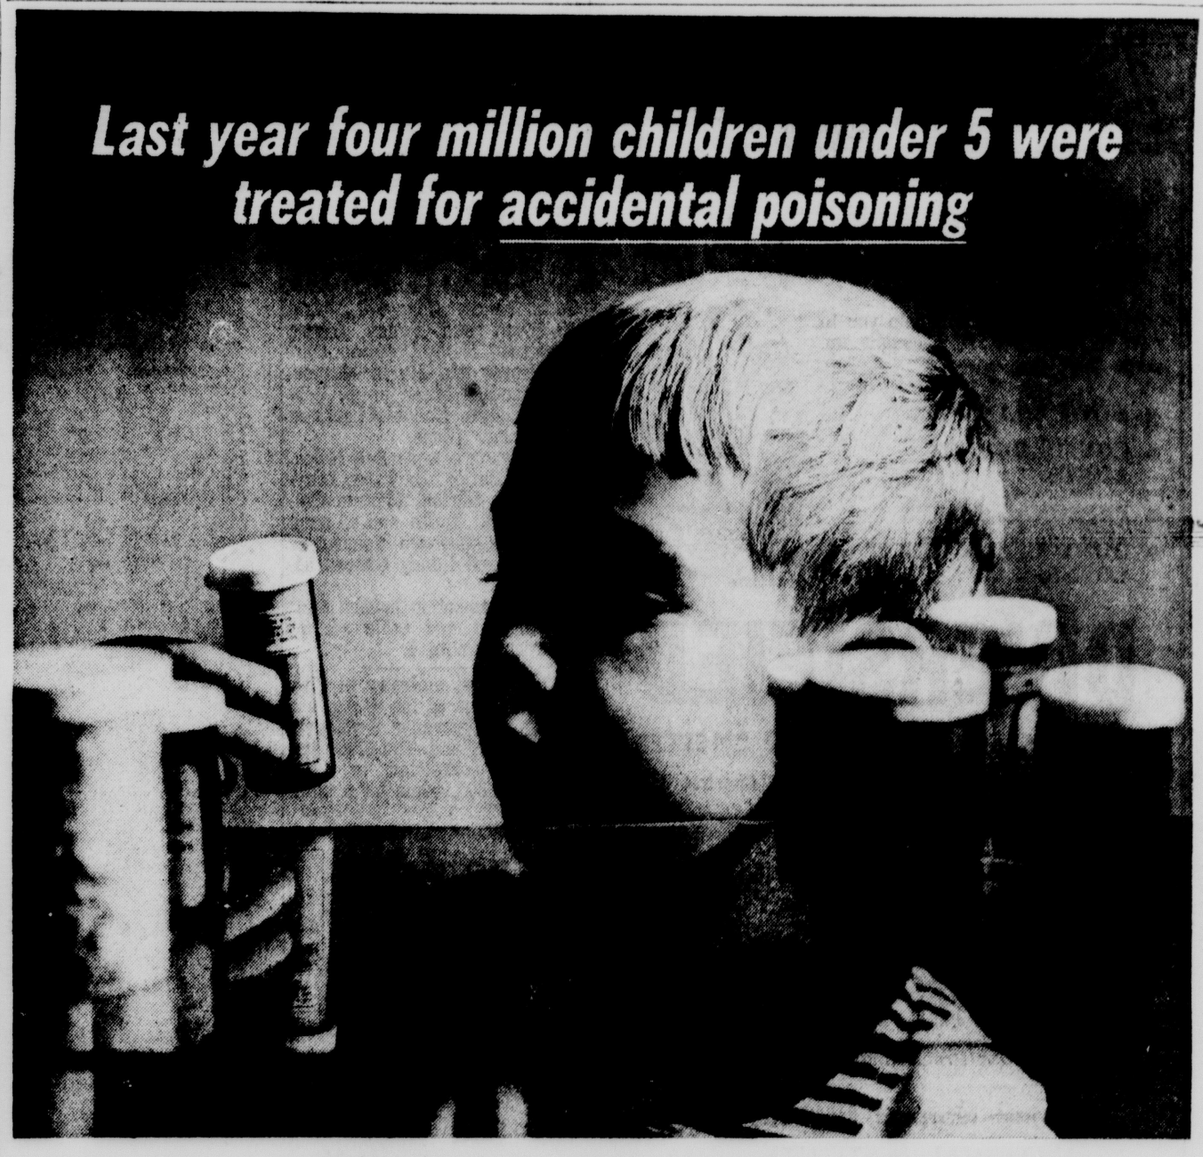

In making the appointment, Vodrey said in the letter, "We thank you for your past cooperation and we feel sure, with your experience and training, you will be an asset to the city in this new department."

Last year four million children under 5 were treated for accidental poisoning

If you have children, ask for a "Safety Cap" container when Peoples fills your prescriptions

Many threats to children's health have been conquered by science. Now a new container for all your capsule and tablet prescriptions adds one more protection: the "Safety Cap" bottle, to safeguard medicine from eager little hands. Last year four million children under age 5 were treated for accidental poisoning. Extensive tests show few of them could have performed the two motions, palming and turning, necessary to open this new safety container.

All drugs should be locked out of children's reach, but accidents happen. If just a few children can be spared the agony of child-poisoning as a result of this new container, Peoples will be grateful. If there are children in your home, or you often have young visitors, ask for the Safety Close container when Peoples fills your prescription. Since 1905 all Peoples Drug Stores have filled more than 100 million prescriptions. A measure of the trust people have in Peoples.

Mrs. Finley succeeds Mrs. R. E. Presley of Beckley. Her one - year term began immediately and will expire in July 1969.

Mrs. Finley, a lifelong resident of Chester, is the widow of Clair C. Finley, a World War I veteran.

She is an active member of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Chester.

Mrs. Finley is a charter member of the Chester Auxiliary and has been active in the unit since she joined some 20 years ago. She has filled the office of president, plus all major and minor chairmanships.

In the Department of the Legion Auxiliary, she has served as first vice president, historian, Americanism, child welfare, membership and national security and legislative chairman.

Statewide, she also has served on the Board of Directors of Rhododendron Girls State and as a Senior Girls state counselor.

Mrs. Finley is a clerk in the Chester Water and Sewage Department.

Charles A. Kuhn of Fairmont was elected commander as the Legionnaires wound up their golden anniversary convention.

Kuhn, a postal emplove, succeeds John A. Jones of Weirton.

Charles E. Polley of Charleston was re-elected for a 15th term as treasurer and Tommy E. Jones of Charleston was appointed to his 17th term as state adjutant.

Other officials elected Sunday include: Historian, C. B. Allman of Moundsville; judge advocate, Charles E. Forsythe of Clarksburg; sergeant-at-arms, B. H. Cassell of Beckley; national executive committeeman, L. O. Bickel of Fairmont, and alternate national executive committeeman, E. D. Hardman of Charleston.

Kuhn has been active in Legion affairs since 1947. A post office employe for 28 years, he is a graduate of West Fairmont High School and holds an AB degree from Fairmont State College.

The 55-year-old native of Gypsy in Harrison County was a public schoolteacher and bookkeeper for the First National Bank of Fairmont before joining the postal service. He is active in the Central Methodist Church at Fairmont, having served as member of the church's official board, chairman of the church board, membership cultivation superintendent and Sunday School teacher of the adult Bible class.

Kuhn served overseas with the Army during World War II in Brazil, Africa, India, Burma and China. He has served the Legion in many capacities on the post, district, state and national levels. His department service includes state chairman of the Child Welfare Division since 1957, except for a one-year interval.

If you have children, ask for a "Safety Cap" container when Peoples fills your prescriptions
Many threats to children's health have been conquered by science. Now a new container for all your capsule and tablet prescriptions adds one more protection: the "Safety Cap" bottle, to safeguard medicine from eager little hands. Last year four million children under age 5 were treated for accidental poisoning. Extensive tests show few of them could have performed the two motions, palming and turning, necessary to open this new safety container.
All drugs should be locked out of children's reach, but accidents happen. If just a few children can be spared the agony of child-poisoning as a result of this new container, Peoples will be grateful. If there are children in your home, or you often have young visitors, ask for the Safety Close container when Peoples fills your prescription. Since 1905 all Peoples Drug Stores have filled more than 100 million prescriptions. A measure of the trust people have in Peoples.

Corn 'Dunked' For Taste

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR FOLKS: Once in awhile—and that means just once in awhile—if you're real sweet to a restaurateur and brag on one special dish, he may eventually give you the recipe for something he's famous for.

Heloise

I've always wondered how restaurants keep corn on the cob from drying out.

Anyhow, the best corn I've ever eaten was at a cafeteria. The corn looked like it was in milky water, but oh what a good taste it had. After eating at this neighborhood place a few times and getting on the friendly side of the manager, he told me his secret.

He said it was boiled in water that contained a little bacon grease and a teaspoon of sugar. And before putting the corn out on the steam table, he put some oleo and a wee bit of milk in the pan. Then slowly poured in his hot water, "dunking" the corn underneath it.

I've tried this method at home and find it absolutely number one.

I also learned that if there was any leftover corn, to put it completely under water in a wide-mouth jar and put it in the refrigerator. It will keep two or three days this way.

And you know what? Cold corn is wonderful when cut off the cob and sprinkled on top of a lettuce and tomato salad.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When traveling with my children, I attach a small plastic shoe bag to the back of the front car seat.

It holds small toys and possessions the children always want to carry with them and are usually scattered about the car.

HAPPY MOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: Please warn mothers about leaving electric knives laying around.

When through using, always disconnect it from the wall plug immediately.

A friend's daughter dropped the knife, picked it up and touched the button by mistake. She was badly cut.

SOPHIA RUSS.

You are so right, Sophia. Electric knives are wonderful to use, but should be handled carefully.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those mothers with small babies who don't have a car bed, I've found the most practical and inexpensive thing in the world. A plastic, wicker-like, laundry basket.

I place a large folded blanket in the bottom of a basket, then placed a small pillow on top.

This makes a very comfortable bed for home or travel. In the car, I always secure the seat belt around the basket.

Not only does it make a good car bed, but after the baby is older, it can be used again for its original purpose.

THINKIN' MOM.

DEAR HELOISE: Does anyone know how to preserve fresh fruit, such as strawberries, pears and peaches, in a home freezer so that when thawed they are not musky and turn dark quickly?

I have not been successful with mine. I need help

JOHN E. NOBBS.

How about it gals? Our friend, John, needs help. Let's not let him down. Just pick up that pencil and write to Heloise in care of this paper. Sure would love to hear from you.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I read the hint about reaching a window shade cord if it was too high with a wire coat hanger. Well, I think I have a better idea.

Make a "hook pole" out of an old broom handle and put a giant cuphook in the end.

I use this to pull down shades, adjust valances, etc.

It is so handy and I find many uses for it.

ANN LANDERS

Husband Pouts Over Pet

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Our dog Rags was a faithful family friend for nearly 14 years. Since Christmas Rags had been moving so slowly it was painful for me to watch him. His eyesight was nearly gone and he kept bumping into things.

I mentioned to my husband that perhaps it would be best if we had the vet put Rags to sleep. My husband blew his top — said it would be like murdering a friend. I never mentioned it again.

Friday evening I let Rags out for a few minutes and the next thing I knew he was involved in a three-dog fight. I ran out immediately. Rags was not hurt but he was breathing hard. Ten minutes later I saw him lying under the table very still. I knew at once he was dead.

I drove Rags to the vet although I was sure it was too late. The vet said he had died of a heart attack.

When my husband came home I told him the bad news immediately. He flew into a rage — said I had killed his dog because of my stupidity — that I had let him get into the fight. He phoned relatives and told them I was an idiot and a murderer. (My sister hung up on him.)

Three days have passed and he still refuses to speak to me. Please tell me what to do about this awful situation. — NOT GUILTY.

Dear Not: There's no point trying to talk sense to a man who is not rational, so stop trying. Eventually your husband will recover from his grief and settle down. Perhaps if you bought him another dog it would help. I recommend it.

Overdue Praise

Dear Ann: I have yet to read a kind word in your column about a mother-in-law. If one is to be said it will have to come from a reader because you are clearly against them.

Your portrayal of the typical mother-in-law is unfair. You see her as a horned creature who clings desperately to her son (or daughter) — a domineering shrew who makes trouble, spoils the grandchildren and insists on being included in vacations.

My mother-in-law is the kindest, wisest, most considerate woman in the world. She keeps her life filled with interesting things and we consider ourselves lucky when we can get her company. Our children adore her and value her opinions. Our friends often include her when they send us an invitation, but she rarely accepts.

I recall vividly when my husband and I were newlyweds (18 years ago) and we became involved in an argument. My husband turned to his mother and said, "What is your opinion?" She thought a moment and replied, "My opinion is worthless. This is between you and your wife. The only opinions that count are yours."

I'm asking you to print this letter because I'm sure there must be other wonderful mothers-in-law who do not fit the image your column portrays. They deserve a good word. — LOVE MY MOTHER-IN-LAW.

-:-

Dear Love: Here's your letter, and with it I'm blowing a kiss to that great lady. I know there are such mothers-in-law in the world, because I have one, too.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Pittsburgh Youth Sets Drum Playing Record

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Roy Capenos kept a music store jumping for 51 hours and 10 minutes and claimed the world's drumming record when he stopped.

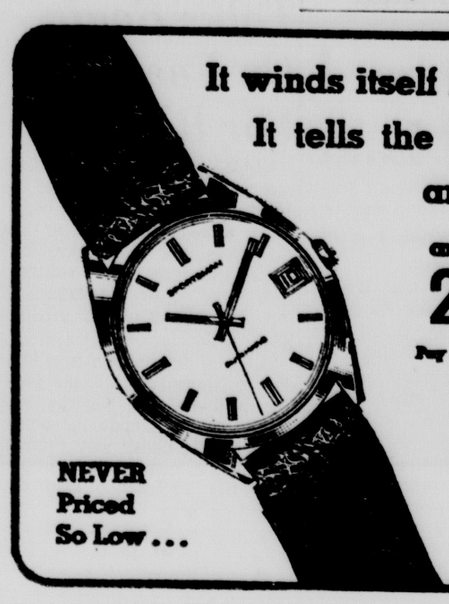

Backed up at times by The Clementine Paddleford Memorial Public Band, a rock 'n roll group, Capenos set out Friday around 4 p.m. to beat the old record of 49 hours and 50 minutes he set last summer. He stopped at 7:25 p.m. Sunday.

When Capenos finished up at the Crossroads Music center in the Pittsburgh suburb of McMurray, he said he was going swimming at a friend's house. He went to sleep instead.

Hancock Figures Are Tops In Two Teaching Areas

The Hancock County school system will pay the highest maximum salary for a teacher with bachelor's and master's degrees in West Virginia, according to figures released from Charleston.

Hancock's figure for a bachelor's degree is $8,735 and for a master's degree $9,432.

Beginning teachers with a bachelor's degree will receive anywhere from $4,320 to $6,000 this coming school year in West Virginia, depending upon the district in which they're teaching.

Randolph, Webster, Tucker, Pocahontas, Braxton and Barbour counties will pay the lowest figure, while Kanawha County teachers will top the salary scale, figures released by the state education association show.

The maximum salary paid in Barbour, Monroe, Pocahontas, Randolph, Tucker and Webster counties for teachers with a bachelors will be $5,880, the lowest in the state.

For teachers with a master's degree, the salaries range from the low of $4,820 in Barbour, Braxton, Monroe, Pocahontas, Randolph, Tucker and Webster counties to the high of $9,432 in Hancock.

Winners Are Announced In Fishing Event At Lake

Hundreds continued to pour into the Highlandtown Wildlife Area Sunday to visit the new lake which was officially opened to public fishing Saturday.

Winners were announced today in the fishing contest sponsored by The Review in conjunction with the openings.

They were Wilfred Burnip of Salineville, Bob Williams of Lisbon St., Terry Miller of Wellsville RD 1, Jim Milinger of 908 Crestview Dr., Ronnie Greathouse of Salineville, Charles Hetherington of Louisville, William J. Patterson of 1917 Nevada St., Wellsville, Mrs. Grace Mobley of 1797 Clark Ave., Wellsville, and Cindy Andrews of Youngstown.

Burnip registered the biggest catfish of the day—18¾ inches—while the largest bluegill caught was the 8-incher registered by Miller. He was followed closely by Millinger who caught a bluegill measuring just an eighth of an inch smaller.

Jesse Weaver of Akron, supervisor for District 3 of the Division of Wildlife, today reminded fishermen that the restrictions placed on fishing in the lake will be strictly enforced. It is illegal to keep any bass or muskellunge caught from the lake. All other species of fish may be kept, he pointed out.

Weaver said this rule will be enforced to the fullest, adding additional game protectors have been assigned to work in Columbiana County in the lake area to assist Ralph Drake, county officer.

Any violators of the rule will be prosecuted, Weaver warned. The restrictions will be lifted in September 1969. They were imposed to give the bass and muskellunge, which are predators, a chance to develop and keep the small species, such as bluegills, from becoming overpopulated in the lake.

Talks Begin On Food Aid For Biafrans

NIAMEY, Niger (AP) — Representatives of Nigeria and secessionist Biafra have begun talks aimed at breaking the stalemate that is keeping food from millions of refugees threatened with starvation in the breakaway West African tribal state.

The two delegations met Sunday in Niamey, the Niger capital northwest of Nigeria and agreed on an agenda for peace talks getting under way soon in Ethiopia. A communique issued after the conference said the delegates also discussed "concrete proposals for the transportation of relief to the civilian victims of the war."

There was no indication, however, of any progress toward agreement on relief measures.

Another meeting was scheduled today. It was expected to discuss a starting date for the peace conference in Addis Ababa.

1,200 Die Daily

Millions of persons are on the verge of starvation and as many as 1,200 persons are said to be dying daily in surrounded, landlocked Biafra and in areas recaptured by advancing federal troops.

Federal authorities have offered to open a land route for relief shipments to Biafra, but the Biafrans have refused, claiming the supplies might be poisoned by their enemies. Meantime, a handful of airplanes have been flying food and medicine into Biaraf, despite Nigerian threats to shoot them down, but this is not nearly enough.

Sources at the talks here indicated the delegates were considering a proposal by the Biafran leader Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, for relief supplies to be landed by sea at Aguta, in the Niger River delta, and at the federally held city of Port Harcourt, and then for it to be sent north by demilitarized river routes.

President Hamani Diori of Niger, chairman of the talks being sponsored by the Organization of African Unity, also conferred with U.S. Ambassador Robert Ryan and British Charge d'Affaires E. Macmillan from the Ivory Coast. Both countries have promised to assist relief operations.

Vatican Aid Sent

Pope Paul VI, speaking at his summer residence outside Rome, said Sunday that the Vatican had hired airplanes to send food and medicine to Biafrans.

From Biafra, Associated Press correspondent David Mazzarella reported the food situation is so bad that doctors at one hospital are telling outpatients to eat bush rats, bats, tutles, grasshoppers, lizards, snails and frogs. At the Holy Rosary Mission Hospital in Emekuku, he reported painracked babies lay dying two in a bed, older children and adults walked around the wards in a daze. On the morning newsmen visited the hospital, nurses tried to waken three children and found them dead.

Support Poles Topple

60 Hurt As Show Tent Collapses At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) A giant show tent filled to capacity for a festival music program collapsed in a wind storm Sunday night, scattering a crowd of 2,500 persons.

Officials said about 40 persons were treated at hospitals for injuries, none serious. Most of the victims were teen-agers struck by falling tent poles.

An estimated 20 other persons were treated at a first aid station.

Police, spectators and show officials said there generally was little sign of panic as support poles toppled into the tightly packed crowd, and sparks showered from overhead electric equipment.

One woman said the audience was watching a band about to start the program when "all of a sudden, the wind came underneath the tent and it started flying up" releasing the poles.

One of the injured, Miss Mary Pointek, 15, said she heard "a howling noise and a big ripping above me. The poles started swaying back and forth. I thought it was all part of the show at first. All of a sudden, everything collapsed around me."

Witnesses said the winds, accompanying a line of thunderstorms, lifted the canvas twice before it collapsed and cloaked about half the seating area.

Police said most of the audience got clear of the wreckage within 15 minutes, but that many people were still entangled in rope and canvas 45 minutes later.

The tent, covering an area larger than a football field, had been erected at a Lake Michigan shorefront park for a series of programs during the city's Summerfest '38, keyed to youth activities.

Steven Thorpe of Chicago, a trumpet player with the New Colony Six, which was beginning its performance, said a pole "hit me in the side of the head and knocked me off the stage."

A few persons said they thought they saw funnel-shaped clouds over Lake Michigan. But the Weather Bureau said there were no twisters in the storm that swept the state.

Teachers Union May Set Pittsburgh Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers says its members may resign in mass if they lose pay raises for striking last March.

Under the State Public Employe Act of 1947, teachers taking part in illegal strikes are penalized by loss of pay raises, among other provisions.

"Unless something is done before September about this no raise provision of the law, through legislation or without legislation, we may recommend that our members resign from the city's public schools," said Federation President Al Fondy Sunday.

Fondy said a meeting of the union's 27-member executive committee set for today might recommend the mass resigna-

GI's Support Gun Control Law In U.S.

SAIGON (AP) — An informal survey among American combat troops whose lives depend on their weapons shows a strong sentiment for moderate to strong gun control laws in the United States.

But at the same time, most of the GIs interviewed on Saigon's outer defense perimeter said they thought short of confiscation controls would do little to cut down on gun deaths.

Spec. 5 Jerry Ballard of Kansas City, Mo., said, "I'm a member of the National Rifle Association (NRA) and I'm against confiscation. But I think mandatory registration of weapons is okay. A gun is no different from a car as far as that goes. And stopping mail order sales is a good idea."

Lt. Alfred Pick of Dallas, Tex., said proposed gun laws seemed "ridiculous. Crooks and assassins can always get a gun whether it is registered or not." Pick said he was not opposed to reasonable gun laws.

Spec. 4 Paul Young of Burbank, Calif., said as a devoted hunter, he would not mind gun registration laws but added: "No matter what gun laws they pass, if someone really wants a gun he'll find a way to get it. And don't forget, it's the people who do the killing, not the gun. Weapons are not bad by themselves."

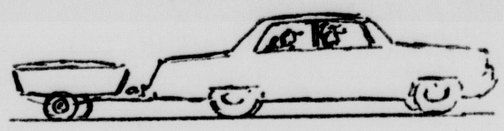

"A lot of guys worry about registration because they think it may eventually violate their right to bear arms," said Spec. 4 John Krumpus of Des Plaines, Ill.

"But I think it's a great idea to register and license weapons in the United States. I've seen what these things can do to people and there ought to be some sort of control.

"But if a guy is crazy enough to kill (in the United States), he'll find a way to get a weapon. If there's no pistol or rifle around, he'll use a baseball bat."

Winners Are Announced In Fishing Event At Lake

Hundreds continued to pour into the Highlandtown Wildlife Area Sunday to visit the new lake which was officially opened to public fishing Saturday.

Winners were announced today in the fishing contest sponsored by The Review in conjunction with the openings.

They were Wilfred Burnip of Salineville, Bob Williams of Lisbon St., Terry Miller of Wellsville RD 1, Jim Milinger of 908 Crestview Dr., Ronnie Greathouse of Salineville, Charles Hetherington of Louisville, William J. Patterson of 1917 Nevada St., Wellsville, Mrs. Grace Mobley of 1797 Clark Ave., Wellsville, and Cindy Andrews of Youngstown.

Burnip registered the biggest catfish of the day—18¾ inches—while the largest bluegill caught was the 8-incher registered by Miller. He was followed closely by Millinger who caught a bluegill measuring just an eighth of an inch smaller.

Jesse Weaver of Akron, supervisor for District 3 of the Division of Wildlife, today reminded fishermen that the restrictions placed on fishing in the lake will be strictly enforced. It is illegal to keep any bass or muskellunge caught from the lake. All other species of fish may be kept, he pointed out.

Weaver said this rule will be enforced to the fullest, adding additional game protectors have been assigned to work in Columbiana County in the lake area to assist Ralph Drake, county officer.

Any violators of the rule will be prosecuted, Weaver warned. The restrictions will be lifted in September 1969. They were imposed to give the bass and muskellunge, which are predators, a chance to develop and keep the small species, such as bluegills, from becoming overpopulated in the lake.

Talks Begin On Food Aid For Biafrans

NIAMEY, Niger (AP) — Representatives of Nigeria and secessionist Biafra have begun talks aimed at breaking the stalemate that is keeping food from millions of refugees threatened with starvation in the breakaway West African tribal state.

The two delegations met Sunday in Niamey, the Niger capital northwest of Nigeria and agreed on an agenda for peace talks getting under way soon in Ethiopia. A communique issued after the conference said the delegates also discussed "concrete proposals for the transportation of relief to the civilian victims of the war."

There was no indication, however, of any progress toward agreement on relief measures.

Another meeting was scheduled today. It was expected to discuss a starting date for the peace conference in Addis Ababa.

2 Fail Bid To Crash Elvis Presley Estate

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Two men in a big car tried a little gate crashing at the Elvis Presley estate here Sunday, but went away the losers.

Guard Fred Stoll told officers the two rammed their car into a big iron gate at the "Graceland" mansion. But they retreated quickly when the gate—which features a huge wrought iron profile of Presley—wouldn't budge. The car was damaged.

Seven Riders Qualified For Ohio's Finals

LISBON — Four girls and three boys qualified for state fair horse show competition by winning their classes at the Columbiana County 4-H event Sunday at the fairgrounds.

Approximately 200 attended the show. There were 59 entries.

Competition in two halter classes and two horsemanship classes was limited to 4-H Club members. All other categories were open to all youths under 19.

Winning trips to Columbus were Connie Knecht and Lois Long, both of Lisbon and members of the Lisbon Hi Riders Club; Diane Thompson of Hanoverton, Franklin Township 4-H'ers; Lonna Reichenbach of North Georgetown, Circle 62 Club; Scott Kleon of Winona, Larry Kuyper of Lisbon RD 4 and Gary Booth of New Waterford, all members of the Just Rite 4-H Club.

Elmer Knecht of Lisbon, chairman of the 4-H Saddle Horse Committee, and Tom Mollenkopf of East Palestine, summer 4-H assistant, were in charge.

Area Serbs Plan Annual Fete At Kennywood Park

The 51st annual "Serbian Day" will be held July 29 at Kennywood Park, Pittsburgh with tri-state residents of Serbian descent gathering for the event.

Sponsored by the National Serb Federation, this is one of the largest reunions of Balkan people in this country. Hundreds of lambs will be barbecued for the occasion as has always been the custom, this being the traditional Serb festive food.

The program at the Starvue Plaza at 6 p.m., will feature nationality music and gaily costumed dancers. Master of ceremonies will be D. J. Ljubenko. Guest speaker will be Allegheny County Commissioner Leonard C. Staisey.

Robert (Rade) Stone, president of the National Serb Federation will also speak.

Michalene Vukelich of Akron, Ohio will sing with the Balkan Seranders of Youngstown.

Mel Evanovich will be featured on the violin.

Young Farmers From Britain Are Guests In County

LISBON — Two Columbiana County farm families are hosts this week to young British farmers on tour of the U.S. with the Young Farmers Club of England.

Roy Collins of Warwickshire, one of the leaders of the group of 85 tourists, is the "extra hand" at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris Winona.

Miss Jean Reay of Herefordshire is the working guest of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zehentbauer of Dungannon.

The host families met their guests Saturday at Ohio State University and will take them back to Columbus Saturday. The tour party arrived in Boston July 14 and will leave for England Aug. 1 from New York City.

Motorist Fined And Two Forfeit

A city motorist was fined and two others forfeited bonds on traffic light violations in Municipal Court today.

William E. Chestnut, 18, of Glenmoor was fined $10 and costs on a charge of "crashing" the light at Dresden and E. 6th St. Thursday. He pleaded innocent.

Arthur Lee McCune of Sebring and Frank E. Kraft of 233 Center St. each forfeited $17.50 bonds when they failed to appear before Judge Samuel Chertoff. McCune was arrested Sunday on Dresden Ave. at Weber Way and Kraft was cited early today at Washington and 5th Sts.

Orlan J. Ancrile of 517 Penn Ave., Midland, forfeited a $22.50 bond when he failed to appear on a charge of speeding 46 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on Harvey Ave. Friday.

Four men charged with intoxication were fined a total of $110 and costs. Two were ordered to County Jail in default of payment and another was ordered confined to City Jail to "lay out" the fine and costs.

Conductor Claimed

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Conductor Joseph Keilbertt, 60, died in a hospital Saturday night after he collapsed with a heart attack while directing an opera at the National Theater. Keilbertt led several orchestras before becoming conductor of the Bavarian State Opera in 1959.

Wooden beams in Westminster Abbey's richly carved roof have been chewed to sawdust by deathwatch beetles — the bane of many of Britain's stately homes and edifices.

4 Jaycees Attend Meeting Of State Group At Euclid

Four East Liverpool Jaycees attended the All - State meeting at Euclid over the weekend, and received recognition for a "Blue Chip" award for membership increase and activities.

Representing the city club were Richard Darrah, president, and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beatty and Charles Lang.

The business meeting included local officer training sessions, a leadership training seminar and the Ohio Jaycees Trustees meeting.

National directors and state chairmen presented forums on all of the Jaycee programs.

Conducting the leadership training program was Jack D. Shaw, leadership training specialist at Oklahoma Center for Continuing Education, University of Oklahoma. Topic areas covered by Shaw were motivation toward achievement, management style questioning, communications and leadership. Business sessions were also conducted for the wives in attendance.

Ohio Lt. Gov. John Brown addressed the Sunday noon luncheon which was preceeded by the Ohio Jaycees Trustees meeting.

The Ohio Jaycees whose membership totals 14,000, and is the largest in the U.S. Jaycees, are headed by state president Gordon B. Thomas of Toledo.

Three eligibility requirements are prescribed by the Constitution for the presidency: A person must be a natural-born citizen, have attained the age of 35 years and have been 14 years a resident within the United States.

Driver Charged In Area Mishap

A 17-year-old Minerva youth was cited after a collision involving a Wellsville driver's auto on Route 172 near Guilford Sunday.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Steven C. Crea of 984 Main St. was stopped about a mile east of Route 9 to make a left turn, and his 1965 coach was struck from behind by a 1967 auto driven by James D. Holderbaum of Minerva RD 2.

The latter was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Richard Armstrong, 17, of Westmont, Ill., escaped injury yesterday at 1:20 a.m. when his 1967 coach veered off Route 45 about a mile north of Wellsville and went into a ditch.

According to tradition, Joseph of Arimathea founded the first Christian church in England.

Area Serbs Plan Annual Fete At Kennywood Park

The 51st annual "Serbian Day" will be held July 29 at Kennywood Park, Pittsburgh with tri-state residents of Serbian descent gathering for the event.

Sponsored by the National Serb Federation, this is one of the largest reunions of Balkan people in this country. Hundreds of lambs will be barbecued for the occasion as has always been the custom, this being the traditional Serb festive food.

The program at the Starvue Plaza at 6 p.m., will feature nationality music and gaily costumed dancers. Master of ceremonies will be D. J. Ljubenko. Guest speaker will be Allegheny County Commissioner Leonard C. Staisey.

Robert (Rade) Stone, president of the National Serb Federation will also speak.

Michalene Vukelich of Akron, Ohio will sing with the Balkan Seranders of Youngstown.

Mel Evanovich will be featured on the violin.

Young Farmers From Britain Are Guests In County

LISBON — Two Columbiana County farm families are hosts this week to young British farmers on tour of the U.S. with the Young Farmers Club of England.

Roy Collins of Warwickshire, one of the leaders of the group of 85 tourists, is the "extra hand" at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris Winona.

Miss Jean Reay of Herefordshire is the working guest of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zehentbauer of Dungannon.

The host families met their guests Saturday at Ohio State University and will take them back to Columbus Saturday. The tour party arrived in Boston July 14 and will leave for England Aug. 1 from New York City.

Motorist Fined And Two Forfeit

A city motorist was fined and two others forfeited bonds on traffic light violations in Municipal Court today.

William E. Chestnut, 18, of Glenmoor was fined $10 and costs on a charge of "crashing" the light at Dresden and E. 6th St. Thursday. He pleaded innocent.

Arthur Lee McCune of Sebring and Frank E. Kraft of 233 Center St. each forfeited $17.50 bonds when they failed to appear before Judge Samuel Chertoff. McCune was arrested Sunday on Dresden Ave. at Weber Way and Kraft was cited early today at Washington and 5th Sts.

Orlan J. Anerile of 517 Penn Ave., Midland, forfeited a $22.50 bond when he failed to appear on a charge of speeding 46 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on Harvey Ave. Friday.

Four men charged with intoxication were fined a total of $110 and costs. Two were ordered to County Jail in default of payment and another was ordered confined to City Jail to "lay out" the fine and costs.

Conductor Claimed

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Conductor Joseph Keilbertt, 60, died in a hospital Saturday night after he collapsed with a heart attack while directing an opera at the National Theater. Keilbertt led several orchestras before becoming conductor of the Bavarian State Opera in 1959.

Wooden beams in Westminster Abbey's richly carved roof have been chewed to sawdust by deathwatch beetles — the bane of many of Britain's stately homes and edifices.

4 Jaycees Attend Meeting Of State Group At Euclid

Four East Liverpool Jaycees attended the All - State meeting at Euclid over the weekend, and received recognition for a "Blue Chip" award for membership increase and activities.

Representing the city club were Richard Darrah, president, and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beatty and Charles Lang.

The business meeting included local officer training sessions, a leadership training seminar and the Ohio Jaycees Trustees meeting.

National directors and state chairmen presented forums on all of the Jaycee programs.

Conducting the leadership training program was Jack D. Shaw, leadership training specialist at Oklahoma Center for Continuing Education, University of Oklahoma. Topic areas covered by Shaw were motivation toward achievement, management style questioning, communications and leadership. Business sessions were also conducted for the wives in attendance.

Ohio Lt. Gov. John Brown addressed the Sunday noon luncheon which was preceeded by the Ohio Jaycees Trustees meeting.

The Ohio Jaycees whose membership totals 14,000, and is the largest in the U.S. Jaycees, are headed by state president Gordon B. Thomas of Toledo.

Three eligibility requirements are prescribed by the Constitution for the presidency: A person must be a natural-born citizen, have attained the age of 35 years and have been 14 years a resident within the United States.

Driver Charged In Area Mishap

A 17-year-old Minerva youth was cited after a collision involving a Wellsville driver's auto on Route 172 near Guilford Sunday.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Steven C. Crea of 984 Main St. was stopped about a mile east of Route 9 to make a left turn, and his 1965 coach was struck from behind by a 1967 auto driven by James D. Holderbaum of Minerva RD 2.

The latter was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Richard Armstrong, 17, of Westmont, Ill., escaped injury yesterday at 1:20 a.m. when his 1967 coach veered off Route 45 about a mile north of Wellsville and went into a ditch.

According to tradition, Joseph of Arimathea founded the first Christian church in England.

If Plumbing 'Chatters', Listen!

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There are few household noises as disconcerting as the banging and chattering of plumbing.

Sometimes, when you open or close a faucet, you would swear that the pipes were going to pull themselves apart.

The assumption is not too far from wrong. Aside from the annoyance, there is a danger that the surge of water that causes the disturbing sounds will damage unsupported pipes and weaken threaded joints.

IN THE beginning the noise is a warning. Eliminate it right away and you can avoid costly repairs later on.

The sort of minor chattering that occurs when a faucet is partially opened is easiest to correct. You also may hear a whistling sound. The problem is right in the faucet.

Take the faucet apart and check the washer. It may be loose or the screw that holds it broken or corroded. The washer also may be damaged. Replace the washer and-or the brass screw.

The chattering and vibration also may be due to improperly supported pipes.

There should be hanger straps supporting the pipes from wall studs or ceiling joists. Pipes should not be right up against a beam or you will get a noise from expansion.

The hammering noise that is so disturbing occurs when there is a sudden stoppage of water when a faucet is closed. With the sudden interruption in the flow, the water bounces against the pipe and the force is quite strong.

MOST plumbing systems provide a means to cushion this shock. An air chamber is provided in the form of a two- or three-foot length of pipe set in the cold water line. The pipe is capped to seal in air. When the stoppage causes an impact, the air compresses and absorbs the shock.

Most plumbing systems have an air chamber at the end of a water pipe above the highest faucet. But they can be put in most anywhere.

Just tap a T-fitting into the line for the extra opening. You can create air chambers with just a few inches of pipe for individual faucets. Install Ts in place of elbows and install capped airtraps.

Use pipe of the same diameter already in use.

If there is an air chamber in the system, check it to see if it has become filled with water.

The pipe will have to be drained, replaced and resealed.

Noises will occur in hot water systems. The hot water entering the cold pipes causes expanion that can be noisy. A coil of pipe in the water line close to the water heater will eliminate this.

IF YOU can't find such a coil ready-made, make one by coiling ⅜-inch copper tubing around a jar or other cylinder about three inches in diameter. Make about six turns. Crimp and solder one end to seal it. Install the other end in a T in the hot-water line.

Sometimes just turning your thermostat down a little will stop the noise. The water should be heated to more than 160 degrees. If it gets hotter than this, steam will start rumbling through the pipes. If turning down the thermostat has no effect, have it checked. It may need adjusting.

Steel Awaits July Record

CLEVELAND (AP) — Consumer stockpiling of steel is expected to make July the biggest month in history for mill shipments, Steel Magazine said Monday.

Steel predicted shipments will be between 10.3 million net tons and 10.5 million during July beating the previous record of 10.1 million net tons in April 1965, another strike threat year.

The metalworking weekly said mills expect to be up-to-date on current deliveries by Aug. 1 when United Steelworkers are free to strike.

The greatest problem for steel mills was shipping and customers have been asked to take shipments by trucks rather than rail, and vice versa, the magazine added.

Steel hauling railcars have been in short supply for months; now it's a matter of obtaining any cars, particularly for plants served by only one rail line. Steel hauling trucks have become increasingly difficult to get," Steel said.

The magazine said the auto industry—the biggest user of steel — was expected to boost steel orders in the fall with production of 1969 autos.

Steel estimated raw steel production in the week ended July 20 was 2,667,000 net tons, unchanged from the preceding week.

The magazine's price composite on No. 1 steelmaking grade scrap was $23.50 a gross ton last week, the same as in the previous week and the lowest level in 19 years.

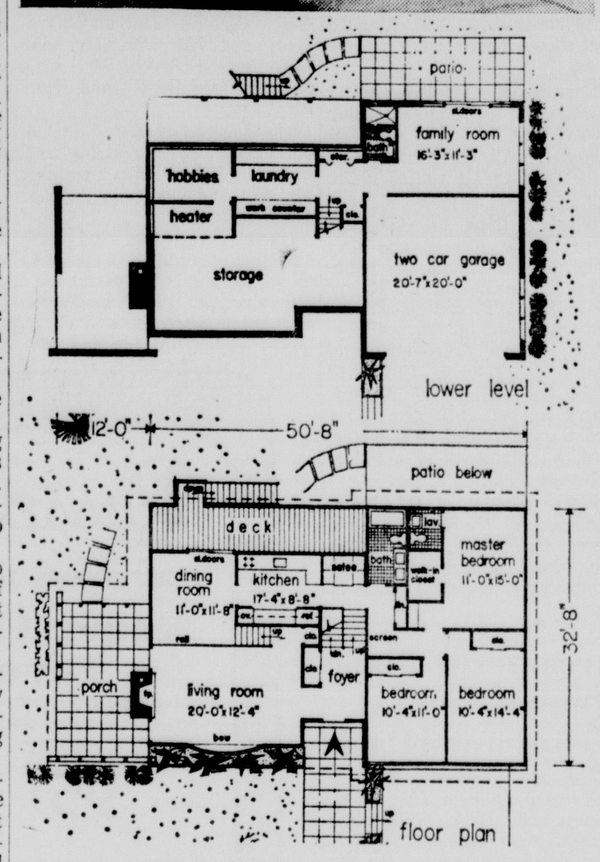

Bomb Hits Truck Stop At Site Near Dennison

TAPPAN, Ohio (AP) — A waitress at Tappan truck stop, Mrs. Dolly Hendrick, is being treated at Twin Cities Hospital in Dennison for injuries suffered early Sunday when a bomb exploded in the truck stop.

Several cars were damaged, and damage to the truck stop was estimated at $40,000.

The FBI, the State Fire Marshal's Office and the Harrison County Sheriff's Department were investigating.

Blaze Damages River Steamboat

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—More than 75 firemen aided by two fireboats blanketed a burning steamboat with streams of water Sunday, but the spreading blaze heavily spread to three pleasure crafts anchored nearby before it was brought under control.

Damage to the paddlewheeler, the old "Chris Greene," was estimated at $100,000. The three smaller boats suffered a total $6,500 in damages.

The steamboat was docked on the Kentucky side of the Ohio River at Davton, just across the river from Cincinnati.

George Harrison, owner of the converted steamboat, said he was aroused from sleep in his quarters aboard the vessel by the smell of smoke early Sunday and found much of the wooded superstructure was ablaze.

Authorities were probing the ruins for the cause of the blaze, believed to have started in an upper-level restroom.

There were no injuries.

Color Me Cool!

Paint Can Help Chase The Heat

To make sure you comfortably enjoy the summer, enlist the aid of paint. Color can be a cooler—and can help keep your home and your temperature below the boiling point.

The principle is an old one—certain colors absorb the light while others reflect it For this reason, a lightweight white summer dress will keep you fresh and breezy when a black dress would make you wilt.

ASIDE from purely physical reasons, colors can be cool or warm for psychological reasons A number of studies have been done on the psychology of color by advertising men who are interested in attracting consumers, by industrial psychologists who try to find out the best color environment for employees and even by psychologists who measure infant responses to different colors

From your own experience you are certain to define associations connected with specific colors. Think of the color "yellow" for a moment. What does it mean to you? It could remind you of the bright, hot sun For summer coolness, you want to avoid deep warm colors, and instead concentrate on cooler, more relaxing shades

Take the color "blue." You may be reminded of a clear, inviting lake or the tender beauty of the sky. You see? Colors are more complex than you realize — they are cool and warm for double reasons.

BEFORE YOU begin to redecorate a stuffy room, keep this advice in mind. Don't use a color because you think you ought to — only use colors that you respond to and enjoy.

It's no fun to have the inside of your home battle with your personality. Instead you want to reach for a color scheme that can live with happily.

Now for a few pointers on cooling off your home That cozy room, painted in a warm color, may have been the perfect hideaway from the winter cold, but it may make you squirm during the hot season

The solution? Paint walls in a cool shade! Your coolest colors are blues, violets, blue-greens, blue - grays, and that old standby white.

Mortar Suggestions Offered On Shower Tile Installation

Question: Several years ago, I installed ceramic tiles on the walls and floor of a stall shower.

I used portland cement mortar to hold the tiles, and it worked very well. The tiles are still solidly attached to the floor and walls even though the shower is used very often.

Recently, I decided to install ceramic tiles half way up the bathroom wall. I haven't bought the tiles yet, but when I looked them over at a store recently, the man behind the counter suggested that I used what he called dry - set mortar instead of the kind I used before.

Can you tell me the difference between the two mortars?

ANSWER: Portland cement mortar is the conventional time-tested material for setting tile. There are several other types of newer mortars and adhesives for the same purpose.

If you recall, you probably had to soak the tiles in water before installing them with the portland cement mortar. This was to prevent them from drawing moisture from the mortar before it set properly. If you again were doing a stall shower, portland cement mortar probably would be best, since it is not affected by water once it has cured.

Dry - set mortar's main ingredient also is portland cement, but it is formulated so that it will set without the necessity of soaking the tiles in water.

It is good for most wall installations, but especially recommended for use on masonry or concrete surfaces. There are other materials for attaching tiles to walls, including a water-resistant organic adhesive.

However, it can be applied only to a very smooth surface, since the final tile surface will reflect any irregularities in the backing.

A MORE expensive product that is highly recommended is epoxy mortar, excellent for heavy - duty installations. An important point to remember: whichever type of mortar or adhesive you use, be sure to get a grout that is compatible with it, as some grouts do not work satisfactorily with some mortars. It's usually a good idea to purchase all your materials in the same place.

Landscaping Can Be Aided By 'Scallops'

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

From a landscaping point of view, there is a vast difference between a flower bed or a shrub planting with a straight or scalloped edge. The scalloped edge is by far the best-looking and the effort in developing one is well worth the time.

Those who have tried to cut a nice scallop usually have some difficulty in getting graceful curves and, therefore, recut them so often that they gradually have too much bare ground between the shrubs and the lawn edge.

The formula for getting graceful curves lies in the simple use of the garden hose. Believe it or not, it is impossible to get anything but a graceful curve when the hose is used as an indicator. It should be laid on the lawn and adjusted to make long, sweeping curves or short, rounded curves as conditions indicate.

Edging can be done with a sharp spade, but the best tool is the turf-edger, a half-moon-shaped steel blade with a long handle. This tool is sharpened by setting it in a vise and filing the edge with a fine file. This produces a raw, sharp edge that is ideal for cutting through tough turf. A dull edger will break and crumble the turf and will fail to produce a clean edge.

In using the turf-edger, the best procedure is to push down with the foot on the back of the edger until it is sunk into the ground about three inches. Then it is moved along and pushed again without altogether taking it out of the cut. This produces a continuous cut without breaks or crumbling.

After a bed has been scalloped, it will look its best if the bare ground is covered with an inch or two of dark peat moss, raked smoothly. Peat moss not only keeps the ground moist, but also keeps down the growth of weeds.

An important point to remember: whichever type of mortar or adhesive you use, be sure to get a grout that is compatible with it, as some grouts do not work satisfactorily with some mortars. It's usually a good idea to purchase all your materials in the same place.

Landscaping Can Be Aided By 'Scallops'

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

From a landscaping point of view, there is a vast difference between a flower bed or a shrub planting with a straight or scalloped edge. The scalloped edge is by far the best-looking and the effort in developing one is well worth the time.

Those who have tried to cut a nice scallop usually have some difficulty in getting graceful curves and, therefore, recut them so often that they gradually have too much bare ground between the shrubs and the lawn edge.

The formula for getting graceful curves lies in the simple use of the garden hose. Believe it or not, it is impossible to get anything but a graceful curve when the hose is used as an indicator. It should be laid on the lawn and adjusted to make long, sweeping curves or short, rounded curves as conditions indicate.

Edging can be done with a sharp spade, but the best tool is the turf-edger, a half-moon-shaped steel blade with a long handle. This tool is sharpened by setting it in a vise and filing the edge with a fine file. This produces a raw, sharp edge that is ideal for cutting through tough turf. A dull edger will break and crumble the turf and will fail to produce a clean edge.

In using the turf-edger, the best procedure is to push down with the foot on the back of the edger until it is sunk into the ground about three inches. Then it is moved along and pushed again without altogether taking it out of the cut. This produces a continuous cut without breaks or crumbling.

After a bed has been scalloped, it will look its best if the bare ground is covered with an inch or two of dark peat moss, raked smoothly. Peat moss not only keeps the ground moist, but also keeps down the growth of weeds.

$700 In Cash Stolen From Local Home

Some $700 in cash was stolen from one of three city homes burglarized over the weekend.

The money was taken from the apartment of Rudy Frank above a store he operates at 1256 Pennsylvania Ave., East End.

The other burglary was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kohler of 2230 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext.

Frank told officers he left home about noon Sunday and discovered the loss when he returned at 7 p.m.

Entry was gained through a storm window in the rear. The thieves entered from an alley behind the store. They climbed a large steel barrel beneath the window and removed the screen and fan, entering the kitchen.

Police said every room was ransacked. Several hundred pennies had been taken from a bedroom closet, but then were tossed on the bed.

The Kohlers said someone broke a basement window to enter their home early Sunday. All the drawers in various pieces of furniture were ransacked, but apparently nothing was taken.

The entry was discovered at 2:15 p. m. by a daughter. A check is being made to determine if anything was stolen.

Joseph Banik of 951 Ambrose Ave. reported to police Sunday at 7 p.m. that his home was entered some time yesterday. He said he left about 11:30 a.m.

Police said a screen was ripped from a window to gain entry. The house was ransacked, but nothing was taken. A picture in the living room was shattered.

Police Here Aid In Search For Woman

City police today joined in a search by the New Orleans (La.) Police Department for a woman believed to be living in East Liverpool or the immediate vicinity.

The woman, identified by her maiden name of Nancy Ellen Blair, is being sought by a man she once assisted several years ago.

Maj. Henry M. Morris, chief of detectives of the New Orleans police, said in a letter the woman is being sought by Hub A. H. Vandervott, who moved to the U.S. following World War II.

During the war, Vandervott, who is an architect, received many gifts from Americans, including the Blair woman, who has been traced to East Liverpool. Vandervott, who is now successful in his field, is anxious to contact her, Maj. Morris said. Vandervott recently designed and built a new police administration building in New Orleans.

The girl was 11½ to 12 at the time she sent gifts to the man, which would make her 31 or 32 now.

She lived at 934 Helmsdale Rd., Cleveland Heights, in 1947. In June of that year she and her family moved to East Liverpool, apparently residing in the 300 block of Monroe St.

The father, P. Robert Blair, formerly was employed by the Lincoln Electric Co. of Cleveland. The mother was Mae Raimer Blair.

Police request that anyone with information as to the whereabouts of the woman contact the department.

There is no reference to printing in Shakespeare's works.

Roy V. Beck Dies At 70 During Trip To Seattle

EAST PALESTINE — Roy V. Beck, 70, of 90 W. Highland Ave., a civic and business leader, died of an apparent heart attack late Saturday night while en route to Seattle Wash., accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Beck. They were to visit their son, John Beck and family.

The couple left East Palestine Friday and when they reached Jamestown, N. D., Mr. Beck called his daughter, Mrs. James P. Fruit of East Palestine, and said that everything was fine. He returned to the motel, where he suffered the attack. About nine years ago, Mr. Beck suffered a similar attack, from which he was believed to have been fully recovered.

He was president of the Union Commercial and Savings Bank and operator of the Beck Ford Agency. He retired from both positions this year. He was associated with the bank for more than 50 years and was an auto dealer for 35 years. He continued as co-owner of the Columbiana Floral Co. after retirement.

He was born in Unity Township Oct. 10, 1897, a son of the late George and Sarah Sansenbaugher Beck. He was married to the former Ruth Riddle of Enon Valley July 22, 1925.

He became chairman of the board of the bank early this year upon relinquishing the president's position. He served as a member of the Board of Education in the 30's during the construction of the East Palestine Senior High School.

He was a charter member and past president of the East Palestine Kiwanis Club and belonged to various Masonic Orders, including Pilgrim Commandery 55, Knights Templar, of East Liverpool. He was a member of the Grace Lutheran Church here.

In addition to his widow, son and daughter, he is survived by four grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. at the Van-Dyke Funeral Home by the Rev. Andrew W. Wilch Jr. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Auto, Cycle Hit In Area Mishap

A Toronto youth and a passenger on his motorcycle were injured in a headon collision with a car Sunday at 5 p.m. on Route 85 about a mile south of Route 213.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Robert Eugene Eshbaugh, 15, of Toronto, driver of the motorcycle, received lacerations of both wrists and abrasions of the forehead and a cut on the right foot.

A passenger, David James Adams, 16, of Steubenville received a laceration of the lip and abrasions of the body. Both were treated at Ohio Valley Hospital, Steubenville.

Eshbaugh's motorcycle collided headon on a curve with a car driven by Fredrick E. Workman, 28 of Irondale RD 1. Eshbaugh was cited for no operator's license.

Third Concert Given At Park Amphitheater

Mrs. Nancy McLaughlin, vocalist, was accompanied by Howard (Rack) Godwin, organist, during intermission entertainment at the third open-air summer concert presented by the Musicians Local 172 Concert Band Sunday at Thompson Park.

The concerts are presented in the Ralph Johnson Memorial Amphitheater. Donald Hunsberger is director.

The next concert, July 28, will be highlighted by a surprise entertainment during intermission. The Sweet Adelines and Barbershoppers will perform Aug. 4, officials said.

Police At Industry Check On Vandalism

Industry police investigated weekend vandalism cases involving an area mailbox and a letter.

A large mailbox on a post at the Frank Unterberger residence on Barclay Hill Rd. was pulled from the ground and discarded in a neighbor's driveway over the weekend. A letter was taken from the mailbox of Gerald Hendershot of Wolf Run Rd., Industry, police said.

The envelope was found along the mailbox, and the letter was found farther up the road. It is believed a group of youths were involved, police said.

Police Chief Ray Hendershot said this is a federal offense.

Newell Driver Cited After Chester Accident

A Newell driver was cited for not having his vehicle under control following an accident Sunday at 10:30 p. m. in Chester near the end of the Chester bridge.

George S. Bourne of Washington St. told Chester police he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car and rammed into a tree. Damage to the car was estimated at over $1,000. He will be given a hearing Wednesday.

There are about 206 named bones in the adult human body.

Police Here Aid In Search For Woman

City police today joined in a search by the New Orleans (La.) Police Department for a woman believed to be living in East Liverpool or the immediate vicinity.

The woman, identified by her maiden name of Nancy Ellen Blair, is being sought by a man she once assisted several years ago.

Maj. Henry M. Morris, chief of detectives of the New Orleans police, said in a letter the woman is being sought by Hub A. H. Vandervott, who moved to the U.S. following World War II.

During the war, Vandervott, who is an architect, received many gifts from Americans, including the Blair woman, who has been traced to East Liverpool. Vandervott, who is now successful in his field, is anxious to contact her, Maj. Morris said. Vandervott recently designed and built a new police administration building in New Orleans.

The girl was 11½ to 12 at the time she sent gifts to the man, which would make her 31 or 32 now.

She lived at 934 Helmsdale Rd., Cleveland Heights, in 1947. In June of that year she and her family moved to East Liverpool, apparently residing in the 300 block of Monroe St.

The father, P. Robert Blair, formerly was employed by the Lincoln Electric Co. of Cleveland. The mother was Mae Raimer Blair.

Police request that anyone with information as to the whereabouts of the woman contact the department.

There is no reference to printing in Shakespeare's works.

Roy V. Beck Dies At 70 During Trip To Seattle

EAST PALESTINE — Roy V. Beck, 70, of 90 W. Highland Ave., a civic and business leader, died of an apparent heart attack late Saturday night while en route to Seattle Wash., accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Beck. They were to visit their son, John Beck and family.

The couple left East Palestine Friday and when they reached Jamestown, N. D., Mr. Beck called his daughter, Mrs. James P. Fruit of East Palestine, and said that everything was fine. He returned to the motel, where he suffered the attack. About nine years ago, Mr. Beck suffered a similar attack, from which he was believed to have been fully recovered.

He was president of the Union Commercial and Savings Bank and operator of the Beck Ford Agency. He retired from both positions this year. He was associated with the bank for more than 50 years and was an auto dealer for 35 years. He continued as co-owner of the Columbiana Floral Co. after retirement.

He was born in Unity Township Oct. 10, 1897, a son of the late George and Sarah Sansenbaugher Beck. He was married to the former Ruth Riddle of Enon Valley July 22, 1925.

He became chairman of the board of the bank early this year upon relinquishing the president's position. He served as a member of the Board of Education in the 30's during the construction of the East Palestine Senior High School.

He was a charter member and past president of the East Palestine Kiwanis Club and belonged to various Masonic Orders, including Pilgrim Commandery 55, Knights Templar, of East Liverpool. He was a member of the Grace Lutheran Church here.

In addition to his widow, son and daughter, he is survived by four grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. at the Van-Dyke Funeral Home by the Rev. Andrew W. Wilch Jr. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Auto, Cycle Hit In Area Mishap

A Toronto youth and a passenger on his motorcycle were injured in a headon collision with a car Sunday at 5 p.m. on Route 85 about a mile south of Route 213.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Robert Eugene Eshbaugh, 15, of Toronto, driver of the motorcycle, received lacerations of both wrists and abrasions of the forehead and a cut on the right foot.

A passenger, David James Adams, 16, of Steubenville received a laceration of the lip and abrasions of the body. Both were treated at Ohio Valley Hospital, Steubenville.

Eshbaugh's motorcycle collided headon on a curve with a car driven by Fredrick E. Workman, 28 of Irondale RD 1. Eshbaugh was cited for no operator's license.

Third Concert Given At Park Amphitheater

Mrs. Nancy McLaughlin, vocalist, was accompanied by Howard (Rack) Godwin, organist, during intermission entertainment at the third open-air summer concert presented by the Musicians Local 172 Concert Band Sunday at Thompson Park.

The concerts are presented in the Ralph Johnson Memorial Amphitheater. Donald Hunsberger is director.

The next concert, July 28, will be highlighted by a surprise entertainment during intermission. The Sweet Adelines and Barbershoppers will perform Aug. 4, officials said.

The U.S. Constitution requires a periodic census, once every 10 years. The census count determines the number of seats in Congress to be apportioned to each state.

Police At Industry Check On Vandalism

Industry police investigated weekend vandalism cases involving an area mailbox and a letter.

A large mailbox on a post at the Frank Unterberger residence on Barclay Hill Rd. was pulled from the ground and discarded in a neighbor's driveway over the weekend. A letter was taken from the mailbox of Gerald Hendershot of Wolf Run Rd., Industry, police said.

The envelope was found along the mailbox, and the letter was found farther up the road. It is believed a group of youths were involved, police said.

Police Chief Ray Hendershot said this is a federal offense.

Massillon, Steubenville Eliminate Post 374 In Tourney

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The Professional Golfers Association championship tournament, shown on television from San Antonia, Tex., yesterday, was one of the most exciting in a long time.

Five players, in three different threesomes, were on the 18th hole at the same time with a chance for the title. Favorite of fans in this area, especially western Pennsylvania, was Arnie Palmer, in the first of the threesomes. Palmer was in trouble off the tee, driving into the gallery. The 18th, which has a creek across the fairway, was one of the most difficult holes on the tour this year, as the pros could not drive over the creek, but had to hit short, needing a long second shot to the green. The field averaged 4.5 strokes on the hole.

Palmer's second shot, out of the rough, was fantastic, stopping eight feet from the pin. But as he kept doing all afternoon, Arnie just missed the putt, and finished two over par.

But he still had a chance. Frank Beard and Bob Charles, in contention in the second threesome, got pars. But grandfather Julius Boros, 48, still had a one-shot lead. He appeared in trouble when his second shot was well short of the green, but a tremendous approach and a four-foot putt gave him a par and the title. Marty Fleckman, in the final threesome, had a chance to tie with a birdie, but his second shot caught a trap to end his hopes.

THIS MONTH'S "Sport" magazine, in an editorial, calls for the ouster of baseball commissioner William Eckert. The piece concludes: "Baseball needs a strong, independent soul to run the game free of owner interference. We suggest the owners get together at once and find a man who can govern them, and who can control their lusts and drives toward self-destruction."

We couldn't agree more. Bring back Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

In the current "Sports Illustrated," Frank Deford has an excellent satirical dealing with the role of an impotent commissioner and the exploitation of the paying fan by big-time sport in general.

Concluding in the current SI is the outstanding series by Jack Olsen on the Black Athlete. Olsen notes that there is plenty of racial discrimination, even in pro sports, with two exceptions being the Boston Celtics and the Green Bay Packers. The Celtics have a Negro coach, Bill Russell, and on the Packers Vince Lombardi tolerates no discrimination. After reading this a local sports fan suggested Lombardi for president, but unfortunately the country doesn't have the unity of purpose that the Packers do, nor would many people take kindly to Lombardi's dictatorial ways.

Howell Blanks Millersburg 4-0

East Liverpool American Legion Post 374 was eliminated from the district six baseball tournament at New Philadelphia over the weekend.

The locals won their opening contest, downing Millersburg of Holmes County 4-0 Saturday, but Sunday Post 374 fell to Steubenville 3-0 and Massillon 6-2 in the double-elimination affair.

Jerry Howell shut out Millersburg on a two-hitter, fanning 10. Dan Cunningham and Jim Duffy homered and Jim Musuraca had three hits. Tom Dye took the loss. Cunningham's blast came in the fifth after Bob Bartram and Musuraca had singled.

Dave Taylor, who had beaten Post 374 1-0 earlier in the season, turned the trick again for Steubenville, allowing five hits. The only Post 374 threat was in the eighth when Dan Myers and Bill Montgomery singled to lead off. Bill Montgomery was the loser, fanning 10 and walking none, but he was tagged for eight hits and all the runs were earned.

Mets, Cardinals Split, Gibson, Koosman Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jerry Koosman split a pot with Bob Gibson when the New York Mets stacked the deck at St. Louis ... and Jim McAndrew got caught in the shuffle.

Gibson hurled his 10th consecutive victory and seventh shutout Sunday as the Cardinals spoiled McAndrew's major league pitching debut by shading New York 2-0 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Koosman, deliberately held out of a direct confrontation with Gibson, then pitched the Mets to a 1-0 victory, setting a club shutout record in the process and matching the St. Louis ace's 13-5 season mark.

McAndrew, who battled Gibson to a standoff until Bob Tolan tagged an inside-the-park homer in the sixth inning, wasn't around to see Met Manager Gil Hodges' gambit pay off in a split with the National League leaders.

McAndrew Returned

The Mets returned the 24-year-old right-hander to their Jacksonville farm club after the first game.

Second-place Atlanta bowed to Pittsburgh 6-0 and fell 10½ games behind the Cardinals. The Cincinnati Reds slugged Philadelphia 12-6 for their fourth straight triumph and climbed into a third place tie with the Phillies and San Francisco Giants — 63 games off the pace.

The Giants divided a twin bill with Houston, dropping the opener 2-1 in 10 innings and taking the nightcap 6-1. Chicago cuffed Los Angeles 7-2 in a single game.

Gibson, unbeaten since May 28, scattered seven hits and struck out 13 in outlasting McAndrew under a blazing sun at St. Louis.

Koosman stayed at the head of the Mets' talented young mound staff with a brilliant four-hitter in the nightcap. He struck out 12 on the way to his fifth shutout—a Mets season mark.

New York nicked Nelson Briles, 11-7, for the game's lone run in the sixth, when Cleon Jones singled, took second on an infield out and tallied on a single by J.C. Martin.

Pirates Sweep Braves

Home runs by Willie Stargell, Donn Clendenon and Jose Pagan propelled Pittsburgh's Steve Blass to his seventh straight victory and gave the Pirates a sweep of their three-game set at Atlanta.

Stargell got the Pirates started with a three-run first inning blast off Milt Pappas and Blass checked the Braves on seven hits, bringing his season record to 8-2.

Lee May, Jim Beauchamp and pitcher Tony Cloninger belted homers and Leo Cardenas stroked a single, double, triple and sacrifice fly, good for three RBI, as the Reds buried Philadelphia under a 15-hit barrage.

Cloninger went seven innings before giving way to relief ace Ted Abernathy and picked up only his second victory against five setbacks.

Dick Simpson's run-scoring single in the 10th sent the Astros past the Giants in the first game. Southpaw Mike McCormick throttled the Astros on six hits in the nightcap while rookie Bobby Bonds triggered San Francisco's attack with three hits.

Mays Plays First

With Willie McCovey nursing a knee injury in the second game, the Giants brought Willie Mays in from the outfield to play first base for the first time since 1954. He handled eight chances without a flaw.

Billy Williams poled a pair of two-run homers and delivered another run with a sacrifice fly as the Cubs trimmed the Dodgers behind Bill Hands, 10-5, and reliever Phil Regan.

Glenn Beckert, who had run his hitting streak to 25 games—tops in the majors this year—in Saturday night's loss to Los Angeles, cracked a triple and three singles and drove in the other two Chicago runs.

ALLEN AWAITS. Bernie Allen of East Liverpool awaits a late throw from Washington Senator catcher Bill Bryan as Carl Yastrzemski of the Red Sox steals second in Boston yesterday. Red Sox won first game 4-3, but Allen homered in second contest to give Senators 4-3 win. (UPI Telephoto)

Orioles Beat Tigers Twice

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Earl Weaver knew what it would take to make him happy, but the question is: what does it take to make Mayo Smith unhappy

Smith, with a stiff upper lip, watched the Baltimore Orioles sweep a doubleheader from his Detroit club 5-2 and 4-1, Sunday, turning the Tigers' American League pennant runaway into a pennant race, and still he found reason to rejoice.

"I'd have liked someone to tell me we would be 5½ games in front this late in the season," he managed to say with a smile. This despite the fact that the Tigers led the league by 9½ games 10 days ago at the All-Star break.

The happiness of Weaver, who is 9-3 since taking over from Hank Bauer as Baltimore's manager, is easier to believe.

"Three out of four was what we wanted," he said of the Orioles three straight victories over the Tigers after Friday night's loss.

Indians Gain 3rd

Alvin Dark, manager of Cleveland, can't be too sad either after his Indians walked backward into third place and still gained ground on Detroit. The Indians are also 5½ games back, two percentage points behind Baltimore, after beating the New York Yankees 4-1 and then losing 8-4.

Boston, 9½ games out, also missed a chance to climb closer by splitting with Washington, winning 4-3 before losing 4-3.

Completing the full schedule of doubleheaders, Minnesota swept Oakland 7-5 and 10-0 and the Chicago White Sox stumped California 5-1 before losing 7-0.

The Orioles, who get three more shots at Detroit this weekend, replaced Cleveland in second place on the pitching of Jim Hardin, Tom Phoebus and Gene Brabender.

Hardin, 12-5, scattered seven hits for the first game victory. He was in command after Detroit's Tom Matchick tied the score 2-2 with a two-run homer in the fifth inning, and got the run he needed when Frank Robison doubled and Boog Powell singled him home in the sixth off Earl Wilson, 7-8.

Johnson, Blefary Score

Dave Johnson, who had three hits, scored twice and drove in one run, and Curt Blefary later homered for insurance runs.

Phoebus, 10-9, who left six Tigers on base in five innings, left in favor of Brabender with the bases loaded and one out in the sixth of the nightcap, and Brabender completed the three-hitter by retiring 11 consecutive hitters.

Powell slugged his 15th homer for Baltimore's first run and Johnson rapped two doubles for two more runs and scored once on Phoebus' hit.

Sam McDowell, 10-8, with shutout relief help from rookie Vincente Romo from the sixth inning, got Cleveland home in their opener, but the Indians walked themselves out of second place in the nightcap.

Starter Steve Hargan walked in two runs, reliever Mike Paul walked and balked in two more and Hal Kurtz walked in still another.

Bernie Allen Homers

Home runs by Mike Epstein and Bernie Allen helped Washington to a 4-0 lead and ruined Boston in its second game after Reggie Smith clouted two homers to give the Red Sox the opener.

Frank Howard had belted his 27th homer and a two-run triple for a 3-2 lead before Smith connected with one on in the eighth.

Bob Allison, who homered in the first game for Minnesota, cracked a double, triple and three-run homer to make Jim Perry's seventh victory in 13 decisions easy.

Tony Oliva drove in three runs with a homer and sacrifice fly as Jim Katt raised his mark to 7-6 in the first contest.

Joe Horlen and Hoyt Wilhelm combined on a five-hitter for Chicago's triumph, but Clyde Wright twirled a six-hitter for the Angels in the second game to stop the White Sox. He was backed by home runs from Rick Reichardt and Roger Repoz.

Blair-Morse, Central Win Playoff Openers

Blair - Morse and Central won the opening games in the Colt League Shaughnessy playoffs yesterday.

Blair - Morse whipped the Lawyers 15-3 and Central downed Riverview 5-1.

Kim Kemple was the winner for Blair - Morse, allowing three hits. He got three himself, as did Terry Boyd and Joe March. Boyd had a triple. Mike Smith and Scott Dubberly had two hits each and John Haney and Rick Welsh doubled. George Thompson was the losing pitcher.

Jim (EL) Parson was the winning pitcher for Central and Jim Massey the loser. Mike McKinnon had a triple and double and single for the winners and Steve Craig added a triple. Steve Cochran had two hits for the losers.

Blair - Morse and the Lawyers will meet in the second game of the best - of - three series tonight at 6, while Central and Riverview will meet again tomorrow.

In regular season games Saturday Blair - Morse downed the Lawyers 8-5 and the Lawyers stopped Riverview 4-3. Kemple was again the winner for Blair-Morse and Tipton took the loss for the Lawyers. Steve Murray had a single, double and triple and Mike Smith a single and triple for Blair - Morse while Lehman Pierson had a single and triple, Rick Arnett a triple and double and Mike Ferrello a double for the losers. Ron Talbot was the winner for Lawyers and Larry Marshall the loser for Riverview. Pierson hit a three-run homer.

Patriots Deal Parilli For Jets' Taliaferro

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a week early, but Mike Taliaferro is well satisfied with his birthday gift—a new uniform.

The veteran quarterback, who will be 27 Friday, will be wearing a Boston Patriots outfit this fall when the American Football League season opens.

That's just the way Taliaferro wanted it. After playing behind Joe Namath for three years with the New York Jets, Taliaferro asked to be traded for an opportunity to win a starting job.

The Jets obliged Saturday by dealing him to the Patriots for 38-year-old veteran Babe Parilli, who shared the starting job with Don Trull last season. Taliaferro will battle Trull for the job.

"Trull will start out a little ahead, because he was with us half of last year," Patriots' General Manager-Coach Mike Holovak said, referring to the 1967 mid-season trade that brought Trull from Houston. "But Taliaferro will get every chance to win the job."

Taliaferro needs only three more games on active duty to become eligible for the AFL pension, but he shrugs that off.

"To get the pension I have to live until 65," he said. "I'm thinking of now."

Taliaferro had little chance to play behind Namath, who set a pro passing record of 4,007 yards last season, breaking Parilli's mark of 3,465 in 1964 when he was the AFL's all-star quarterback.

Taliaferro, of the University of Illinois, managed only 20 passes, completing 11 for 96 yards after suffering a shoulder separation in a preseason game.

Parilli, a 14-year veteran of the National Football League, the Canadian League and the AFL, had heard the cheers of 1964 turn to boos last season. He completed 161 passes in 344 attempts for 2,317 yards and 19 touchdowns and had 24 interceptions as the Pats finished last in the Eastern Division.

"Babe still has a great arm and has always been an excellent play caller and leader," Jets General Manager-Coach Weeb Eubank said. "We feel we have a good chance to win the Eastern Division title this year and wanted to get a backup quarterback such as Babe to insure our chances."

Veteran fullback Bill Brown walked out of the Minnesota Vikings training camp Sunday, apparently in a contract dispute. Brown could not be reached for comment, but a club officials said they were sure his departure was linked to the contract difficulties.

The seven-year veteran is the club's leading ground gainer.

Browns Pick Bi-Racial Co-Captains

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, who are expected to lose two veterans today because of a bitter racial incident, have named a Negro and a white player as co-captains for the coming year.

Veteran running back Ernie Green, a Negro, and defensive signal caller Jim Houston, who is white, were named Sunday night by Coach Blanton Collier.

They replace Paul Wiggin, last year's captain, who has retired to a coaching job with the San Francisco 49ers.

Two players cut after the highly publicized racial incident were Negro John Wooten and Ross Fichtner, who is white. The incident involved an alleged racial slur to Negro members of the squad, who were not invited to a celebrity golf tournament arranged by Fichtner at Ashland. Fichtner denied that that racial discrimination was involved.

Browns Owner Art Modell asked waivers on both players, and they become free agents today unless claimed by some other club.

Pirates Get 3 Homers

Blass Blanks Atlanta 6-0 As Bucs Win 3rd In Row

ATLANTA (AP) — Steve Blass, a 26-year-old right-hander from Canaan, Conn., apparently isn't used to the hot Southern climate.

He had to battle it and the Braves to give the Pirates a 6-0 win Sunday and a three—game sweep over Atlanta.

Blass, the lightest man on the pirates at 162 pounds, lost about eight of them in the 94 degree heat. But that didn't stop Blass, now 8-2, from scattering seven hits by the game's end and retiring 14 straight Braves.

"It was unbelievably hot out there. I got tired in the last couple of innings, but I really wanted that shutout," Blass said. "Anytime you shut out a team like Atlanta, you can congratulate yourself."

There were also congratulations from Pirate Manager Larry Shepard, for Blass, who's won seven in a row, and for the Pirates.

"Steve pitched a good game," Shepard said. "He was in trouble a couple of times, but he came up with the right pitch at the right time."

"This series we got some clutch hitting and good pitching and put it together. That's something we haven't been able to do consistently this year."

Blass was backed up by home runs by Willie Stargell, Donn Clendenon and Jose Pagan.

Massillon, Steubenville Eliminate Post 374 In Tourney

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The Professional Golfers Association championship tournament, shown on television from San Antonia, Tex., yesterday, was one of the most exciting in a long time.

Five players, in three different threesomes, were on the 18th hole at the same time with a chance for the title. Favorite of fans in this area, especially western Pennsylvania, was Arnie Palmer, in the first of the threesomes. Palmer was in trouble off the tee, driving into the gallery. The 18th, which has a creek across the fairway, was one of the most difficult holes on the tour this year, as the pros could not drive over the creek, but had to hit short, needing a long second shot to the green. The field averaged 4.5 strokes on the hole.

Palmer's second shot, out of the rough, was fantastic, stopping eight feet from the pin. But as he kept doing all afternoon, Arnie just missed the putt, and finished two over par.

But he still had a chance. Frank Beard and Bob Charles, in contention in the second threesome, got pars. But grandfather Julius Boros, 48, still had a one-shot lead. He appeared in trouble when his second shot was well short of the green, but a tremendous approach and a four-foot putt gave him a par and the title. Marty Fleckman, in the final threesome, had a chance to tie with a birdie, but his second shot caught a trap to end his hopes.

THIS MONTH'S "Sport" magazine, in an editorial, calls for the ouster of baseball commissioner William Eckert. The piece concludes: "Baseball needs a strong, independent soul to run the game free of owner interference. We suggest the owners get together at once and find a man who can govern them, and who can control their lusts and drives toward self-destruction."

We couldn't agree more. Bring back Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

In the current "Sports Illustrated," Frank Deford has an excellent satirical dealing with the role of an impotent commissioner and the exploitation of the paying fan by big-time sport in general.

Concluding in the current SI is the outstanding series by Jack Olsen on the Black Athlete. Olsen notes that there is plenty of racial discrimination, even in pro sports, with two exceptions being the Boston Celtics and the Green Bay Packers. The Celtics have a Negro coach, Bill Russell, and on the Packers Vince Lombardi tolerates no discrimination. After reading this a local sports fan suggested Lombardi for president, but unfortunately the country doesn't have the unity of purpose that the Packers do, nor would many people take kindly to Lombardi's dictatorial ways.

Howell Blanks Millersburg 4-0

East Liverpool American Legion Post 374 was eliminated from the district six baseball tournament at New Philadelphia over the weekend.

The locals won their opening contest, downing Millersburg of Holmes County 4-0 Saturday, but Sunday Post 374 fell to Steubenville 3-0 and Massillon 6-2 in the double-elimination affair.

Jerry Howell shut out Millersburg on a two-hitter, fanning 10. Dan Cunningham and Jim Duffy homered and Jim Musuraca had three hits. Tom Dye took the loss. Cunningham's blast came in the fifth after Bob Bartram and Musuraca had singled.

Dave Taylor, who had beaten Post 374 1-0 earlier in the season, turned the trick again for Steubenville, allowing five hits. The only Post 374 threat was in the eighth when Dan Myers and Bill Montgomery singled to lead off. Bill Montgomery was the loser, fanning 10 and walking none, but he was tagged for eight hits and all the runs were earned.

Mets, Cardinals Split, Gibson, Koosman Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jerry Koosman split a pot with Bob Gibson when the New York Mets stacked the deck at St. Louis ... and Jim McAndrew got caught in the shuffle.

Gibson hurled his 10th consecutive victory and seventh shutout Sunday as the Cardinals spoiled McAndrew's major league pitching debut by shading New York 2-0 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Koosman, deliberately held out of a direct confrontation with Gibson, then pitched the Mets to a 1-0 victory, setting a club shutout record in the process and matching the St. Louis ace's 13-5 season mark.

McAndrew, who battled Gibson to a standoff until Bob Tolan tagged an inside-the-park homer in the sixth inning, wasn't around to see Met Manager Gil Hodges' gambit pay off in a split with the National League leaders.

McAndrew Returned

The Mets returned the 24-year-old right-hander to their Jacksonville farm club after the first game.

Second-place Atlanta bowed to Pittsburgh 6-0 and fell 10½ games behind the Cardinals. The Cincinnati Reds slugged Philadelphia 12-6 for their fourth straight triumph and climbed into a third place tie with the Phillies and San Francisco Giants — 63 games off the pace.

The Giants divided a twin bill with Houston, dropping the opener 2-1 in 10 innings and taking the nightcap 6-1. Chicago cuffed Los Angeles 7-2 in a single game.

Gibson, unbeaten since May 28, scattered seven hits and struck out 13 in outlasting McAndrew under a blazing sun at St. Louis.

Koosman stayed at the head of the Mets' talented young mound staff with a brilliant four-hitter in the nightcap. He struck out 12 on the way to his fifth shutout—a Mets season mark.

New York nicked Nelson Briles, 11-7, for the game's lone run in the sixth, when Cleon Jones singled, took second on an infield out and tallied on a single by J.C. Martin.

Pirates Sweep Braves

Home runs by Willie Stargell, Donn Clendenon and Jose Pagan propelled Pittsburgh's Steve Blass to his seventh straight victory and gave the Pirates a sweep of their three-game set at Atlanta.

Stargell got the Pirates started with a three-run first inning blast off Milt Pappas and Blass checked the Braves on seven hits, bringing his season record to 8-2.

Lee May, Jim Beauchamp and pitcher Tony Cloninger belted homers and Leo Cardenas stroked a single, double, triple and sacrifice fly, good for three RBI, as the Reds buried Philadelphia under a 15-hit barrage.

Cloninger went seven innings before giving way to relief ace Ted Abernathy and picked up only his second victory against five setbacks.

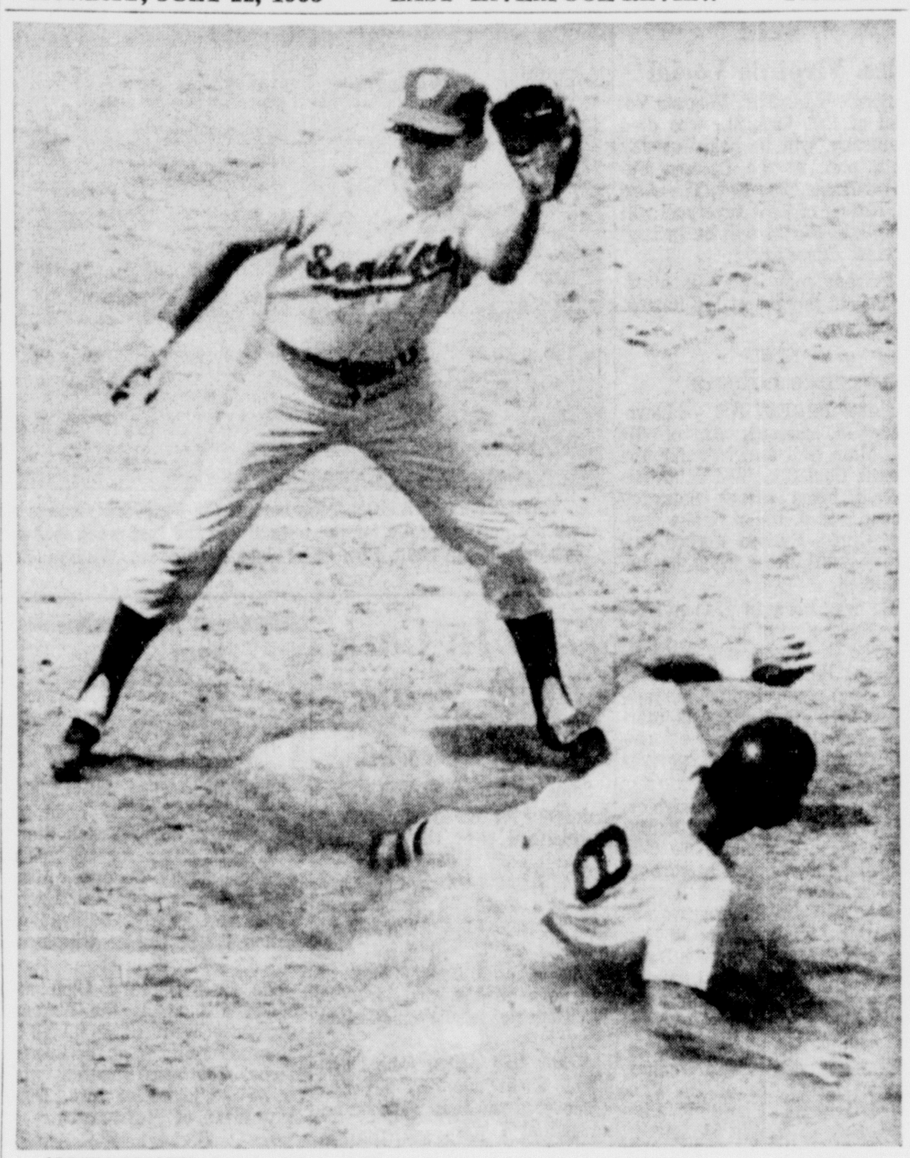

Dick Simpson's run-scoring single in the 10th sent the Astros past the Giants in the first game. Southpaw Mike McCormick throttled the Astros on six hits in the nightcap while rookie Bobby Bonds triggered San Francisco's attack with three hits.

Mays Plays First

With Willie McCovey nursing a knee injury in the second game, the Giants brought Willie Mays in from the outfield to play first base for the first time since 1954. He handled eight chances without a flaw.

Billy Williams poled a pair of two-run homers and delivered another run with a sacrifice fly as the Cubs trimmed the Dodgers behind Bill Hands, 10-5, and reliever Phil Regan.

Glenn Beckert, who had run his hitting streak to 25 games—tops in the majors this year—in Saturday night's loss to Los Angeles, cracked a triple and three singles and drove in the other two Chicago runs.

ALLEN AWAITS. Bernie Allen of East Liverpool awaits a late throw from Washington Senator catcher Bill Bryan as Carl Yastrzemski of the Red Sox steals second in Boston yesterday. Red Sox won first game 4-3, but Allen homered in second contest to give Senators 4-3 win. (UPI Telephoto)

Orioles Beat Tigers Twice

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Earl Weaver knew what it would take to make him happy, but the question is: what does it take to make Mayo Smith unhappy

Smith, with a stiff upper lip, watched the Baltimore Orioles sweep a doubleheader from his Detroit club 5-2 and 4-1, Sunday, turning the Tigers' American League pennant runaway into a pennant race, and still he found reason to rejoice.

"I'd have liked someone to tell me we would be 5½ games in front this late in the season," he managed to say with a smile. This despite the fact that the Tigers led the league by 9½ games 10 days ago at the All-Star break.

The happiness of Weaver, who is 9-3 since taking over from Hank Bauer as Baltimore's manager, is easier to believe.

"Three out of four was what we wanted," he said of the Orioles three straight victories over the Tigers after Friday night's loss.

Indians Gain 3rd

Alvin Dark, manager of Cleveland, can't be too sad either after his Indians walked backward into third place and still gained ground on Detroit. The Indians are also 5½ games back, two percentage points behind Baltimore, after beating the New York Yankees 4-1 and then losing 8-4.

Boston, 9½ games out, also missed a chance to climb closer by splitting with Washington, winning 4-3 before losing 4-3.

Completing the full schedule of doubleheaders, Minnesota swept Oakland 7-5 and 10-0 and the Chicago White Sox stumped California 5-1 before losing 7-0.

The Orioles, who get three more shots at Detroit this weekend, replaced Cleveland in second place on the pitching of Jim Hardin, Tom Phoebus and Gene Brabender.

Hardin, 12-5, scattered seven hits for the first game victory. He was in command after Detroit's Tom Matchick tied the score 2-2 with a two-run homer in the fifth inning, and got the run he needed when Frank Robison doubled and Boog Powell singled him home in the sixth off Earl Wilson, 7-8.

Johnson, Blefary Score

Dave Johnson, who had three hits, scored twice and drove in one run, and Curt Blefary later homered for insurance runs.

Phoebus, 10-9, who left six Tigers on base in five innings, left in favor of Brabender with the bases loaded and one out in the sixth of the nightcap, and Brabender completed the three-hitter by retiring 11 consecutive hitters.

Powell slugged his 15th homer for Baltimore's first run and Johnson rapped two doubles for two more runs and scored once on Phoebus' hit.

Sam McDowell, 10-8, with shutout relief help from rookie Vincente Romo from the sixth inning, got Cleveland home in their opener, but the Indians walked themselves out of second place in the nightcap.

Starter Steve Hargan walked in two runs, reliever Mike Paul walked and balked in two more and Hal Kurtz walked in still another.

Bernie Allen Homers

Home runs by Mike Epstein and Bernie Allen helped Washington to a 4-0 lead and ruined Boston in its second game after Reggie Smith clouted two homers to give the Red Sox the opener.

Frank Howard had belted his 27th homer and a two-run triple for a 3-2 lead before Smith connected with one on in the eighth.

Bob Allison, who homered in the first game for Minnesota, cracked a double, triple and three-run homer to make Jim Perry's seventh victory in 13 decisions easy.

Tony Oliva drove in three runs with a homer and sacrifice fly as Jim Katt raised his mark to 7-6 in the first contest.

Joe Horlen and Hoyt Wilhelm combined on a five-hitter for Chicago's triumph, but Clyde Wright twirled a six-hitter for the Angels in the second game to stop the White Sox. He was backed by home runs from Rick Reichardt and Roger Repoz.

Blair-Morse, Central Win Playoff Openers

Blair - Morse and Central won the opening games in the Colt League Shaughnessy playoffs yesterday.

Blair - Morse whipped the Lawyers 15-3 and Central downed Riverview 5-1.

Kim Kemple was the winner for Blair - Morse, allowing three hits. He got three himself, as did Terry Boyd and Joe March. Boyd had a triple. Mike Smith and Scott Dubberly had two hits each and John Haney and Rick Welsh doubled. George Thompson was the losing pitcher.

Jim (EL) Parson was the winning pitcher for Central and Jim Massey the loser. Mike McKinnon had a triple and double and single for the winners and Steve Craig added a triple. Steve Cochran had two hits for the losers.

Blair - Morse and the Lawyers will meet in the second game of the best - of - three series tonight at 6, while Central and Riverview will meet again tomorrow.

In regular season games Saturday Blair - Morse downed the Lawyers 8-5 and the Lawyers stopped Riverview 4-3. Kemple was again the winner for Blair-Morse and Tipton took the loss for the Lawyers. Steve Murray had a single, double and triple and Mike Smith a single and triple for Blair - Morse while Lehman Pierson had a single and triple, Rick Arnett a triple and double and Mike Ferrello a double for the losers. Ron Talbot was the winner for Lawyers and Larry Marshall the loser for Riverview. Pierson hit a three-run homer.

Patriots Deal Parilli For Jets' Taliaferro

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a week early, but Mike Taliaferro is well satisfied with his birthday gift—a new uniform.

The veteran quarterback, who will be 27 Friday, will be wearing a Boston Patriots outfit this fall when the American Football League season opens.

That's just the way Taliaferro wanted it. After playing behind Joe Namath for three years with the New York Jets, Taliaferro asked to be traded for an opportunity to win a starting job.

The Jets obliged Saturday by dealing him to the Patriots for 38-year-old veteran Babe Parilli, who shared the starting job with Don Trull last season. Taliaferro will battle Trull for the job.

"Trull will start out a little ahead, because he was with us half of last year," Patriots' General Manager-Coach Mike Holovak said, referring to the 1967 mid-season trade that brought Trull from Houston. "But Taliaferro will get every chance to win the job."

Taliaferro needs only three more games on active duty to become eligible for the AFL pension, but he shrugs that off.

"To get the pension I have to live until 65," he said. "I'm thinking of now."

Taliaferro had little chance to play behind Namath, who set a pro passing record of 4,007 yards last season, breaking Parilli's mark of 3,465 in 1964 when he was the AFL's all-star quarterback.

Taliaferro, of the University of Illinois, managed only 20 passes, completing 11 for 96 yards after suffering a shoulder separation in a preseason game.

Parilli, a 14-year veteran of the National Football League, the Canadian League and the AFL, had heard the cheers of 1964 turn to boos last season. He completed 161 passes in 344 attempts for 2,317 yards and 19 touchdowns and had 24 interceptions as the Pats finished last in the Eastern Division.

"Babe still has a great arm and has always been an excellent play caller and leader," Jets General Manager-Coach Weeb Eubank said. "We feel we have a good chance to win the Eastern Division title this year and wanted to get a backup quarterback such as Babe to insure our chances."

Veteran fullback Bill Brown walked out of the Minnesota Vikings training camp Sunday, apparently in a contract dispute. Brown could not be reached for comment, but a club officials said they were sure his departure was linked to the contract difficulties.

The seven-year veteran is the club's leading ground gainer.

Browns Pick Bi-Racial Co-Captains

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, who are expected to lose two veterans today because of a bitter racial incident, have named a Negro and a white player as co-captains for the coming year.

Veteran running back Ernie Green, a Negro, and defensive signal caller Jim Houston, who is white, were named Sunday night by Coach Blanton Collier.

They replace Paul Wiggin, last year's captain, who has retired to a coaching job with the San Francisco 49ers.

Two players cut after the highly publicized racial incident were Negro John Wooten and Ross Fichtner, who is white. The incident involved an alleged racial slur to Negro members of the squad, who were not invited to a celebrity golf tournament arranged by Fichtner at Ashland. Fichtner denied that that racial discrimination was involved.

Browns Owner Art Modell asked waivers on both players, and they become free agents today unless claimed by some other club.

Pirates Get 3 Homers

Blass Blanks Atlanta 6-0 As Bucs Win 3rd In Row

ATLANTA (AP) — Steve Blass, a 26-year-old right-hander from Canaan, Conn., apparently isn't used to the hot Southern climate.

He had to battle it and the Braves to give the Pirates a 6-0 win Sunday and a three—game sweep over Atlanta.

Blass, the lightest man on the pirates at 162 pounds, lost about eight of them in the 94 degree heat. But that didn't stop Blass, now 8-2, from scattering seven hits by the game's end and retiring 14 straight Braves.

"It was unbelievably hot out there. I got tired in the last couple of innings, but I really wanted that shutout," Blass said. "Anytime you shut out a team like Atlanta, you can congratulate yourself."

There were also congratulations from Pirate Manager Larry Shepard, for Blass, who's won seven in a row, and for the Pirates.

"Steve pitched a good game," Shepard said. "He was in trouble a couple of times, but he came up with the right pitch at the right time."

"This series we got some clutch hitting and good pitching and put it together. That's something we haven't been able to do consistently this year."

Blass was backed up by home runs by Willie Stargell, Donn Clendenon and Jose Pagan.

Boros Wins PGA Golf

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Julius Boros, the grand old man of pro golf, has some bad news for the young turks on the tour.

The 48-year-old champion of the 1968 PGA tournament plans to keep on playing and playing.

"I've got seven kids to educate—and the first one starts to college in a couple of years," Boros said after winning the PGA crown Sunday for the first time in his long career.

"As an old accountant, I know what kind of money that means."

Boros worked as a bookkeeper for years before he turned pro at the age of 29.

"I'd like to drop off the tour—but I can't find anything else to do to make the kind of money I'll need to get those kids through college," Boros said.

The paunchy, sweet-swinging hero of the middle-aged set was able to boost the college kitty with a $25,000 check for his one-stroke edge over Arnold Palmer and New Zealand southpaw Bob Charles in the frenzied finish at the Pecan Valley Course.

They all started the final round two strokes off the pace. Boros fired a one-under-par 69 for a 281 total, and Palmer and Charles each turned in a 70 for 282.

Palmer made a dramatic bid for a tying birdie on the 18th with a spectacular three-wood blast from the rough to the green, but he missed the eight-foot putt and took a par.

"Maybe it's just not to be," said Palmer, who has never won a PGA title and has been in a slump for months.

Tied for fourth were George Archer, who closed with a 69, and Marty Fleckman, who led for three rounds but slipped to a finishing 73. They had 283 totals.

Frank Beard, who shared the lead with Fleckman on the second and third rounds, faded to a 74 and finished in a tie for sixth at 284 with Billy Casper, who closed with a 70.

Lee Trevino, the sentimental favorite of San Antonio's Mexican-American residents, shot himself out of contention with a pair of double bogeys on the first six hiles. He was back in the pack at 288 after his final-round 76.

Steelers Drop Bader, Sign Jon Henderson

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — Sixty-one rookies and veterans took the practice field for the first time Sunday as the Pittsburgh Steelers began the grind toward the National Football League season.

The Steelers made little news on the field, but they did off the turf. Some good and some not so good.

Coach Bill Austin and company placed 14 rookies on waivers after viewing films of the scrimmage with the Cleveland Browns Friday. The list included Quarterback Richie Badar from Indiana, who played emergency quarterback part of last season when Bill Nelsen suffered a knee injury.

The Steelers also announced that their No. 3 draft choice, Jon Henderson, a fleet, 195-pound defensive back and kick return specialist, has signed.

Henderson, from Westinghouse High School and Colorado State College, is training with the College All-stars in Evanston, Ill. for the Aug. 2 game with the Green Bay Packers.

The Steelers learned that their No. 1 draft choice, Mike Taylor, was dropped by the College All-Stars when it was learned he had undergone knee surgery eight weeks ago.

Taylor has been negotiating with the Steelers, but is yet unsigned. He has been seeking a fat contract estimated at more than $100,000.

The Steelers said, however, that they knew nothing of the knee problem until Friday.

Dan Rooney, vice president of the Steelers, said that Taylor might visit Pittsburgh in the next few days now that the All-Star team has dropped him.

Slow Play Penalized

Carol Mann Wins Golf As Smith Gets Penalty

By HAROLD HARRISON
Associated Press Writer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roberto De Vicenzo can move over and make room for Marilynn Smith on the golf hard luck loser's bench.

Carol Mann was the "Bob Goalby" this time as she won the $18,500 Buckeye Invitational Ladies Golf Tournament — her second straight — by a stroke as Miss Smith was slapped with a two stroke penalty for slow play.

The penalty came after Miss Smith had waved her arms in glee in surviving a near-disastrous 18th hole to finish with an apparent 74 and a 208 total for the 54-hole event.

Miss Mann had finished 35 minutes earlier with a 72 for a 209 score.

The penalty, also assessed against Judy Rankin and Mary Mills — the other two members of the playing trip — dropped Miss Smith to 210.

De Vicenzo blew a chance for the men's Master's championship earlier this year because of a penalty for a scoring error.

Tears — from both Miss Mann and Miss Smith — shouts from the gallery that "We want Smith" and irate comments by volunteer officials of the tournament marked the wild hassle at the end.

But Leonard Wirtz, tour director, and Paul German, tournament supervisor, stuck to their penalty decision.

Wirtz said all the girls are advised of the rule against slow play and that the Smith threesome was warned on the tenth tee to speed up their action. He said Miss Smith was signing autographs on that tee.

The Smith threesome was the last on the course.

Miss Mann's $2,775 victory boosted her into first place in official LPGA money winnings for 1968. She now has won $25,770.

Foy, Pizarro Arrested As Drunks

BOSTON (AP) — Two Boston Red Sox baseball players were fined $500 by the club for curfew violations and face court arraignment today on charges of being drunk.

Third baseman Joe Foy, 25, and pitcher Juan Pizarro, 31, were arrested at 3 a.m. Sunday after their car and a taxi collided near Boston Common. Police said Foy was driving.

Manager Dick Williams suspended both players for the curfew violation. The curfew requires both players to be in bed by 12:30 a.m. and within 2½ hours following night games.

Both players were not at Fenway Park for Sunday's doubleheader with Washington. This automatically cost them a day's pay.

Police said Foy and Pizarro became involved in a heated dispute with the two officers who arrived at the scene of the accident.

Earl Weaver Promises Knockdowns

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl Weaver, a major league manager for 11 days, has issued his first warning about knockdown pitches.

The skipper of the Baltimore Orioles issued his retaliation-is-the-only-recourse blast in Detroit Sunday, while still bristling about the near beaning Saturday of Baltimore outfielder Frank Robinson by Detroit's John Wyatt.

Weaver, who joined the Orioles as a coach this season, said he is "tired of seeing baseballs whiz close to the heads of Frank Robinson, Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson.

"They are being forced to get up off the ground too often," Weaver said. "If it does not stop, my pitchers are going to do something about it. We are going to hit them and make it hurt enough so they will remember it."

Jeff Hall Wins In Class D Play

Beaver Local's Jeff Hall, hurling for WSOM-Lease Drugs of Salem in a Class D tournament at Salem yesterday, threw a three-hit shutout and fanned 13.

Hall walked none in his fine performance over the North Canton Optimists as his club advanced to the semi-finals with the 3-0 win.

Dr. Fager Loses Again To Damascus

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Like all millionaires, Damascus has a servant.

Damascus' man, or rather horse, is Hedevar, and he is called on to serve on special occasions—such as when Damascus races against Dr. Fager.

It's Hedevar's job to force Dr. Fager into a fast pace while Damascus lies back and reserves himself for the stretch run.

It worked last year in the Woodward and it worked again Saturday in the 1¼-mile Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct.

Damascus caught Dr. Fager with about one-eighth of a mile to go and beat him to the wire by 2½ lengths in the track-record time of 1:59 1-5.

The first prize of $71,110 out of the $109,400 gross purse made Damascus the eighth millionaire throughbred. Mrs. Edith W. Bancroft's 4-year-old colt, the 1967 Horse of the Year, now has earned $1,025,526.

While Damascus was capping his $1 million driven the 2-year-olds also were after big money Saturday.

Fleet Kirsch won the $180,850 Hollywood Juvenile Championship at Hollywood Park, and Big Advance, ridden by Braulio Baeza who also rode Dr. Fager in the Brooklyn, scored in the $100,000-guaranteed Sorority at Monmouth Park.

Alvara Pineda got Fleet Kirsch, a 7-1 shot, home 1¼-lengths in front of One More Chorus in the Hollywood Juvenile.

The field of 14 swelled the gross purse to $180,850, the richest ever at Hollywood Park.

Chester Tops E. Liverpool In Tri-County

Chester downed East Liverpool 8-2 in Tri - County League play yesterday.

Frank Quetot was the winning pitcher and Tom Moore the loser. R. Ensinger homered for Chester, E. Derinburg tripled and L. Ensinger and Jussack had a double and single each. Whittington had a single and homer, Miller a homer and Walker a double for the losers.

In the other game played yesterday, Wellsville scored twice in the last of the seventh to nip Hammondsville 2-1. The game was played at Hammondsville, but Wellsville served as the home team.

With one out John Martin fanned but reached first when the catcher lost the ball. Jerry Cannon singled him to third and John Stephens hit a long fly to tie the score. Cannon moved to second on the play and scored the winner on a hit by Roger Ours.

Bill Agnew was the winner and Don Fraley the loser. Each team had only four hits.

Boros Wins PGA Golf

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Julius Boros, the grand old man of pro golf, has some bad news for the young turks on the tour.

The 48-year-old champion of the 1968 PGA tournament plans to keep on playing and playing.

"I've got seven kids to educate—and the first one starts to college in a couple of years," Boros said after winning the PGA crown Sunday for the first time in his long career.

"As an old accountant, I know what kind of money that means."

Boros worked as a bookkeeper for years before he turned pro at the age of 29.

"I'd like to drop off the tour—but I can't find anything else to do to make the kind of money I'll need to get those kids through college," Boros said.

The paunchy, sweet-swinging hero of the middle-aged set was able to boost the college kitty with a $25,000 check for his one-stroke edge over Arnold Palmer and New Zealand southpaw Bob Charles in the frenzied finish at the Pecan Valley Course.

They all started the final round two strokes off the pace. Boros fired a one-under-par 69 for a 281 total, and Palmer and Charles each turned in a 70 for 282.

Palmer made a dramatic bid for a tying birdie on the 18th with a spectacular three-wood blast from the rough to the green, but he missed the eight-foot putt and took a par.

"Maybe it's just not to be," said Palmer, who has never won a PGA title and has been in a slump for months.

Tied for fourth were George Archer, who closed with a 69, and Marty Fleckman, who led for three rounds but slipped to a finishing 73. They had 283 totals.

Frank Beard, who shared the lead with Fleckman on the second and third rounds, faded to a 74 and finished in a tie for sixth at 284 with Billy Casper, who closed with a 70.

Lee Trevino, the sentimental favorite of San Antonio's Mexican-American residents, shot himself out of contention with a pair of double bogeys on the first six hiles. He was back in the pack at 288 after his final-round 76.

Steelers Drop Bader, Sign Jon Henderson

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — Sixty-one rookies and veterans took the practice field for the first time Sunday as the Pittsburgh Steelers began the grind toward the National Football League season.

The Steelers made little news on the field, but they did off the turf. Some good and some not so good.

Coach Bill Austin and company placed 14 rookies on waivers after viewing films of the scrimmage with the Cleveland Browns Friday. The list included Quarterback Richie Badar from Indiana, who played emergency quarterback part of last season when Bill Nelsen suffered a knee injury.

The Steelers also announced that their No. 3 draft choice, Jon Henderson, a fleet, 195-pound defensive back and kick return specialist, has signed.

Henderson, from Westinghouse High School and Colorado State College, is training with the College All-stars in Evanston, Ill. for the Aug. 2 game with the Green Bay Packers.

The Steelers learned that their No. 1 draft choice, Mike Taylor, was dropped by the College All-Stars when it was learned he had undergone knee surgery eight weeks ago.

Taylor has been negotiating with the Steelers, but is yet unsigned. He has been seeking a fat contract estimated at more than $100,000.

The Steelers said, however, that they knew nothing of the knee problem until Friday.

Dan Rooney, vice president of the Steelers, said that Taylor might visit Pittsburgh in the next few days now that the All-Star team has dropped him.

Slow Play Penalized

Carol Mann Wins Golf As Smith Gets Penalty

By HAROLD HARRISON
Associated Press Writer

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roberto De Vicenzo can move over and make room for Marilynn Smith on the golf hard luck loser's bench.

Carol Mann was the "Bob Goalby" this time as she won the $18,500 Buckeye Invitational Ladies Golf Tournament — her second straight — by a stroke as Miss Smith was slapped with a two stroke penalty for slow play.

The penalty came after Miss Smith had waved her arms in glee in surviving a near-disastrous 18th hole to finish with an apparent 74 and a 208 total for the 54-hole event.

Miss Mann had finished 35 minutes earlier with a 72 for a 209 score.

The penalty, also assessed against Judy Rankin and Mary Mills — the other two members of the playing trip — dropped Miss Smith to 210.

De Vicenzo blew a chance for the men's Master's championship earlier this year because of a penalty for a scoring error.

Tears — from both Miss Mann and Miss Smith — shouts from the gallery that "We want Smith" and irate comments by volunteer officials of the tournament marked the wild hassle at the end.

But Leonard Wirtz, tour director, and Paul German, tournament supervisor, stuck to their penalty decision.

Wirtz said all the girls are advised of the rule against slow play and that the Smith threesome was warned on the tenth tee to speed up their action. He said Miss Smith was signing autographs on that tee.

The Smith threesome was the last on the course.

Miss Mann's $2,775 victory boosted her into first place in official LPGA money winnings for 1968. She now has won $25,770.

Foy, Pizarro Arrested As Drunks

BOSTON (AP) — Two Boston Red Sox baseball players were fined $500 by the club for curfew violations and face court arraignment today on charges of being drunk.

Third baseman Joe Foy, 25, and pitcher Juan Pizarro, 31, were arrested at 3 a.m. Sunday after their car and a taxi collided near Boston Common. Police said Foy was driving.

Manager Dick Williams suspended both players for the curfew violation. The curfew requires both players to be in bed by 12:30 a.m. and within 2½ hours following night games.

Both players were not at Fenway Park for Sunday's doubleheader with Washington. This automatically cost them a day's pay.

Police said Foy and Pizarro became involved in a heated dispute with the two officers who arrived at the scene of the accident.

Earl Weaver Promises Knockdowns

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl Weaver, a major league manager for 11 days, has issued his first warning about knockdown pitches.

The skipper of the Baltimore Orioles issued his retaliation-is-the-only-recourse blast in Detroit Sunday, while still bristling about the near beaning Saturday of Baltimore outfielder Frank Robinson by Detroit's John Wyatt.

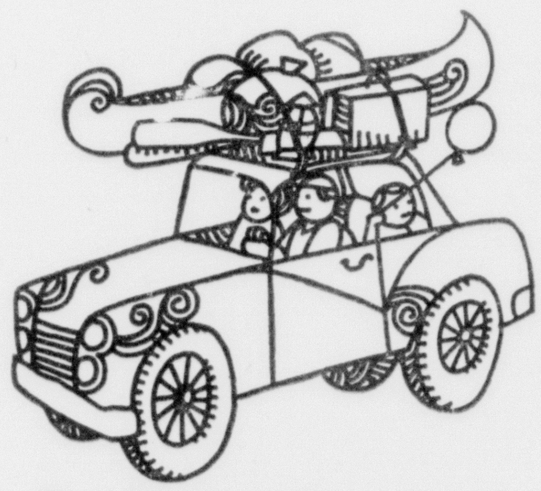

Weaver, who joined the Orioles as a coach this season, said he is "tired of seeing baseballs whiz close to the heads of Frank Robinson, Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson.

"They are being forced to get up off the ground too often," Weaver said. "If it does not stop, my pitchers are going to do something about it. We are going to hit them and make it hurt enough so they will remember it."

Jeff Hall Wins In Class D Play

Beaver Local's Jeff Hall, hurling for WSOM-Lease Drugs of Salem in a Class D tournament at Salem yesterday, threw a three-hit shutout and fanned 13.

Hall walked none in his fine performance over the North Canton Optimists as his club advanced to the semi-finals with the 3-0 win.

Dr. Fager Loses Again To Damascus

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Like all millionaires, Damascus has a servant.

Damascus' man, or rather horse, is Hedevar, and he is called on to serve on special occasions—such as when Damascus races against Dr. Fager.

It's Hedevar's job to force Dr. Fager into a fast pace while Damascus lies back and reserves himself for the stretch run.

It worked last year in the Woodward and it worked again Saturday in the 1¼-mile Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct.

Damascus caught Dr. Fager with about one-eighth of a mile to go and beat him to the wire by 2½ lengths in the track-record time of 1:59 1-5.

The first prize of $71,110 out of the $109,400 gross purse made Damascus the eighth millionaire throughbred. Mrs. Edith W. Bancroft's 4-year-old colt, the 1967 Horse of the Year, now has earned $1,025,526.

While Damascus was capping his $1 million driven the 2-year-olds also were after big money Saturday.

Fleet Kirsch won the $180,850 Hollywood Juvenile Championship at Hollywood Park, and Big Advance, ridden by Braulio Baeza who also rode Dr. Fager in the Brooklyn, scored in the $100,000-guaranteed Sorority at Monmouth Park.

Damascus' victory evens his series with the Tartan Stable star at 2-2. Dr. Fager won the Gotham last year and the Suburban this year. Hedevar was not in either race.

Alvara Pineda got Fleet Kirsch, a 7-1 shot, home 1¼-lengths in front of One More Chorus in the Hollywood Juvenile.

The field of 14 swelled the gross purse to $180,850, the richest ever at Hollywood Park.

Chester Tops E. Liverpool In Tri-County

Chester downed East Liverpool 8-2 in Tri - County League play yesterday.

Frank Quetot was the winning pitcher and Tom Moore the loser. R. Ensinger homered for Chester, E. Derinburg tripled and L. Ensinger and Jussack had a double and single each. Whittington had a single and homer, Miller a homer and Walker a double for the losers.

In the other game played yesterday, Wellsville scored twice in the last of the seventh to nip Hammondsville 2-1. The game was played at Hammondsville, but Wellsville served as the home team.

With one out John Martin fanned but reached first when the catcher lost the ball. Jerry Cannon singled him to third and John Stephens hit a long fly to tie the score. Cannon moved to second on the play and scored the winner on a hit by Roger Ours.

Bill Agnew was the winner and Don Fraley the loser. Each team had only four hits.

10,000 Sign Petition Backing Gun Controls

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A month-old campaign in support of gun-control legislation has collected more than 10,000 petition signatures and 52,000 postcards for Maryland congressmen.

The campaign began June 19 under the direction of Maclyn McCarty and Walter S. Orlinsky, who represent Baltimore in the Maryland House of Delegates, and Mrs. Marvin M. Polikoff, a former aide to U.S. Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., an advocate of strong gun-control laws.

The stack of petitions and 10,000 postcards were presented to Tydings. Orlinsky said Maryland's other U.S. senator, Daniel B. Brewster, also received 10,000 postcards and 8,000 each went to Reps. Clarence Long, Edward Garmatz and Samuel Friedel.

The cost of the drive so far, Orlinsky said, has been $400.

Russian Asks U.S.-Soviet Collaboration

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times today carried in full a proposal by a prominent Soviet nuclear physicist for widespread collaboration between the United States and the Soviet Union by the year 2000.

The Times said Andrei D. Sakharov, 47-year-old member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, has been circulating the plan among acquaintances without official sanction.

Sakharov warns that "convergence" of the two top powers is the only way of averting such dangers as thermonuclear war, overpopulation, famine in the poverty-stricken areas of the world, chemical pollution and police dictatorships of the Hitler, Stalin and Mao Tse-tung varieties.

He asserts that "the now-inevitable rapprochement" of the socialist and capitalist systems provides the hope for averting the division of mankind which "threatens it with destruction."

Cincinnati Wins State Babe Ruth Loop Title

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Dan Marsh's single with Kurt Schulz on third gave Cincinnati a 1-0 victory over Fairborn Sunday and the Ohio Babe Ruth Graduate State Baseball Championship.

Cincinnati's Terry Cadle gave up only four hits in the 10-inning squeaker which had been scheduled for seven. Newark finished third behind runner-up Fairborn. Steubenville was fourth.

Lazaro Keeps Crown As Blind Golf Champ

CONCORD, Mass. (AP) — Joe Azaro, 50, of Waltham, Mass., has retained his title in the National Blind Golfers Championship.

Lazaro scored 105 Sunday at the Nashawtuc Country Club for a two-day total of 211. Two strokes back at 213 was Charles Boswell, the 51-year-old insurance man from Birmingham, Ala., a 15-time winner of the title.

Yesterday's Stars

Sunday's Stars

PITCHING—Bob Gibson, Cardinals, scattered seven hits and struck out 13 in taming the New York Mets 2-0 for his 10th straight victory and seventh shutout of the season.

BATTING—Bob Allison, Twins, slammed two homers, a triple and double, scored four runs and drove in five in a 7-5, 10-0 doubleheader sweep over Oakland.

Unser Takes Two

MOSPORT, Ont. (AP) — It was a big weekend for Al Unser, the auto racing driver from Albuquerque, N.M. He won the Mosport 250 Saturday, then went to Indianapolis Sunday and swept both ends of the 100-mile U.S. Auto Club events.

Private Views Aired

HHH Biography Repeats His Support Of Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The authorized campaign biography of Hubert H. Humphrey, due out this week, repeats the contention that the vice president's private feelings about the war in Vietnam match his public pronouncements.

The book, entitled "A Man for All People," was written by Ralph Martin and will be released in Washington Wednesday. A copy will be sent to each delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

In one part of the book, Humphrey deals with recurrent doubts that his support of the Johnson administration's Vietnam war policy isn't as enthusiastic in private as it is in public.

The 'Happy Warrior'

"Muriel (Mrs. Humphrey) always called me the happy warrior," the vice president says in the book. "She says I'm happy because there's no conflict between my private views and my public views."

The major portion of the heavily illustrated book, composed of captions in Humphrey's words, deals with events in the past and present, including the problems of being a vice president.

"The vice presidency is a job with sobering responsibility and very little authority," says Humphrey. "I don't recommend it to everybody. When I first became vice president, I was warned that my relationship with the President would deteriorate within six months to a year, according to the standard pattern of history. Well, we fooled them."

"President Johnson and I have been friends for 20 years . . . He knows me well enough to expect loyalty but not mimcry. This has been my standard," Humphrey says.

On Vietnam Humphrey says, "Nobody wants to see the war in Vietnam come to an end any quicker than I do so that we can bring our boys back home. What I'd really like to see in Vietnam is a cease-fire so that we can have peace while we talk peace."

McCarthy Included

The book includes pictures of Humphrey with his chief opponent for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, a fellow Minnesotan.

Humphrey recalls how McCarthy had supported him in his past campaigns including his abortive attempt for the vice presidency in 1956—a year that Humphrey thought Adlai Stevenson would make him his running mate.

Back in 1956, Humphrey says, he had a meeting with Stevenson in Washington "and I understood that if I could drum up strong support, that he could pick me at the convention to be his running mate."

However at the last minute the late Sen. Estes Kefauver's strength at the convention forced Stevenson to let the delegates choose the No. 2 man, to Humphrey's deep disappointment.

Legislator Gets Threat Following Gun Curb Drive

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Minority Leader Herbert Fineman's push for a stronger gun control law has resulted in his life being threatened, a spokesman for the Philadelphia lawmaker disclosed Sunday.

Press secretary John P. Cowan confirmed a report that Fineman's home was being kept under surveilance by the State Police. The State Police declined comment.

Cowan said Fineman had received several threatening letters, one of which was turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation because it made reference to President Johnson.

Last Wednesday, an anonymous caller telephoned the Fineman home and made similar threats, Cowan said. The call was taken by the lawmaker's teenage daughter.

On Tuesday, Fineman failed in an attempt to win House passage of a gun licensing and registeration bill backed by Gov. Shafer. The measure was opposed by sportsmen's groups.

Cowan said when Fineman left the state capital for Philadelphia early Thursday morning, he was accompanied by a State Police bodyguard.

Cowan expressed regret that news of the threats had leaked out. He said Fineman had left the country for a vacation. The legislature is in recess until September.

Plastic Bathtub Wins 1968 Vancouver Race

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — More than 200 bathtubs and hundreds of escort boats gathered in Vancouver Island's Nanaimo Harbor for the annual international bathtub race Sunday.

Stan Vollmers, 38-year-old Nanaimo sheet metal mechanic, ran rings around all the others. His plastic bathtub, named Nev-R-Make-R, made the 35 mile trip to Vancouver's English Bay in two hours and 12 minutes.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 50, 1968.
AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF NOTES IN ANTICIPATION OF THE LEVY OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS AND IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS TO PAY THE PROPERTY OWNERS' AND THE CITY'S PORTIONS OF THE COST OF IMPROVING THE MAINE BOULEVARD - MONTROSE AVENUE AREA, ALTON STREET AREA, AND WOOSTER AVENUE AREA BY CONSTRUCTING SANITARY SEWERS OF HARD BURNED VITRIFIED SEWER PIPE IN THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio:

SECTION 1. That it is hereby declared necessary to issue bonds of the City of East Liverpool in the principal sum of Forty-three Thousand One Hundred Sixty-seven Dollars ($43,167.) for the purpose of paying the property owners' portion, in anticipation of the collection of special assessments, and the City's portion of the cost of the improvement of the Maine Boulevard - Montrose Avenue area, Alton Street area, and Wooster Avenue area by constructing sanitary sewers of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe thereon, as provided in Resolution Number 22, 1968, adopted May 20, 1968. Of said amount, the City's portion is Thirty-seven Thousand Three Hundred Seventy - three Dollars ($37,373.) and the property owners' portion is Five Thousand Seven Hundred Ninety - four Dollars ($5,794.).

SECTION 2. That said bonds shall be dated approximately the 1st day of June, 1968, shall bear interest at the estimated rate of not less than five per cent (5%) per annum, payable semi-annually, until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in five substantially equal annual installments after their issuance.

SECTION 3. That for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the levy and collection of special assessments and of the issuance of the aforesaid bonds for the above described improvement, it is hereby declared necessary to issue and there shall be issued a note or notes of said City in the principal amount of Forty - three Thousand One Hundred Sixty-seven Dollars ($43,167.).

That such anticipatory note or notes in the amount aforesaid shall bear interest at such rate not exceeding five per centum (5%) per annum, payable at maturity; shall be dated the date of issuance; shall mature on or before one year from said date of issuance; and shall be executed and delivered in such numbers and denominations as may be requested by the purchaser thereof.

SECTION 4. Such notes shall be executed by the Mayor and Auditor and bear the seal of the corporation. They shall be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, and shall express upon their faces the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued pursuant to this Ordinance.

SECTION 5. Subject to the rejection of said note or notes by the Treasurer as fiscal officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund, said notes are hereby awarded and sold to The First National Bank of East Liverpool, Ohio, at par value thereof. The proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon, shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose, and for which purpose said money is hereby appropriated. Any premium and accrued interest shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 6. Said notes shall be the full general obligation of the City of East Liverpool and the full faith, credit and revenue of said City are hereby pledged for the prompt payment of the same. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by said notes and any excess funds resulting from the issuance of said notes shall to the extent necessary be used only for the retirement of said notes at maturity, together with interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purposes.

SECTION 7. The Clerk is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this Ordinance to the County Auditor.

SECTION 8. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the preservation of the public welfare, health, property and safety of the City of East Liverpool and it shall go into effect immediately upon passage and approval by the Mayor of this City. Said emergency lies in the fact that said improvements are necessary to avoid unsanitary conditions due to new construction and present residences in the areas to be improved, and to provide for proper sewer drainage, and that said construction can only be enabled by the immediate issuance and sale of the notes herein authorized, and is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, peace and safety of said City.

Passed this 15th day of July, 1968.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 49, 1968.
AN ORDINANCE DETERMINING TO PROCEED WITH THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE MAINE BOULEVARD - MONTROSE AVENUE AREA, ALTON STREET AREA, AND WOOSTER AVENUE AREA BY CONSTRUCTING SANITARY SEWERS OF HARD BURNED VITRIFIED SEWER PIPE IN THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, COLUMBIANA COUNTY, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1. That it is hereby determined to proceed with the improvement in the City of East Liverpool of the improvements of the Maine Boulevard - Montrose Avenue area, Alton Street area, and Wooster Avenue area by constructing sanitary sewers of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe as follows:

PROJECT 168 — To improve portions of the Huston Land Company Addition from a tract running on Maine Boulevard held by the East Liverpool Board of Education, along Eutaw Avenue to its intersection with Montrose Avenue, thence along Montrose Avenue to its intersection with Selfridge Street, thence along Wisconsin Street to a point in front of Lot 7681 of the Huston Land Company Addition, thence in a northwesterly direction along an unnamed alley to the center of Montrose Avenue, thence in a northerly direction on Montrose Avenue to the intersection of Montrose Avenue and Standley Way, to an easement to be obtained from Sullivan Bosco across the triangular piece of property bounded by Standley Way, and Montrose Avenue, thence across an easement to be obtained from Andy E. Gill on Lot 56 of the Beechwood First Addition to a point in the center of the intersection of Haywood Street and Broad Street.

PROJECT 268 — To improve parts of the Alton Street area from a point at the intersection of Division Street and Lisbon Street, thence in a northeasterly direction along Bayard Alley to its intersection with Gibbs Alley, thence in a southeasterly direction along Gibbs Alley to a point in front of Lot number 1380 in the William Gibbs Addition; also from said intersection of Bayard Alley and Gibbs Alley in a northwesterly direction along Gibbs Alley to a point in front of the east line of Lot number 1385 of the William Gibbs Addition.

PROJECT 368 — To improve parts of the Wooster Avenue area beginning at a point at the intersection of Anderson Boulevard and Beechwood Street, thence in a westerly direction along Beechwood Street to a point at the intersection of Cornell Alley and Beechwood Street, thence in a northerly direction to a point in front of Lot Number 4929 of the Grandview Addition; also from said intersection in a southerly direction to a point in front of Lot number 4923 of Grandview Addition; also in a westerly direction along James Street from the intersection of James Street and Cornell Alley, to a point in the intersection of James Street and Wooster Avenue; thence in a northerly direction along Wooster Avenue to a point in front of Lot number 4955 of the Grandview Addition; also from said intersection in a southerly direction along Wooster Avenue to a point in front of Lot Number 4958 of the Grandview Addition; also from said intersection in a westerly direction along James Street to a point at the intersection of James Street and Pepin Alley; thence in a northerly direction along Pepin Alley to a point in the front of Lot Number 4965 of the Grandview Addition; also from said intersection in a southerly direction along Pepin Alley to a point in front of the Lot Number 4960 of the Grandview Addition.

SECTION 2. That said improvements shall be made in accordance with the provisions of Resolution Number 22, passed on May 20, 1968, and with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles heretofore approved and now on file in the office of the clerk of this Council by improving the Maine Boulevard - Montrose Avenue area, Alton Street area, and Wooster Avenue area by constructing sanitary sewers of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe.

SECTION 3. That no claims for damages resulting therefrom have been legally filed.

SECTION 4. That the estimated assessments heretofore prepared and filed in the office of the clerk of this Council (and as equalized by the board heretofore appointed for such purpose by Resolution Number 26 adopted on June 24, 1968, the report of which board was approved by Resolution Number 27, adopted July 15, 1968), be and the same are hereby adopted.

SECTION 5. The clerk of this Council is hereby directed to deliver a certified copy of this Ordinance to the County Auditor within fifteen days after its passage.

SECTION 6. Except as hereinafter provided, that portion of the cost provided in the above - mentioned resolution of necessity to be assessed shall be assessed in the manner and the number of installments provided in said resolution and on the lots and lands described therein.

SECTION 7. That estimated assessments heretofore prepared and filed in the office of the Clerk this Council are hereby modified by correcting the estimated assessments against the property as set forth by the above mentioned Assessment Equalization Board in its report, and that as modified the same are hereby adopted and are hereby determined to be properly computed in accordance with the benefits to be given to said property by said improvement, and that the reduction in said property owners' assessment is hereby added to the City's share of the cost of said improvement.

SECTION 8. The Board of Public Utilities of the City is hereby authorized and directed as soon as the funds therefore are available to make and execute a contract for said improvement with the lowest and best bidder after advertising according to law and the improvement shall be financed as provided in the resolution of necessity.

SECTION 9. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the preservation of the public welfare, health and property and safety of the City of East Liverpool and it shall go into effect immediately upon passage and approval by the Mayor of this City. Said emergency lies in the fact that said improvements are necessary to avoid unsanitary conditions due to new construction and present residences in the areas to be improved, and to provide for proper sewer drainage and is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, peace, and safety of said City.

10,000 Sign Petition Backing Gun Controls

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A month-old campaign in support of gun-control legislation has collected more than 10,000 petition signatures and 52,000 postcards for Maryland congressmen.

The campaign began June 19 under the direction of Maclyn McCarty and Walter S. Orlinsky, who represent Baltimore in the Maryland House of Delegates, and Mrs. Marvin M. Polikoff, a former aide to U.S. Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., an advocate of strong gun-control laws.

The stack of petitions and 10,000 postcards were presented to Tydings. Orlinsky said Maryland's other U.S. senator, Daniel B. Brewster, also received 10,000 postcards and 8,000 each went to Reps. Clarence Long, Edward Garmatz and Samuel Friedel.

The cost of the drive so far, Orlinsky said, has been $400.

Russian Asks U.S.-Soviet Collaboration

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times today carried in full a proposal by a prominent Soviet nuclear physicist for widespread collaboration between the United States and the Soviet Union by the year 2000.

The Times said Andrei D. Sakharov, 47-year-old member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, has been circulating the plan among acquaintances without official sanction.

Sakharov warns that "convergence" of the two top powers is the only way of averting such dangers as thermonuclear war, overpopulation, famine in the poverty-stricken areas of the world, chemical pollution and police dictatorships of the Hitler, Stalin and Mao Tse-tung varieties.

He asserts that "the now-inevitable rapprochement" of the socialist and capitalist systems provides the hope for averting the division of mankind which "threatens it with destruction."

Private Views Aired

HHH Biography Repeats His Support Of Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The authorized campaign biography of Hubert H. Humphrey, due out this week, repeats the contention that the vice president's private feelings about the war in Vietnam match his public pronouncements.

The book, entitled "A Man for All People," was written by Ralph Martin and will be released in Washington Wednesday. A copy will be sent to each delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

In one part of the book, Humphrey deals with recurrent doubts that his support of the Johnson administration's Vietnam war policy isn't as enthusiastic in private as it is in public.

The 'Happy Warrior'

"Muriel (Mrs. Humphrey) always called me the happy warrior," the vice president says in the book. "She says I'm happy because there's no conflict between my private views and my public views."

The major portion of the heavily illustrated book, composed of captions in Humphrey's words, deals with events in the past and present, including the problems of being a vice president.

"The vice presidency is a job with sobering responsibility and very little authority," says Humphrey. "I don't recommend it to everybody. When I first became vice president, I was warned that my relationship with the President would deteriorate within six months to a year, according to the standard pattern of history. Well, we fooled them."

"President Johnson and I have been friends for 20 years . . . He knows me well enough to expect loyalty but not mimcry. This has been my standard," Humphrey says.

On Vietnam Humphrey says, "Nobody wants to see the war in Vietnam come to an end any quicker than I do so that we can bring our boys back home. What I'd really like to see in Vietnam is a cease-fire so that we can have peace while we talk peace."

McCarthy Included

The book includes pictures of Humphrey with his chief opponent for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, a fellow Minnesotan.

Humphrey recalls how McCarthy had supported him in his past campaigns including his abortive attempt for the vice presidency in 1956—a year that Humphrey thought Adlai Stevenson would make him his running mate.

Back in 1956, Humphrey says, he had a meeting with Stevenson in Washington "and I understood that if I could drum up strong support, that he could pick me at the convention to be his running mate."

However at the last minute the late Sen. Estes Kefauver's strength at the convention forced Stevenson to let the delegates choose the No. 2 man, to Humphrey's deep disappointment.

Legislator Gets Threat Following Gun Curb Drive

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Minority Leader Herbert Fineman's push for a stronger gun control law has resulted in his life being threatened, a spokesman for the Philadelphia lawmaker disclosed Sunday.

Press secretary John P. Cowan confirmed a report that Fineman's home was being kept under surveilance by the State Police. The State Police declined comment.

Cowan said Fineman had received several threatening letters, one of which was turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation because it made reference to President Johnson.

Last Wednesday, an anonymous caller telephoned the Fineman home and made similar threats, Cowan said. The call was taken by the lawmaker's teenage daughter.

On Tuesday, Fineman failed in an attempt to win House passage of a gun licensing and registeration bill backed by Gov. Shafer. The measure was opposed by sportsmen's groups.

Cowan said when Fineman left the state capital for Philadelphia early Thursday morning, he was accompanied by a State Police bodyguard.

Cowan expressed regret that news of the threats had leaked out. He said Fineman had left the country for a vacation. The legislature is in recess until September.

Plastic Bathtub Wins 1968 Vancouver Race

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — More than 200 bathtubs and hundreds of escort boats gathered in Vancouver Island's Nanaimo Harbor for the annual international bathtub race Sunday.

Stan Vollmers, 38-year-old Nanaimo sheet metal mechanic, ran rings around all the others. His plastic bathtub, named Nev-R-Make-R, made the 35 mile trip to Vancouver's English Bay in two hours and 12 minutes.

The official color of the Cleveland Browns is Seal Brown.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 50, 1968.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF NOTES IN ANTICIPATION OF THE LEVY OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS AND IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS TO PAY THE PROPERTY OWNERS' AND THE CITY'S PORTIONS OF THE COST OF IMPROVING THE MAINE BOULEVARD - MONTROSE AVENUE AREA, ALTON STREET AREA, AND WOOSTER AVENUE AREA BY CONSTRUCTING SANITARY SEWERS OF HARD BURNED VITRIFIED SEWER PIPE IN THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio:

SECTION 1. That it is hereby declared necessary to issue bonds of the City of East Liverpool in the principal sum of Forty-three Thousand One Hundred Sixty-seven Dollars ($43,167.) for the purpose of paying the property owners' portion, in anticipation of the collection of special assessments, and the City's portion of the cost of the improvement of the Maine Boulevard - Montrose Avenue area, Alton Street area, and Wooster Avenue area by constructing sanitary sewers of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe thereon, as provided in Resolution Number 22, 1968, adopted May 20, 1968. Of said amount, the City's portion is Thirty-seven Thousand Three Hundred Seventy - three Dollars ($37,373.) and the property owners' portion is Five Thousand Seven Hundred Ninety - four Dollars ($5,794.).

SECTION 2. That said bonds shall be dated approximately the 1st day of June, 1968, shall bear interest at the estimated rate of not less than five per cent (5%) per annum, payable semi-annually, until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in five substantially equal annual installments after their issuance.

SECTION 3. That for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the levy and collection of special assessments and of the issuance of the aforesaid bonds for the above described improvement, it is hereby declared necessary to issue and there shall be issued a note or notes of said City in the principal amount of Forty - three Thousand One Hundred Sixty-seven Dollars ($43,167.).

That such anticipatory note or notes in the amount aforesaid shall bear interest at such rate not exceeding five per centum (5%) per annum, payable at maturity; shall be dated the date of issuance; shall mature on or before one year from said date of issuance; and shall be executed and delivered in such numbers and denominations as may be requested by the purchaser thereof.

SECTION 4. Such notes shall be executed by the Mayor and Auditor and bear the seal of the corporation. They shall be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, and shall express upon their faces the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued pursuant to this Ordinance.

SECTION 5. Subject to the rejection of said note or notes by the Treasurer as fiscal officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund, said notes are hereby awarded and sold to The First National Bank of East Liverpool, Ohio, at par value thereof. The proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon, shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose, and for which purpose said money is hereby appropriated. Any premium and accrued interest shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 6. Said notes shall be the full general obligation of the City of East Liverpool and the full faith, credit and revenue of said City are hereby pledged for the prompt payment of the same. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by said notes and any excess funds resulting from the issuance of said notes shall to the extent necessary be used only for the retirement of said notes at maturity, together with interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purposes.

SECTION 7. The Clerk is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this Ordinance to the County Auditor.

SECTION 8. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the preservation of the public welfare, health, property and safety of the City of East Liverpool and it shall go into effect immediately upon passage and approval by the Mayor of this City. Said emergency lies in the fact that said improvements are necessary to avoid unsanitary conditions due to new construction and present residences in the areas to be improved, and to provide for proper sewer drainage, and that said construction can only be enabled by the immediate issuance and sale of the notes herein authorized, and is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, peace and safety of said City.

Passed this 15th day of July, 1968.

NORMAN R. BUCHER
President of Council

SECTION 1. That it is hereby determined to proceed with the improvement in the City of East Liverpool of the improvements of the Maine Boulevard - Montrose Avenue area, Alton Street area, and Wooster Avenue area by constructing sanitary sewers of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe as follows:

PROJECT 168 — To improve portions of the Huston Land Company Addition from a tract running on Maine Boulevard held by the East Liverpool Board of Education, along Eutaw Avenue to its intersection with Montrose Avenue, thence along Montrose Avenue to its intersection with Selfridge Street, thence along Wisconsin Street to a point in front of Lot 7681 of the Huston Land Company Addition, thence in a northwesterly direction along an unnamed alley to the center of Montrose Avenue, thence in a northerly direction on Montrose Avenue to the intersection of Montrose Avenue and Standley Way, to an easement to be obtained from Sullivan Bosco across the triangular piece of property bounded by Standley Way, and Montrose Avenue, thence across an easement to be obtained from Andy E. Gill on Lot 56 of the Beechwood First Addition to a point in the center of the intersection of Haywood Street and Broad Street.

PROJECT 268 — To improve parts of the Alton Street area from a point at the intersection of Division Street and Lisbon Street, thence in a northeasterly direction along Bayard Alley to its intersection with Gibbs Alley, thence in a southeasterly direction along Gibbs Alley to a point in front of Lot number 1380 in the William Gibbs Addition; also from said intersection of Bayard Alley and Gibbs Alley in a northwesterly direction along Gibbs Alley to a point in front of the east line of Lot number 1385 of the William Gibbs Addition.

PROJECT 368 — To improve parts of the Wooster Avenue area beginning at a point at the intersection of Anderson Boulevard and Beechwood Street, thence in a westerly direction along Beechwood Street to a point at the intersection of Cornell Alley and Beechwood Street, thence in a northerly direction to a point in front of Lot Number 4929 of the Grandview Addition; also from said intersection in a southerly direction to a point in front of Lot number 4923 of Grandview Addition; also in a westerly direction along James Street from the intersection of James Street and Cornell Alley, to a point in the intersection of James Street and Wooster Avenue; thence in a northerly direction along Wooster Avenue to a point in front of Lot number 4955 of the Grandview Addition; also from said intersection in a southerly direction along Wooster Avenue to a point in front of Lot Number 4958 of the Grandview Addition; also from said intersection in a westerly direction along James Street to a point at the intersection of James Street and Pepin Alley; thence in a northerly direction along Pepin Alley to a point in the front of Lot Number 4965 of the Grandview Addition; also from said intersection in a southerly direction along Pepin Alley to a point in front of the Lot Number 4960 of the Grandview Addition.

SECTION 2. That said improvements shall be made in accordance with the provisions of Resolution Number 22, passed on May 20, 1968, and with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles heretofore approved and now on file in the office of the clerk of this Council by improving the Maine Boulevard - Montrose Avenue area, Alton Street area, and Wooster Avenue area by constructing sanitary sewers of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe.

SECTION 3. That no claims for damages resulting therefrom have been legally filed.

SECTION 4. That the estimated assessments heretofore prepared and filed in the office of the clerk of this Council (and as equalized by the board heretofore appointed for such purpose by Resolution Number 26 adopted on June 24, 1968, the report of which board was approved by Resolution Number 27, adopted July 15, 1968), be and the same are hereby adopted.

SECTION 5. The clerk of this Council is hereby directed to deliver a certified copy of this Ordinance to the County Auditor within fifteen days after its passage.

SECTION 6. Except as hereinafter provided, that portion of the cost provided in the above - mentioned resolution of necessity to be assessed shall be assessed in the manner and the number of installments provided in said resolution and on the lots and lands described therein.

SECTION 7. That estimated assessments heretofore prepared and filed in the office of the Clerk this Council are hereby modified by correcting the estimated assessments against the property as set forth by the above mentioned Assessment Equalization Board in its report, and that as modified the same are hereby adopted and are hereby determined to be properly computed in accordance with the benefits to be given to said property by said improvement, and that the reduction in said property owners' assessment is hereby added to the City's share of the cost of said improvement.

SECTION 8. The Board of Public Utilities of the City is hereby authorized and directed as soon as the funds therefore are available to make and execute a contract for said improvement with the lowest and best bidder after advertising according to law and the improvement shall be financed as provided in the resolution of necessity.

SECTION 9. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the preservation of the public welfare, health and property and safety of the City of East Liverpool and it shall go into effect immediately upon passage and approval by the Mayor of this City. Said emergency lies in the fact that said improvements are necessary to avoid unsanitary conditions due to new construction and present residences in the areas to be improved, and to provide for proper sewer drainage and is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, peace, and safety of said City.

Passed this 15th day of July, 1968.

Junior Editors Quiz on RHINOCEROS

QUESTION: What's the difference between a rhinoceros and a hippopotamus?

* * *

ANSWER: Both of these animals are huge and both are ungulates, animals whose toes end in hooves. But our pictures show an important distinction between these two big brutes, both of which live in Africa. The hippo has four flat feet, each with four toes which end in horny hooves, while the rhino's feet, have only three toes and three hooves. The ungulates are divided into two groups. One set has even-numbered toes; the other has odd-numbered toes. Although the hippo with his big, square muzzle and horse-like ears does vaguely resemble a horse, the horse is not a hippo relative because it has odd-numbered toes — only a single hoof. The hippo, with his four toes, is a closer relation to the four-toed pig. It is the rhino who is related to the horse. The horns on the rhino's nose make him look very different from the hippo, and the huge tusks inside the hippo's mouth, used to grind coarse plant food, give him his own special kind of ugliness. Hippos like to wallow in water; rhinos prefer dry ground
